New Commander

GEN. DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER (left) listens intently to Italian Foreign Minister Count Carlo Sforza (right) as they and Premier Alcide De Gasperi (center) meet in Rome's Viminale Palace to begin discussions on what part Italy will take in the defense of Western Europe. Meeting took place after Communist riots against Eisenhower's visit had caused one death and had brought injury to nearly 100 throughout Italy. (AP WIREPHOTO)

JIFC Elects Paulus Term President

Bill Paulus, Phi Kappa Psi officer, followed the adoption by the group of a re-organization plan aimed at the spreading responsibility. The new plan increased the number of officers to five through the addition of a second vice-president and the division of the formerly combined job of secretary and treasurer.

Lemon-Orange Squeeze promotion was discussed by the council in its regular business session. Plans were announced for a featured spot Thursday on the Don Porter record program carried over station KUGN.

Paulus, a sophomore in business administration, succeeds DeWayne Bills who served as president of the JIFC fall term.
 Other officers selected by the junior fraternity organization were Jack Adair, Delta Tau Delta, first vice-president; Dick Othus, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, second vice-president; Fred Baltz, Phi Sigma Kappa, secretary; and Bob Jones, Theta Chi, treasurer.

Martena Sasnett Exhibits Poise, Talent as Profession Speaker

By Helen Jackson

Poised, beautiful, a former professional monologist and a member of the University of Southern California faculty—Mrs. Martena Tenney Sasnett, here for Religious Emphasis week, has combined all of her talents to be one of the outstanding speakers brought to the Oregon campus by the Logos in Education Foundation of Los Angeles.

Before her marriage to J. Randolph Sasnett, executive director of the RIE Foundation, Mrs. Sasnett was a professional monodramatist. For her brilliant career in solo dramas, she is listed in "American Women," "Who's Who on the Pacific Coast," and is the only American monologist in the International Blue Book.

Mrs. Sasnett is particularly interested in the speech and drama phase of Religious Emphasis week, and personal interviews with her may be arranged by signing in the Special Events room of the SU. She is interested in all phases of drama from teaching to Hollywood acting.

Along with her speech and drama work, Mrs. Sasnett has participated in informal discussions in the fields of personality, woman's role, and marriage and the home. She and Dr. Sasnett are conducting the "Marriage Tomorrow" series of Religious Emphasis week. She is also scheduled to speak at the Carson Hall dinner fireside program.

MARTENA SASNETT

At present Mrs. Sasnett is foreign student assistant at USC. Her article "Foreign Student Problems on American Campuses" was published in the October issue of "College and University."

Onthank Gains Treasury Post

Word has been received of the election of Karl W. Onthank, graduate placement director, as treasurer of the Western Placement and Recruitment association.

Onthank returned to the campus Monday after a month-long trip that took him to Hawaii and Southern California.

The association, designed to promote further co-operation between school placement services and the employer, had its inaugural meeting in Los Angeles. While there, Onthank served on the constitution committee and participated in a discussion entitled "Public Relations and Personnel Work for Schools and Industry."

During his trip to Hawaii, Onthank contacted alumni and procured job placement information.

According to him, job possibilities were best in the fields of science and technology, with a few openings in managerial work and labor relations.
