

Junior Weekend Reps Meet Today

Junior class officers and living organization representatives will begin preliminary plans for the 1951 Junior Weekend at 4 p.m. today in 334 SU.

Wednesday's Emerald incorrectly reported the meeting place as 303 SU.

Living organizations are requested by Junior class president Merv Hampton to have a qualified junior representative present at the meeting.

Petitioning procedures, eligibility rules, petition deadlines and an explanation of committee workings for the May 11-13 event will be explained.

Premed Plan

Admission for the 1952 class will be determined by screening of those students in their first year of pre-medical studies during the later part of this year.

Screening does not apply to those students who are in their third or fourth years of pre-medical studies, to graduate students, or to those who are not subject to the draft.

Forms Available

A student who wishes to continue his medical studies under this deferment plan may obtain a questionnaire from 1 McClure and send the completed form to the registrar of the medical school.

The form should be filled out before Apr. 1 for those applying for admission to the 1952 class, and before May 1 for those applying for the 1951 class.

Applicants will be notified as to the time of their interview with the Medical School Admission Committee.

Concordia Sing

1949, the choir made a month-long summer tour of Norway.

Tonight's program will be in four parts. The choir will begin the evening by singing Bach's "Be Not Afraid." It will continue with "An Apostrophe to the Heavenly Hosts," by Healey Willan; "The Lamentations of Jeremiah," sung in Latin, a work by Alberto Ginastera; "Prayer to Jesus," by George Oldroyd, and "Lord, Thou Hast Been Our Refuge," by R. Vaughan Williams.

Following an intermission, the choir will sing "The Kingdom of God," by the father of its conductor, F. Melius Christiansen; "Vinea Mea Electa," by Francis Poulenc; "The Cradle," an Austrian nativity song; and "A Flemish Carol."

The concluding part of the program will include "Jesus Was Born On This Day," an English folk carol; "A Boy Was Born," by Benjamin Britten, well-known modern-day British composer; "The Three Kings," a Catalonian nativity song; and "Allegro," another work by the conductor's father.

The choir has also planned seven optional numbers.

The majority of the 60-voice choir is of Scandinavian descent. Its conductor, Paul J. Christiansen, comes from Norway, where his father once played the organ in a church in Larvik. Christiansen has directed the choir since 1937. He is the brother of Olaf Christiansen, who now directs the St. Olaf Choir of Northfield, Minn., the choral group made famous by the father who conducted many successful tours of the United States and of Norway.

Letter Contest

Winners will be judged by the speed of letter-placing and house participation. Miss Kuckenberger requests that the letters be turned in by noon Monday so that they can be sent to the fathers as soon as possible.

Promotion sub-chairmen for Dad's Day are Marcia Eagleson, Donna Pastrouich, Sue Madsen, Sue Griffen, Lyn Hartley, and Carolyn McLean.

Chairmen Contacted

All social chairmen have been contacted to write to fathers and to urge students to send personal letters.

A reminder to see about housing reservations for fathers on the weekend of Feb. 23 to 25 is being made by Ann Darby, hospitality chairman. Students may obtain them more readily by contacting Miss Darby at 5-9061, since she has lists of all Eugene accommodations.

Assisting her on the hospitality committee are Sue Drummond, Mary Waddell, Val Joyce Schultz, Jody Greer, Audrey Truesdail, and Pat Beaudoin.

Call for Pix

Paul Lasker, special events chairman, is calling for photographs for Dads' Day Hostess. The deadline is Wednesday. Pictures may be turned in at the ASUO office or at Alpha Tau Omega.

Hostess contest rules are:
 1. Photographs must be in black and white, with only the individual competing pictured.
 2. A return address must be written on the back of each entry.
 3. Contestants must be married women, either University students themselves or wives of students.

Kings Interviewed

Oregon men say that girls do not have to drink at cocktail parties to keep from being a bore. They also say that formal dances should be limited to one a term—they're rather expensive—and that there should be more girl-ask-boy affairs—expenses again.

At least, that is the opinion of Oregon's six men of the week—the King of Hearts finalists.

Interviewed Tuesday evening at the YWCA sophomore commission dinner, the finalists were questioned on everything from cocktails to flowers.

Finalists are Dick McLaughlin, Pierre Pasquo, Martel Scroggin, Curt Finch, Mike Lally, and Merv Hampton.

Bonnie Birkemeier, Heart Hop chairman, reminded the girls that to vote for their favorite candidate they must purchase a 60 cent dance ticket this week. The winner will be announced and crowned on the Zeta Tau Alpha front porch at 9 p.m. Friday, the evening of the dance.

Dad's Day Chairmen

Dad's Day committee chairmen are requested to meet at 7 p.m. today on the main floor of the Student Union for publicity pictures, according to Virginia Kellog, Dad's Day publicity chairman.

JIFC Reactions

told the Emerald Wednesday afternoon that he had suggested "the possibility of studying the dormitory living conditions from the freshman angle."

Pledges in JIFC

The JIFC is composed of pledges of fraternities. The Interfraternity Council is composed of the presidents of all fraternities.

(Donald M. DuShane, director of student affairs, told a reporter Wednesday afternoon that "considering the fact that this is the first year of the plan and the effects of the Korean War, the plan, on the whole has been quite satisfactory." He said that he had heard no complaints, either formally or informally from any freshmen.)

The University has recognized that a combination of factors are affecting the fraternities. A committee, headed by Dr. Paul Kleinsorge, is investigating the condition of men's living organizations during the national emergency.

Kleinsorge's committee has sent out questionnaires to all living organizations in regard to conditions facing them. No action will be taken by the committee, said Kleinsorge, until all the questionnaires have been returned. Harber is a member of the committee.
