

Dads' Day Letter Competition Starts

The Dads' Day clipout letters which appear on page seven of today's Emerald, are due at 12 noon in the Emerald Shack, Dave Rodway, general chairman for Dads' Day weekend, announced on Friday.

The Daily Emerald may be picked up at 6:30 this morning at the Emerald Shack so the living organizations can get underway early in the contest.

An award will be given to the house which wins the contest, based on the percentage of letters sent and the time of entry in the contest.

Selection of the Dads' Day Hostess, the sign competition, the University of Oregon-University of Washington basketball game, and the luncheon for the dads at the Student Union are a few of the Letter Contest Rules

Rules for the Dads' Day letter contest are as follows:

1. Clip the letter to Dad that appears on page 7 in today's Emerald.

2. Put the letter in an envelope addressed directly to Dad at home.

3. Bring the envelopes, sealed and ready for mailing, to the Emerald Shack. Members of the Dads' Day promotion committee will be there to take your letters.

4. The Emeralds can be picked up by house representatives at 6:30 a.m. today at the Emerald Shack. They will not be available before this time, nor will they be distributed to the living organizations as usual.

5. The letters cannot be clipped out in the Shack. They must be taken back to the living organization.

highlights of the annual weekend which are being planned now.

Tickets for the luncheon will be picked up in Emerald Hall room 216. The three finalists for the Dads' Day Hostess will be featured at the luncheon, and will be presented between halves at the basketball game, when Rodway will announce the winner selected by the dads.

Registration for the weekend will be set up at 1 p.m. Feb. 23 in the SU. Supplementary registration facilities will be set up at the Eugene and Osburn Hotels. Registration will continue from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday in the SU.

Dads May Obtain Tickets to Games

General admission seating for Oregon Dads attending the basketball games during Dads' Day Weekend Feb. 24 and 25 may be purchased by the dads at registration, Darrell Robinson, athletic ticket manager, reported Friday.

Students, admitted on their athletic cards, may sit with their dads in the special section, Robinson said.

Senior Ball Ticket Sales Begin Today

WHAT TO WEAR at the Senior class' "Cotton Pickers' Ball" Saturday night is modeled by the dance's committee members. From left, Chairman Steve Church, Virginia Kellogg, Dave Cromwell, Roger Nudd, Bob Pierce, Bonnie Birkemeier, Joe French.

'Dad--Our King for a Day'

DADS' DAY COMMITTEE chairmen get together to show how Oregon plans to welcome its "King for a Day." The chairmen pictured are: Bottom row, left to right: Elaine Hartung, luncheon; Dolores Parrish, registration; Karl Onthank, Oregon Dad's executive secretary; Kay Kuckenberg, promotion; Sue Higgins, awards. Top row, left to right: Ann Darby, hospitality; Dick Morse, basketball game; Virginia Kellogg, publicity; Dave Rodway, general chairman; Jeanne Hoffman, decorations; and Paul Lasker, hostess selection.

Teacher Salaries Mullied

Pay increases of 18 per cent would be awarded teachers at state colleges and universities under a plan presented last week by Charles D. Byrne, chancellor of the State System of Higher Education.

Byrne, addressing the State Legislature's joint ways and means subcommittee on higher education, said that colleges need a $3,310,871 yearly increase in state funds.

Enrollment Decrease
 A previous request for additional teaching and civil service staffs was withdrawn by Byrne on the basis of an anticipated 8 per cent decrease in enrollment. Byrne based his figures on the Marshall-Rosenberg plan for manpower.

"We do not figure to lose more than that number," he said, "because of stepped-up ROTC programs, deferments for specialized training in certain professions, a steady enrollment of women, returning veterans, the too young and the physically disabled."

Costs Rise
 The original budget for the State System of Higher Education, which was prepared last May, contained requests for added staff and an 8 per cent salary increase. (please turn to page eight)

Mac Court Concert to Star Ruggiero Ricci, Violinist

The Civic Music Association will present Ruggiero Ricci, violinist, at 8 p.m. next Monday at McArthur Court.

An American from San Francisco, Ricci began music lessons at the age of five, and progressed so naturally that by the time he was eight he made his first public appearance, playing the Mendelssohn Concerto in San Francisco.

The next year he made his New York debut as soloist with the Manhattan Orchestra at City Center, and continued by playing in Chicago's Orchestra Hall, New York's Carnegie Hall, at the Ann Arbor and Worcester Festivals, and with the Minneapolis and Cincinnati Symphonies.

The young player travelled abroad and played with leading continental orchestras for the next few years, and toured the United States and Latin America until his career was interrupted for four years of service in the Army Air Force.

KWAX Postpones Opening

KWAX, scheduled to begin broadcasting sometime this week, has once again been forced to delay its opening night.

The railroad switchmen's strike delayed delivery of a 20-foot piece of coaxial cable, which the station needs before it can complete installation of its equipment, according to Jack Vaughn, station manager.

Vaughn also announced that KWAX needs engineers holding Federal Communications Commission third class radio-telephone licenses. Vaughn asked that any qualified person contact him anytime this afternoon at the radio studio, Villard Hall.

Angna Enters to Perform At University Theater

Angna Enters, first dance mime of the day, will appear this evening in "The Theater of Angna Enters" at 8 p.m. in the University Theater. Tickets may be purchased at the box office for $2.50, or for $2, if the buyer is a season ticket holder.

Miss Enters appeared Saturday before an enthusiastic audience of delegates to the Northwest Drama Conference.

The dancer presents a number of sketches, each a complete story in itself. She finished her Saturday program with a number about a painter, actually painting on stage, and offering her "work of art" to anyone in the audience who wanted it.

Miss Enters likes to consider her program "just a good show," and both world critics and University students (after seeing the show Saturday) are lavish in their acclaim of her talents.

Miss Enters appears in Eugene on her seventh transcontinental tour.

Board Cancels Tuesday Rally

The basketball rally originally planned for Tuesday morning has been canceled, the rally board announced Sunday.

The rally, planned to boost spirit before Tuesday's and Wednesday's Washington State games, was canceled because John Warren was skeptical of the rally the day of a game.

A Monday rally was impractical because it would involve shortening the same classes which were shortened for Friday's assembly.

Board members said Warren explained that a rally on the day of the game would get players so fired up that spirit would slump through the day to a low ebb by game time.

A rally is tentatively planned for Feb. 22 before the Dads' Day weekend University of Washington series.