

Dads' Tickets Dwindle

Only 200 Dads' Day luncheon tickets are left, according to Elaine Hartung, luncheon chairman. They may be bought at the Student Union main desk as well as in 216 Emerald.

Tuesday's ticket sales amounted to 200, and another 200 had previously been sold. "The maximum capacity for the luncheon is 600, so we urge every student who plans to attend and whose dad hasn't made reservations to get his immediately," said Miss Hartung.

Any student whose father has bought tickets may pick them up in 216 Emerald. The price is $1.25. Dress for the affair, to be held in the Student Union Saturday, will be short silks for women and suits for men.

Interviews with Dads' Day Hostess finalists Mrs. Gene Rose, Mrs. Bernie Thland, and Mrs. Richard Smart will be broadcast at 11:45 a.m. today over KERK.

Dave Rodway, general chairman, and Dean K. W. Onthank, executive secretary of Oregon Dads, will be featured on a program with George Drougas, interviewer, at 4:15 p.m. Thursday.

The finalists will be presented at the luncheon, and the winner will be announced between halves of the Saturday game, when she will receive a bouquet of roses from Flowers Unlimited.

Soph Men's Honorary Alters Constitution Rules On Member Selection

Membership of Skull and Dagger, sophomore men's service honorary, were given new form Tuesday night after the group accepted a three-week-old proposal to change its constitution.

The amendment changing the method of selecting new members from the ranks of third-term freshmen was passed by more than the required three-fourths vote.

Investigate Dormitory Conditions

The Junior Inter-Fraternity Council Tuesday evening selected a committee of three members to present a proposal for study of dormitory conditions to the Freshmen Council.

Under the JIFC plan three representatives of the Freshman Council would become members of a joint JIFC-Freshman Council committee which would make the study.

Following group debate on the proposed project, the committee, appointed by JIFC president Bill Paulus and approved by the body, issued the following statement:

"Since the Junior Inter-Fraternity Council represents all the pledges, many of whom are living in the dormitories, we wish to conduct an objective study to determine whether the freshmen dormitory conditions can be improved and to submit any findings and suggestions to the proper authorities. Our sole aim is to improve any unfavorable conditions found."

The committee is composed of Fred Baltz, Phi Sigma Kappa; Jack Adair, Delta Tau Delta; Judge Elderkin, Theta Chi.

Red Cross Collection Drive Starts Sunday

The annual drive for funds for the Red Cross gets underway Sunday when house and off-campus representatives begin collections.

The campus drive, linked with the drive of Lane County and the rest of the nation, will continue until Mar. 3. Heading the campus fund raising campaign is Kay Kuckenberg.

Representatives from each living organization were given materials at a meeting Tuesday night at which final plans for the drive were made. Displays will be placed in the windows of the Co-op Thursday and posters were distributed Tuesday.

During the week-long drive flying speeches will be given in campus living organizations. Monday and Tuesday members of Kwama,

According to the amendment, more emphasis will be placed on first-year activities of initiates and less on their living organizations. It calls for a three-fourths vote of active members to pass on candidates, thus eliminating "automatic" acceptance of a man who was recommended by his living organization.

Under the old system, each fraternity and men's co-op was allowed one member in the honorary and five were chosen from dormitory residents. Opponents of this method pointed out that Skull and Dagger was little more than a "representative body" of sophomores.

To do away with the possibility of the honorary becoming lop-sided with members from a certain group of houses, the amendment stated that no more than three active shall be from the same living organization. A maximum of 25 members and a minimum of 20 was also included in the change.

The change in membership rules of the honorary had been proposed at an earlier meeting. President Jack Beyers referred the proposal to a three-man committee of Rod Bell, Dick Davis, and Bill Frye who drafted it into amendment form.

Other business discussed was presentation of the annual Willy Frager scholarship, and tapping for new members. Both events will probably take place Junior Weekend.

sophomore women's service honorary, will make speeches emphasizing the seriousness of the Red Cross fund campaign.

Entertainment, furnished through Gerry Pearson, ASUO entertainment chairman, will appear throughout the week in living organizations to stimulate the drive for funds.

An extensive effort will be made to reach all off-campus students, including those living in University housing projects and private homes. This will be headed by Chuck Isaak. Booths will be set up in the Student Union and the Co-op for the benefit of off-campus students who are not contacted.

Representatives will issue membership cards to everyone contributing $1 or more. Pledge cards (please turn to page eight)

Mixer Planned Saturday Night After Game

"Dad—King for a Day" will be the theme featured at a mixer to be held in the Student Union Ballroom Saturday after the Washington-Oregon basketball game.

Music will be furnished by Curt Finch and his quintet. Dancing will begin directly after the game and last until 12:30 a.m. Admission price is 20 cents, or free for fathers wearing "Dad's Badges".

Members of the Curt Finch quintet are Bill Fletcher, drums; Chuck Peterson, bass; Robin Gilbert, piano; Dave Carleton, tenor sax; Curt Finch, brass.

Four acts of various types of entertainment will be presented. Special cut-in devices will be introduced.

This mixer is one in the series of no-date mixers sponsored by the Student Union Dance Committee.

Junior Week Petitions Due

Final deadline for petitioning for Junior Weekend committees is 5 p.m. today, with petitions due either in the Weekend offices in 303 Student Union, or the box in the Co-op.

The all-campus contest to select a theme for the Weekend is now open to all students. Theme suggestions may be submitted in the same boxes in the Co-op and SU, with the deadline next Wednesday.

Special petition blanks are available in 301 SU. The committees open are as follows: clean-up, traditions, All-Campus Sing, Junior Prom, terrace dance, float parade, luncheon, promotion, publicity, queen selection and coronation, and Sunlight Serenade.

Petitioners are asked by Class President Merv Hampton to place their suggestions for a theme on the back of the completed petitions. These need not be resubmitted for entrance in the contest.

French Play Continues Tonight in Villard Theater

"Le Corsaire," by Marcel Archard, a contemporary French playwright, was presented at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Villard experimental theater, and will be repeated tonight and Saturday.

Tickets for the French play, which is under the direction of R. L. Picard, professor of romance languages, may be purchased at the door or in 223 Friendly for 50 cents.

Frosh to Discuss Dance at Meet

A Freshmen council meeting will be held at 8 p.m. tonight in the SU. The exact room number will be posted on the bulletin board in the lobby. All representatives from the freshmen living organizations are asked to be present or send a substitute to the meeting since plans for a Freshmen mixer will be formulated and a picnic date will be decided on.

University Singers On Nationwide Program Thursday

The University Singers, a group of 41 selected singers from the ranks of the choral union, will portray the mood of "Brotherhood Week" in an all religion program to be heard on a nationwide network at 8:15 to 8:45 p.m. Thursday on KERK in Eugene.

The program, a thirty minute broadcast, over the Liberty Broadcasting System was written, directed and produced by Robert Montgomery, instructor in speech.

Salem Trip Scheduled Thursday

Students will be offered a final chance today to participate in the YWCA-sponsored tour to the State Legislature Thursday, with tickets for the trip being sold in political science classes and the YW, Geringer Hall.

This will be the only student trip to Salem, since the Young Republicans have cancelled theirs due to lack of response.

Bus fare for the trip will be $1.75. Janie Simpson, chairman of the YW public affairs committee, said. If there are too few people to charter a bus, private cars will take the Oregon delegation, Miss Simpson reported.

Cars or a bus will leave from the YW at 8 a.m. Thursday, returning by 5 p.m.

Committee hearings on milk control, visits to the Legislature, and tours of government buildings are on the day's program.

Replacing the Young Republicans' trip will be members of the Legislature on the campus this term and spring term. President Don Collin reported Wednesday.

Collin is now contacting members of the State Senate and House of Representatives to arrange the speaking engagements. Speakers and dates will be announced later.

Directed by Donald Allton, professor of music, with Phillip Green, Portland, and Walter C. Martin, Cottage Grove, soloists and with Zonda Montgomery, instructor in music at Willamette High School, at the organ, the chorus will sing music of the various faiths including the Protestant, Catholic, Jewish, Negro, White Spiritual. They will end the broadcast with a special arrangement of the "House I Live In."

Other numbers to be sung on the program are: "Jesus Walked That Lonesome Valley," "Keep Your Lamps Trimmed," "Open Our Eyes," "O Bone Jesu" and "Kol Nedrei."

"Dedication to Brotherhood," the name of the broadcast, depicts the Brotherhood week theme, sponsored by the National Congress of Christians and Jews.
