Students Attend Salem Sessions

Attending the Oregon State Legislature in Salem Thursday were eight University students, on a trip sponsored by the YWCA.

The day's agenda for the group included visits to Senate and House of Representatives sessions, luncheon in the capitol building cafeteria, and sitting in on special committee meetings.

The students, observing from a gallery overlooking the Senate, heard the reading of the Governor's proclamation stating observance of George Washington's birthday. The entire assembly stood and observed a minute of silence.

A bill changing the minimum value of stolen goods for grand larceny from $35 to $75 was discussed by the senators, and finally passed on the grounds that the price of living has increased.

House bill 266, "relating to animal and poultry brands or marks," was recommended for a change at a special committee meeting in order to reduce the number of brands on one animal and to increase the possible combination of brands.

Ken Hodge and Tom Barry drove cars to Salem, accompanied by Jane Simpson, Kathleen Fraser, Marilyn Patterson, John Peters, Jean Lewis, and Victoria Perez, foreign student from Guatemala.

From 1920 on there was notable growth of the graduate school. In 1920 there were five master's degrees granted and in 1926 there were 35.

SU Flagpole up Soon

The new flagpole to be located in front of the Student Union should be erected within the next few days, according to I. I. Wright, physical plant superintendent.

Workmen have been waiting for the concrete base to set before erecting the pole.
