YMCA, YWCA Slate Summer UO Activities

A number of summer camps, leadership training schools, and European work-study seminars sponsored by the YMCA and YWCA are available for interested students this summer.

The annual Pacific Northwest student summer conference at Seabeck, Wash. is scheduled for June 10 through 17. A student citizenship seminar will be held in Washington, D. C. June 23 through Aug. 31. The St. Louis summer service project is scheduled for June 15 through Aug. 11, and a leadership training school for officers and cabinet members of "Y" organizations are being held in Chicago, New York, and Berkeley, Cal., during the summer.

The College Summer Service group will convene in New York June 23 to Aug. 14 and four groups will be traveling in Europe for the work-study seminars from July 5 to Aug. 28.

Students, in addition to holding meetings and conferences for these various conferences, will be able to hold jobs and gain college credit for some of the sessions.

Further information is available at the YMCA or YWCA.

The flowers they refer to that bloom in the spring must be water lilies.
