

THE NEWS IN VIEWS...

WITH THE ANNUAL Puyallup (Wash) Valley Daffodil Festival less than a month away, Queen Elaine Chipps makes a hurried inspection of one of the fields near Tacoma, Wash., and finds plants blooming despite a blanket of snow. The festival is scheduled for the weekend of April 5-7. (AP WIREPHOTO)

A SIGHT FOR FISH EYES — Diver Frank McCallum drives a jeep in 10 feet of water in oceanarium at Marineland, Fla., during successful test before Army observers. Willys-Overland engineers say jeeps for armed forces operate under water due to complete waterproofing of engine and electrical system plus extensions which put air intake and exhaust above water.

PRIZE WINNER — Phi Mu Delta fraternity men complete an ice sculpture of a rocket poised atop a snow globe in the University of New Hampshire's 30th Winter Carnival at Durham.

TWO MEN DIED north of Warm Springs, Calif., (Mar. 10) when their powerless glider dived into a knoll 15 minutes after being cut free from the tow plane. The dead were identified as Ed Connors, 32, an Oakland (Calif.) attorney and William L. Bowers, 29, a College of Pacific student. The foot of one of the victims (arrow) protrudes from the wreckage. Two unidentified police officers examine the wreckage. (AP WIREPHOTO)

AN EIGHT-INCH GUN, manned by First Cavalry Division troopers, has just fired a round against the enemy on the west central front in Korea (Mar. 8). This big gun fires a 200 pound projectile 10 miles and has been very effective. (AP WIREPHOTO)

ERB MEMORIAL STUDENT UNION!

Correction!

SODA BAR HOURS:

Friday—Open 7:30 a.m. to 12:45 p.m.

Saturday—Open 8:30 a.m. to 12:45 p.m.