Federal Services Need Librarians

Attention has been called by the U. S. Civil Service Commission to the continuing need for librarians in the Federal services. Positions in Washington, D. C., and vicinity, at a starting salary of $3,100 a year, are being filled from the examination announced by the commission in 1948. Applications are being accepted for the exam.

Applicants must pass a written test and have had appropriate education or library training to qualify for the jobs. The commission reports good opportunities for advancement in this field.

Examination applications will be accepted by the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C., until further notice. The applications are available from most first and second-class post offices, Civil Service regional offices, or from the Commission's Washington office.

The sophomore YWCA commission cabinet will hold its first meeting of the term at 4 p.m. today.

New officers of the commission and members of the cabinet include the chairman and vice-chairman, Ancy Vincent and Cathy Tribe; Sally Haselton, secretary; Donna Hart and Pat Gustin, membership chairmen; Barbara Swanson, finance; Jean Webb and Jean Gates, social chairmen; Barbara Johnson and Shirley Olson, counseling; Jean Mauro, chaplain; Marilyn Patterson, publicity; and Sue Madsen, Lee Kellow, and Mary Bennette, members-at-large.

WRA Officers, Cabinet Slate Annual Retreat

Old and new officers and cabinet members of the Women's Recreation Association will hold their annual retreat at Beachcombers' Rest, Heceta Beach, Saturday and Sunday to plan events for the coming year.

Reports on activities of the past year will be given by outgoing officers. President Joan Skordahl and Vice-President Belle Doris Russell are in charge of the retreat. Chaperone will be Miss Jeannette Masilionis, WRA adviser.

Recently appointed members of the WRA cabinet are Shirley Smart, head of sports; Shirley Nichols, volleyball; Bunny Bradley, badminton; Judy Woodcock, swimming; Beverly Wild, basketball; Harriet Vahey, bowling; Marilyn Wise, tennis; Mary Jordan, softball; Judy McLoughlin, publicity; June Nichols, assistant publicity; and Breda Lynch, historian.

Representatives for the Amphibians, hockey, and outing clubs have not been named.

UTAH MOVED ITS more than 500 convicts from an overcrowded, 1868 prison to a new structure. Officers frisked men before taking them in busses to model prison 20 miles south of Salt Lake City. Convicts piled old mattresses and bedding in yard for inspection. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Harvard Offers Financial Aid To BA Graduates

The Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration is offering its third annual nationwide competition for Regional Financial Aid Awards.

One hundred and ten awards in eight regions of the United States are available to well-qualified students who need financial help to continue their education in the graduate field of business administration, Donald Davis, dean of the Harvard Business School, has announced.

Awards under the Regional Financial Aid Program for 1951-52 provides a maximum of $2,600 for married students, and $2,000 for single students. The amount is adjusted to the individual need.

Applicants are judged on their intellectual capacity, character, maturity, and ability to work with other people. Ten awards will be offered in the Pacific Northwest region.

Deadline for applications to the Committee on Student Financial Aid at the Harvard Business School is May 1.

Public Welfare Town Hall Topic

The Little Town Hall lecture series, under the sponsorship of the Eugene YMCA, will present a forum discussion on "Are We Spending Enough For Public Welfare in Lane County?" at 8 tonight at the First Congregational Church, 490 13th Ave. E.

Speakers and their respective topics will be Max L. Dudley, administrator for Lane County's Public Welfare Commission, "From the Angle of Public Welfare"; Leslie A. White, president of the Lane County Medical Society, "From the Angle of Medical Care"; D. T. Bayly, county judge and chairman of the Lane County Board of Commissioners, "From the Angle of Lane County"; and William Tugman, editor of Eugene Register Guard, "From the Angle of 'Mr. U. Public'".

Kirt Montgomery, assistant professor of speech, will be the forum moderator.

YMCA members on the Little Town Hall committee are John Ty-sell, chairman, Jack Foskett, K. E. Montgomery, Charles Hunt, Wesley Nicholson, Lloyd DeLess, J. R. Bruckart, Stanley Darling, Dean Lobough, and A. F. Holmer.

Marine Biology Institute to Hold Summer Session at Coos Bay invertebrate biology, according to Lockely.

The Institute of Marine Biology will hold its annual summer session at Coos Bay during the regular University of Oregon summer school period, according to A. S. Lockely, instructor in biology.

The institute owns about 85 acres of property along Coos Bay and the ocean front, including such varied regions of biological interest as forests, coastal lakes, fossil beds, streams, a river, and the bay itself.

Teaching at the Institute will be Ivan Pratt, resident manager of the Oregon Institute of Biology and associate professor of zoology at Oregon State College, and A. S. Lockely from the University. Pratt will teach vertebrate biology, and the taxonomy, distribution and ecology of marine and invertebrates of the Coos Bay area. Lockely will teach ichthyology or field zoology, and advanced marine ecology.

Ichthyology

Ichthyology is the study of the anatomy, classification, distribution, evolution, and physiology of fishes. Marine ecology is the consideration of certain biological, chemical and physical factors involving marine animals and their environment. This is open to students who have had a course in

Oil Company Offers Jobs To BA Juniors

Juniors in business administration interested in the summer training program of the General Petroleum Company will have a chance to talk about that program with a representative of the company, Bob Powell, Wednesday.

Powell will be on campus to interview prospective job holders for the company. Special opportunities are being offered juniors who can train for permanent assignments in sales work, later working up to managerial positions.

Appointments for conferences with Mr. Powell can be arranged with the graduate placement service in Emerald Hall.

Henry Villard helped the University pay off some of its old debts and donated money which was needed for certain necessary tools of instruction which the University lacked. His donations were the first of any importance to public higher-education in Oregon.
