Jacobson to Lead

N. P. Jacobson, acting head of the religion department, will lead a discussion of "Chaos in Today's Society" at a meeting of the campus United World Federalists at 3 p.m. today in the SU.
All interested students may attend the meeting.

Religious Notes

Compiled by Tom Shepherd

"Sock Hops," talks on "God and the Atom," Bible studies, open houses, and costume parties are being planned by campus religious groups for the coming week.

WESTMINSTER HOUSE

A "Sock Hop" is on the social agenda at Westminster House for Friday. Participants in the hosiery affair are requested to wear two loud socks, not the same pair. Mates to the stockings are to be brought to the party, which begins at 8 p.m.

GAMMA DELTA

"God and the Atom" will be shown by campus Gamma Deltans Sunday at Grace Lutheran Church. Group officers may be contacted for further details.

INTERVARSITY CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

Students interested in Bible studies are invited to attend the weekly lectures sponsored by IntersVarsity Christian Fellowship. A study in Romans, led by Vernon Lidthe, meets Wednesday at 8 a.m. in the Mens' Lounge of Gerlinger. The Gospel of Mark is discussed at 8 a.m. Thursday in the same location. Discussion is guided by Bob Driesner. The Gospel of John is studied by Lee McClelland's class at 3 p.m. Friday in 115 Friendly.

CHRISTIAN HOUSE

New chairmen of standing committees announced by Christian House President Wah Chun are program, Betty Myers; worship, Ralph Adams; international relations, Jane Copsey; house, Ray

Shields; membership, Faye Filby; service, Winona Fishback; budget and finance, Cal Long; social action, Duane Mick; food, Betty Perkey; recreation, Carl Cobb; publicity, Mitzi Asai. Omitted from last week's printed list of officers was Treasurer Mary Alice Baker.

Following the Saturday night Vodvil Show, Christian House will sponsor an open house. Carl Cobb is in charge.

Sunday, the 5:30 p.m. worship program will be led by Ann Gibson. International Tea Hour will be held at 4 p.m. Tuesday.

WESLEY FOUNDATION

The Rev. Mr. Daniel Walker, pastor of the Corvallis First Methodist Church, will be guest speaker at Wesley Foundation, 1236 Kincaid, at 5:30 p.m. Sunday. The theme of the evening will center around "The Christian Concept of Faith."

New officers for the coming year are being elected this week. All Wesleyans will have an opportunity to vote at Wesley House.

A party is planned by Wesley House for Friday evening. A costume affair, it will begin at 8 p.m.

Two additional group activities have been added to the Wesley program. They include a Tuesday evening pot-luck and a Wednesday morning chapel service. Both activities are open to interested students. Chapel leader for Wednesday morning's service, which begins at 7:30 a.m., is Barbara Manley.

Pairings, Rules Noted For Jr. Weekend Floats

Pairings and rules for the Junior Weekend Float parade were announced Wednesday afternoon at a meeting of house representatives.

Rules of the contest are as follows:

Themes must be turned in by 5 p.m. Monday in 301 SU. Maximum height for floats is 12 feet, and maximum cost $70.
