Preview Planners Expect

what they can expect to find at the University in the way of activities and athletics. Girls will meet in the Music School Auditorium and boys in McArthur Court.

Speaking at the boys' assembly will be Head Coaches Jim Aiken, football; Don Kirsch, baseball; and John Warren, basketball. Freshman Track Coach George Rasmussen, will talk in the absence of Bill Bowerman, head coach.

A representative of Skull and Dagger, sophomore men's service honorary, will talk on campus activities, and a freshman dorm resident will give his impressions of deferred living.

Girls will hear from Marilyn Thompson, vice-president of the Associated Women Students; Ann Darby, president of YWCA; Barbara Williams, president of Heads of Houses; and Mrs. Golda Wickham, director of women's affairs.

Representatives will also be present from the Women's Recreation Association and from Kwama, sophomore women's service honorary, who will speak on activities for girls on the campus.

Other Events...

...include Saturday morning tours of the Student Union and an intersquad scrimmage among footballers out for spring practice. The tours, being conducted by Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, will start from Taylor Lounge beginning at 9 a.m. The scrimmage is slated for 2 p.m. at Hayward Field.

Between the two events, students will meet at noon upstairs in the SU for a luncheon where they will be addressed by President H. K. Newburn.

A Dance...

...is billed in the ballroom of the Student Union for 10 p.m. following the All-Campus Vodvil in McArthur Court. Theme of the dance, "Spring Fever," will be carried out by Dick Dorr's orchestra. High school students will be admitted free; college students will pay 20 cents. Dress is campus clothes. Dates for the high schoolers will be arranged by the living organizations.

Exchange Dinners...

...Sunday will terminate weekend activities. All living organizations will "exchange" the visitors staying at their houses with other houses for the Sunday meal. Dress will be suits for men and short silks for girls. Pairings have already been announced by Denise Thum, Sigma Kappa.

Moore Will Teach At Summer Session

Arthur W. Moore, professor of physiology, has been appointed as one of the visiting faculty members who will teach during the summer quarter at Stanford University.

He is one of 37 new appointees from some 28 universities, colleges, foreign embassies, and schools throughout the country.

Strash Leads Icon Discussion Tonight

V. C. Strash, assistant professor of Slavic languages, will lead a discussion on Russian Icons at 7:30 p.m. today in the Brewing Room of the Student Union.

Colored slides of Russian Icons, which are religious images, will be shown. Russian church music will be played.
