

USA, AGS Parties Start Political Ball Rolling with Nominations

Plans for the coming student body elections were discussed by the United Students Association at a meeting Monday.

The committee set Tuesday and Wednesday for its general assembly meeting, when party candidates will be chosen. Seventeen petitions for student body offices on the party ticket were received.

President Ernie Baldini announced that Friday would be the last day to file petitions to run for office on the USA ticket. He said that petitions may be turned in to him at Alpha Tau Omega; Bruce Wallace, Hunter Hall; Virginia Wright, Alpha Xi Delta; Helen Jackson, Highland House; Eve Overback, Hendricks Hall; or Don Collin, Alpha Hall. Interviews with petitioners will be held Sunday and Monday. Distribution of USA membership cards was also discussed.

Baldini said that delegates from USA living organizations will meet at 4 p.m. Wednesday in the Student Union. He also stated that any living organization wishing to have speakers from the party talk to their members may contact him or any member of the steering committee.

Those who have so far petitioned to run as USA candidates for student body offices are Phil Johnson, Virginia Wright, Don Collin, Maggie Powne, Al Karr, Bob Metz, Cece Daniels, Pat Word, Dor Paillette, Pat Mullin, Barbara Manley, Norma Lattimer, Miriam Goddard, Judy McLoughlin, Merv Hampton, Helen Jackson, and Karl Harshbarger.

Noon Friday is the deadline set by the Associated Greek Students for turning in petitions for student body offices on the AGS slate, President Bill Craey said Monday.

The party will endorse candidates for ASUO president; senior, junior, and sophomore class presidents; one representative for each of those classes; and nine senate members.

Petitions should be turned in to Carey at Phi Kappa Psi or Secretary Mary Gilham at Alpha Chi Omega. AGS members will meet Monday to consider the recommendations of the policy committee and to make their nominations.

2 Acts Planned For Portland TV

A special television broadcast in Portland Apr. 25-28 will include two acts by University students, according to Robert Montgomery, instructor in speech, who is handling auditions.

Montgomery said that the acts would consist of a reading and a vaudeville skit, which may be a one-act play. Tryouts are slated for 4 p.m. Wednesday in 102 Villard.

The video show, Portland's first, is being sponsored by the Greater Portland Industries Exposition. It will be sent out from a station temporarily erected on the Portland University campus by television directors from Los Angeles.

Several TV receiving sets will be brought to the city to pick up the broadcast. They'll be situated in department stores throughout the metropolitan area, Montgomery said.

Defer Dog Docs? Applications Due

Students now following a pre-veterinary or pre-optometry curriculum preparatory to entering a professional school outside the University should make application to the school of their choice now if they expect deferment.

Application blanks are available in the office of Ray Hawk, director of men's affairs, who released the information Monday.

Hawk made the announcement after receiving letters from Washington State College and Pacific University at Forest Grove, W.S.C., which has the only school of veterinary medicine in the Pacific Northwest, outlined a plan for handling deferment requests.

Deferments, authorized under the same conditions that govern all pre-professional students, apply only to those who have completed at least one year of pre-veterinary training and are eligible to enter during 1951, 1952, or 1953.

Jr.-Sr. Women Plan Breakfast

The traditional Junior-Senior women's breakfast will be held at 9:15 a.m. Sunday in the Student Union ballroom.

The breakfast was inaugurated by Mrs. Prince L. Campbell, wife of the University president, in the early 1920's. Mrs. Campbell held the breakfast for senior women at her home. Since then the breakfasts have been sponsored by the YWCA, and junior women have escorted senior women.

Featured speaker will be Mrs. Roy McCall, wife of the speech department head. Mrs. McCall will speak on "Buys for the Activity Wise," which will include information activity opportunities open to women graduates.

Ticket sales will be handled by representatives in each women's living organization. Wednesday will be the last day to obtain tickets, which cost 98 cents.

The breakfast is being held in conjunction with National YWCA Week, which begins Sunday.

Miss Oberteuffer told the council that the Duck Preview weekend program was run off smoothly and expressed the opinion that the schedule provided for the high school seniors was appreciated and enjoyed by them.

"The only trouble was that we didn't have enough people here," Miss Oberteuffer stated. She blamed the failure of a better showing upon an inadequate system of promotion. Written invitations issued by sororities at Oregon State College were cited by Miss Oberteuffer as an inducement to attend the high school senior weekend held there. The High School Relations Board was in charge of contacting the high school students, she told the council.

Something under 500 high school seniors attended the preview held on the campus Friday through Sunday.

Difficulty in housing the visiting seniors was experienced, the council was informed, due to the fact that reply cards sent to students were late in being delivered.

Plans Presented

Miss Oberteuffer suggested that one of two plans be adopted in the future in order to insure maximum attendance at the University high school senior weekend:

1. Work with OSC to formulate a set of rules in respect to promotion of the weekend.

2. Encourage fraternities and sororities to personally invite high school seniors to visit the Oregon campus during the weekend.

ASUO President Barry Mountain suggested that the chairman for the Preview program be appointed the first week of winter term in the future in order to allow ample time for preparation. Mountain said that he would appoint a committee to investigate the suggestions put forward by Miss Oberteuffer.

Election Plans Formed

Location of polling booths to be set up on the campus for the May 2 student elections was decided upon by the council. Booths will be placed near the Library, the Co-op, the Student Union, Fenton Hall, and in the center of the campus quadrangle.

Petitions for all ASUO and class offices are due at 5 p.m. Apr. 25. Herb Nill, ASUO vice-president reported. The petitions may be turned in at the ASUO office and must be accompanied by an eligibility slip.

'Finians' Tickets Selling Rapidly

"Finian's Rainbow" tickets are available for this evening's performance of the musical comedy in the University Theater.

Tickets may also be purchased for $2 from members of Theta Sigma Phi and Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternities.

Glenna Hurst, Gordon Howard, Faber DeChaine, and theater newcomer Jane Bowen play leading roles in the production.

"Finian's Rainbow," which ran over a year on Broadway, has been playing to full houses since it opened on campus last Friday evening.

"Tickets for this week's performance are selling rapidly," Business Manager Virginia Hall announced, "and persons wishing to see the play should make reservations as early as possible, to make certain of seeing the musical."

Nagy to Discuss 'Tito and Goliath'

Ivan G. Nagy, assistant professor of political science, will discuss "Tito and Goliath," by Hamilton Fish Armstrong, at 7:30 tonight in the Browsing Room of the Student Union.

Nagy, who has been on the University faculty since September, 1949, came to Oregon from the Hungarian Embassy in Washington, D. C., where he was the first secretary to the Hungarian delegation.

Nagy was born in Budapest, Hungary, educated there and spent two years, from 1938 to 1940, at Cambridge University in England.

The speaker has been closely allied with the United Nations as official observer to United Nations Security Council meetings, delegate to United Nations Appeal for Children, and head of the delegation to the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations.

He has lectured at Harvard, Yale, University of Chicago, and Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Tito is Subject

Marshall Tito as "Grand Hierarch of the Communist World" is the subject of the book to be discussed, which deals with foreign policy in the Balkans.

Eldon Johnson, dean of the College of Liberal Arts, and Graduate School, will lead the discussion.

This is the third in the Lecture-Forum Series and is open to the public.

Baker Elected Prexy Of Religious Council

Mary Alice Baker was unanimously elected president of the University Religious Council at the group's noon meeting, Monday in Westminster House.

Miss Baker's staff for the coming year will include Vice-President Ron Abrams, Co-secretaries Sharon Anderson and Joan Jacobs, Treasurer Elmer Hibbs, Staff Adviser Jack Merner, and Faculty Representative Francis Dart. All of the officers received unanimous votes.

After the elections the group discussed the World Student Service Fund drive. Several members of the group praised chairman Jackie Wilkes for her outstanding direction of the drive. The large number of off-campus contributions were held by some to show a greater interest in WSSF by individuals rather than by living organizations. A few in the group noted scattered criticism around the campus from those who felt the Ugly Man theme detracted from the general purpose of the drive.

The group voted to sponsor a picnic on May 6. It was decided that women would bring box lunches, which would be bought by the men at a public auction. The money raised would be used to pay a Council deficit incurred from Religious Emphasis Week.

Veteran's Last Role

Glenna Hurst Plays Irish Lass in 'Finian's Rainbow'

By Jim Haycox

Glenna Hurst shouldn't by rights be an actress at all, for the stage gave her one of her first unpleasant experiences.

At the tender age of four she was terrified by the "bloodhounds" in "Uncle Tom's Cabin." They might have been only collies but, she remembers, they seemed awfully big at the time.

Glenna, an Albany girl since 1940, plays her final role with the University Theater as Sharon McLonergan in "Finian's Rainbow," which opened Friday and will play tonight through Saturday this week. Oddly enough, too, the part is a lot like the first role she ever handled for the Theater, another little Irish lass by the name of Pegeen in "The Playboy of the Western World." It was for this part that she received the Best Actress of 1948 award.

Miss Hurst graduates this spring and her plans call for a trip back to New York in a '34 Ford after becoming Mrs. Smith. There, while husband Gerry works for a Master's Degree in business at N. Y. U., she hopes to work in speech correction.

She and Gordon Howard, who together make up the romantic couple, did have one slight scare, though, when they both thought they were coming down with colds. The infirmity came to the rescue with penicillin. Glenna has used that voice a lot as a speech major and member of the University Singers, and she wasn't going to let a little thing like a cold get her down.
