

HEATING PLANT BEGINS FULL OPERATION

THE NEW UNIVERSITY HEATING and power plant (top) began full operation Thursday morning. Built at a cost of $1,140,000, the new plant will supply full campus heating and electricity. It replaces the old steam plant, which will be dismantled to make way for an addition to the School of Architecture and Allied Arts. Don Bartosh, plant superintendent, is pictured looking at the fire in one of the boilers (bottom left) through an inspection port. Overhead in the background are located the automatic feed hoppers. A meter inspector adjusts the automatic combustion controls and meters (bottom right). The meter in the center of the picture registers steam flow, airflow, and steam temperature. The meters over the inspector's head show such things as steam pressure and the amount of carbon dioxide present in the operation. (See Story, Page 8)

Portland's First Television Show to Include Students

Two Campus Acts On Tap Saturday

Two campus talent shows will be filmed by RCA television at 7:30 p.m. Friday and 4 p.m. Saturday in Portland as a part of that city's Greater Industrial Exposition held on the University of Portland campus.

"Grammatical Amour" is the triangular love story of three parts of speech—Proper Noun, Don Doak; Object Noun, Martha Stapleton and Lois Williams; and here, Isa' Verb, Bob Chambers—plus little demonstrative son, Pronoun, Phil Barter.

"Night Club Scene" is a grouping of three acts—the Delt Trio plus One, and vocals by Gordon Green, sophomore in liberal arts, and Leona Anderson, senior in music—tied together by dialogue by Lois Williams, junior in speech.

China Nationalism Lecture Topic Set For a.m. Assembly

"The Forces of Nationalism in China" will be the topic discussed by Robert C. North of the Hoover Institute and Library, Stanford University, at 11 a.m. today in the Student Union ballroom.

Morning classes will be shortened for the University assembly. Time schedule of classes is as follows:

- 8:00 to 8:35, first period
- 8:45 to 9:20, second period
- 9:30 to 10:05, third period
- 10:15 to 10:50, fourth period

The week-long conference on "Russia, the Far East, and the United States—Nationalism," will be closed today. A professional seminar will be presented by North on "Chinese Nationalism" at 2 p.m. in 106 Commerce. This seminar will be open to selected faculty and graduate students.

A coffee hour is also scheduled for North at 4 p.m. in the SU Dads' Lounge. The coffee hour, co-sponsored by the SU Board and Mortar Board, will be open to the public.

Final Speech

"Forces of Nationalism in Asia" will be the final speech presented in the conference which has featured lectures by H. J. van Mook and Julian Towster, both of the University of California; and Nobutaka Ike and North, both of the Hoover Institute and Library, Stanford University.

This final speech will be presented by North at 6:30 p.m. at the Eugene Hotel. The speech will be presented before members of the Eugene Council on World Affairs and the State Board of Higher Education Extension System.

Scholastic Background

North received the A. B. degree in 1936 in languages and literature from Union College in New York. He received the M.A. degree in international relations from Stanford University.

North served two years in the Pacific as Air Ground Liaison Officer. He received five battle stars, and attained the rank of captain.

North is the author of the novel, "Revolt in San Marcos." This novel received the Wallace Stegner Prize for the Novel at Stanford in 1948 and the Commonwealth Club of San Francisco Gold Medal Award for fiction in 1949. The novel was also the Fiction Book Club choice for January, 1950.

The international relation expert is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, national liberal arts scholastic honorary, and a Fellow of the Royal Geographic Society.

HAZEL SCOTT

Scott to Present Mixed Program Saturday Night

When Hazel Scott, noted pianist, presents her piano recital in McArthur Court at 8 p.m. Saturday, she will play a varied program ranging from Chopin to boogie-woogie.

The program which Miss Scott will present, under the auspices of the Student Union Board, is a combination of classics and syncopation. It will consist of six parts—"Freedom Suite," which is one of her own personal compositions; numbers by Chopin; Organ Toccata and Fugue in D Minor by Bach-Busoni; movie music; swinging the classics; and modern jazz.

Tickets for the Hazel Scott recital will be on sale today and Saturday at the Appliance Center, 70 10th Ave. W., and at the Student Union main desk. They will also be available Saturday night at the door. Reserved seat tickets are $1.40 and general admission is $1. University students, faculty, and high school students' tickets are 60 cents.

A star of motion pictures and radio, Miss Scott is now one of the few stars to have her own television program, "The Hazel Scott Show."

Nominating Assembly Opens ASUO Race

The campaigns for student association and class offices officially got underway at the ASUO nominating assembly Thursday night.

The assembly was poorly attended; between 150 and 200 persons—including the 33 candidates and those who nominated them—showed up for the meeting.

Bill Carey, Associated Greek Students candidate for ASUO president, was nominated first. In his speech, he told the audience that he had been asked earlier to outline a platform.

"That's an impossible task," he said, "For each and everyone of you is my platform."

"Political promises are easily made—and easily broken," he continued. "But a platform based on the desires of 4,000 students will not and cannot be broken."

Merv Hampton, United Students Association presidential candidate, was the next speaker. He read the USA's platform for the coming campaign, and told briefly of the purposes of the party.

"USA emphasizes the view that we don't hate Greeks—and we don't regard Independents as un-"

Cook's Candidacy Draws Sigma Chi Statement

The action taken by Herb Cook in running independently for Junior class president is not sanctioned by the Sigma Chi fraternity, and it definitely does not reflect the political loyalties of the house. Sigma Chi is an active member-house of the Associated Greek Students and will back the AGS candidate.
