

Frosh Diamond Brigade Wallops OCE Varsity

By Bill Gurney

The Oregon frosh baseball team topped the Oregon College of Education varsity 12-4 on the lower diamond Thursday afternoon.

Today Coach Hal Zurcher's Ducklings travel to Corvallis for a doubleheader with the Oregon State Rooks, and Saturday they play Corvallis High School at Eugene.

A nine run outburst in the fourth inning was the big factor in the Frosh victory. Duckling righthander Gene Lewis went the full nine innings to gain credit for his second win with no defeats.

Lewis Shows Control

Lewis scattered 12 OCE hits well, and none of these was longer than a double. He struck out nine men and showed excellent control all during the contest.

The big Duckling fourth frame started with a towering double by Left Fielder Ron Phillips. Catcher Don Hedgepeth got to first on an error by the OCE third baseman. A long single to left by Third-Sacker Chuck Stolsig scored Phillips easily, and Hedgepeth slid home a shade ahead of the throw to tally also.

Stolsig was safe at second and Lewis at first on a fielder's choice which was bobbed by the second baseman. Shortstop Dick Stearns walked; Center Fielder Dick Miller was hit by Pitcher Roberts; and Stolsig was forced in to score. A double to center by Left Fielder Don Siegmund scored Lewis and Stearns.

When Ron Phillips hit a line drive which hit the base umpire and went for a single, although the ball was dead and Miller could not score.

Hedgepeth clubbed a single to score Miller and Phillips. Later Hedgepeth made the final tally on a wild pitch. At that point, OCE hurler Roberts was replaced by a southpaw, Funk, who tamed the Ducklings to a run total for the rest of the contest.

The Duckling first inning run was garnered by Miller. He scored from third on a long fly by Phillips after having reached base on a fielder's choice.

In the eighth the frosh fashioned a two run effort. Substitute catcher Doug Clayton was safe on an error by the second baseman. Jay Fournier punched a single to right and so did Karl Wise. Hurler Lewis then helped his own cause with a ground single to center which scored Fournier and Clayton.

Wolves Bunch Hits

The Wolves of OCE combined a base on balls and two singles for a lone run in the fourth, and used two more singles, and a sacrifice for another tally in the fifth.

The ninth inning saw the Wolves produce a double and a single, which was coupled with two Duckling miscues to add the final two runs.

Ron Phillips was the leading frosh hitter with a single and a double to his credit. Dick Stearns had two singles, while Don Siegmund got a double. Gene Camp paced the OCE attack with three singles.

Second Straight

This win was the second straight for the frosh over the Wolves. They had taken a 9-7 verdict previously at Monmouth.

R H E
OCE 000 000 002— 4 12 5
Frosh 100 900 02x—12 15 3
Roberts, Funk (4), and Marsters
Lewis, and Hedgepeth, Clayton (8).

Library Boasts Editors' Display

"Photographing Science" is the topic of an exhibit by the editors of Life magazine which will be on display beginning Monday and continuing until May 19, in the newspaper reading room of the Library.

The phenomena photographed serve to make this particular series of 18 panels an unusual exhibit. Fritz Goro, one of the pioneers in photographing science, has also devised his own methods for picturing the illusive manifestations of science.

As against the two dimensional effect of micro-photography, he has developed what he calls "Macro-photography," which takes tiny objects that cannot be seen by the naked eye and photographs them in their environment.

Goro is credited with being the first to make, in 1939, what may now be considered to be a historic photograph of atom-splitting. This particular photograph, enlarged and mounted on a 28 by 36-inch panel, is included in this exhibit. Others in the series include photographs of penicillin, microwaves, oxidation, moisture collecting on lithium crystals, and the luminescence of the South American railroad worm.

Dance Concert Goes on Tonite

The second showing of the Orchestris concert will start at 8 tonight at the University Theater. The concert is composed of several modern dancing numbers based on various American Poems.

The concert, which has a two-night run, held its first performance Thursday night. The dances, which are entirely performed by members of Orchestris and Junior Orchestris, have all their movements based on a variety of American poems which range from Emily Dickenson's works to Negro spirituals.

Soloists featured in the show are Nancy Morse, Joyce Everson, Nancy Radabaugh, and Jane Bowen. Directing the entire group is Miss Bettie Jane Owen, instructor in physical education. Other women who dance in the ensemble are Joan Jacobs, Lois Randle, Inga Wages, Susan Hunt, Susan McAndie, Joan Safarik, Catherine Vilas, Jacqueline Conrath, Betty Wise, Patricia Burrows, and Carolyn Welch.

Tickets for the performance are on sale at the women's physical education office in Gerlinger, and in the main office in the School of Health and Physical Education. Tickets will also be on sale at the University Theater box office.

Building Addition Gets Senate OK

The $700,000 addition to the business administration-social sciences building was approved by the State Senate Thursday and sent to Governor Douglas McKay, as the Legislature neared adjournment.

The addition is part of a $7,430,000 state building program approved by the Senate. The program had previously been approved by the House.

The program also includes $4,000,000 to complete the $6,000,000 for the teaching hospital at the University of Oregon medical school in Portland, $730,000 for an addition to the home economics building at Oregon State College, and $2,000,000 for the board of control to spend on state institution buildings.

The plans for the business administration-social sciences addition are nearly complete, and work can begin as soon as contracts are let.

A $500,000 journalism wing, included in the State Board of Higher Education's original program presented to the Legislature, was defeated earlier in the session by the joint ways and means committee.

A postmaster in Massachusetts has been on the job for 31 years. We'll bet he's mighty sick of reading post cards.

OSC May Top Oregon In Library Day Contest

For years Oregon State College has unsuccessfully been trying to outdo the University of Oregon in the annual Library Day Contest, according to Miss Bernice Rise, Browsing Room librarian.

This year OSC may succeed, Miss Rise explained. So far only 20 entries have been placed in the U of O contest, while OSC has 35.

Last year's list of 77 is the minimum number of entries hoped for here, Miss Rise said. Deadline is next Thursday.

Nine prizes will be awarded on May 12 as part of the University library contest. First prize in all three divisions of the contest, the undergraduate student's general library, the graduate student's library, and the undergraduate student's specialized library, is $25 in books. Second and third prizes in each division—$15 in books and $10 in books.

Last year's first-prize winners in each of the three categories were James Albertson, undergraduate general library; Hiroto Zakoji, undergraduate specialized library; and H. D. Carlin, graduate library.

Rules for the contest are as follows:

1. Entries must be limited to 50 volumes for each category.
2. Required textbooks, which will become an important part of your library of the future, may be included.
3. Each book must bear a definite mark of ownership.
4. Pamphlets, maps, charts, and other non-book material may be included.

A British poll organization that feels the public pulse on timely topics, recently asked members of the middle class: "Given a one-tenth reduction in income, where would you make your cuts?" Replied one dismal country parson, "Across my throat."

cluded, but will not be counted in the judging.

5. Entries must be made by 6 p.m. next Thursday and arranged in the Reserve Book Reading Room by 9 p.m. May 11, and remain on display until 5 p.m. May 13.

6. Judging will take place at 2 p.m. May 12. The libraries will be judged on the selection of titles as they meet the objectives of a student's private library.

7. Prizes will be awarded the evening of May 12 at the banquet of the Association of Patrons and Friends of the University of Oregon Library by Head Librarian Carl W. Hintz. All prize winners will be guests of the association at the banquet.

8. Prize winners will select their books at the University Co-operative Book Store.

The five-foot limb-spread of the Japanese crab is nothing compared to the mouth-spread of some American crabs.

WRITE MOM!

HAND DIPPED
Chocolates & Fudge
Made in Eugene
SUGAR PLUM
63 E. Broadway

LET'S GO
TO CABLES

(DRIVE IN)

NEWMAN'S FISH MARKETS

LOTS OF OCEAN FRESH FISH AND SEA FOODS

SHRIMP — CRAB — SCALLOPS

"IF IT SWIMS WE HAVE IT!"

39 EAST BROADWAY

The Official OREGON RING

- Onyx
- Synthetic Ruby or Blue Spirel
- Synthetic Tourmaline (Dark Green)

PRICED FROM $15.75 TO $29.50

YOUR FRATERNITY LETTERS CAN BE ADDED AT A SMALL ADDITIONAL CHARGE

see rings on display at the

ALUMNI OFFICE

Mezzanine

ERB MEMORIAL STUDENT UNION