See the Student Court Story

today-inside.

CLOUDY Partly cloudy today and tonight.

NUMBER 122

High: 70, low: 40.

VOLUME LII

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE, TUESDAY, MAY 8, 1951

'Plan' Passes IFC, IDC Heads of Houses Votes No

regon Daily

freshmen living.

The plan, if put in operation by among them. the school administration would, among other things, provide for approve the plan. Inter Dorm and unanimously approved its recpossible freshmen dormitories and Council approved the plan in a ommendations. a solution to the intramural meeting Wednesday. loyalty problem.

IFC President Dick McLaughlin, in urging passage of the plan, said that he thought the fresh- University was rejected by Heads man dorm would be a boon to the fraternities.

Freshmen now living with "staunch" independents in the halls are becoming independents themselves, he said. He explained that while independent living has its merits, many possible fraternity men are now going to stay in the dormitories.

McLaughlin also brought out that friction between the Interdormitory Council and the IFC would be lessened if the plan succeeded. He said the IFC and the IDC would both be pledged to support the freshmen plan and rushing would be deferred until a certain time, decided upon by both groups.

Ray Hawk, director of men's affairs, brought out the fact that it from the three women's co-ops. ing situation that originally broke Houses, was the desire for a bet- on the Oregon campus, started ribbons in their hair. down IFC-IDC relations.

administration is concerned, it is cording to their respective presiwaiting for the reaction of the dents. They pointed out that destudent groups before it takes any action on the plan.

plan himself, and backed Mc- continue to live in. Laughlin in that the fraternities would benefit from it. However, only those parts of the plan will be put into effect by the administration that are economically possible, Hawk said.

Mervyn Hampton said that he had talked with some of the Ha-

The Interfraternity Council wailan students in Minturn Hall, Thursday night voted unanimous- who disfavored the freshmen dormily to favor the "Oregon Plan" of tory system because they want their Hawaiian freshmen living proposed by the student committee which studied the plan at Stanford of Houses in a roll-call vote Monday. The group includes the president of all women's living organizations.

The program was defeated as a port. whole although members expressed approval of parts. Following the vote, President Barbara Wilmeet Wednesday to draw up defintion to the Stanford committee, tion and is not final. Members of the committee represent co-ops, dormitories, and sororities, and include both those who voted for and against the plan.

Voting in favor of the program were Carson 1, 3, and 5; Hendricks Hall, and Orides.

The reason for the "no" votes was disagreement over the rush- Highland, University, and Rebec ter-planned representation in the Hawk added that as far as the social and athletic program, acferred living itself actually affects them very little, and that Hawk said that he favors the only indirectly since freshmen may > Preceding the vote, Barry Mountain, ASUO president and member of the student committee that presented the living plan, answered questions of the group. Questions centered on the section proposing that rushing be deferred until winter term.

Mountain made the suggestion that rushing on this basis might be tried for one year, before a definite plan was made.

Heads of Houses also heard a Tom Barry moved the group report from the dessert committee

The committee recommended The freshman living program as that freshmen have their own system of social functions next individual living organizations will themselves decide on exchanges. The exchanges would include dinner as well as an hour of dancing, according to the committee's re-

These recommendations will be

Sharon Anderson, sophomore in music, and Dolores Parrish, ophomore in liberal arts, were appointed by the Executive Council Monday evening to act as co-chairmen of University. family picnic to be held at Jantzen Beach in Portland this summer.

The picnic, which will be held in July or August, will be open to all University of Oregon students, alumni, and their guests. Bob Metz, sophomore in business, was the only other petitioner interviewed by the council.

A five point plan for the incorporation of skiing as a major letyear, while upperclassmen in their of the council. The letter award Try to Reinstate requirements, presented to the Leo Harris following meetings with a student committee, will be retroactive and will apply to this year's ski team.

ERALD

The council again issued a call presented to the Student Affairs for petitions for the position of Committee today by Jackie Prit- orientation chairman for a proliams appointed a committee to zen, past president of Heads of posed intensified fall freshman Houses, Miss Williams emphasized orientation program. The chairman ite recommendations for presenta- that this is only a recommenda- selected by the ASUO group will (please turn to page eight)

O' Men to Punish Traditions Violations

Tradition Week, the week that always precedes Junior Weekend yesterday with Order of the "O' men following coeds around the campus, presumably waiting to catch them at breaking one of the wear cords. many revered traditions of the campus.

The Order of the "O" is the advance guard of Junior Weekend is left. with Dick Daugherty heading this year's traditions committee. Any of the week will be severely punished by the "O" men in noon ses-

Those traditions are:

1. All students say "hello" on Hello Walk (designated as the S

2. Students do not walk on any campus lawn.

3. Students do not smoke on the old campus.'

4. Students do not sit on the Senior Bench unless they are seniors.

5. Students do not walk on the Oregon Seal.

Special Traditions 1. Freshmen women wear green

2. Freshman men wear 'rooters' lids' with the green side out. 3. Upperclass men only may

4. Sophomores may wear blue jeans or 'moleskins.'

5. Freshmen men may wear what

6. Order of the "O" men will wear an emblem representing their

All students listed in the Emerald for a violation of any of the traditions must appear before the Order of the "O" at 12:30. Men violators will appear on the steps of Fenton Hall; women at the pool behind Fenton.

Violators listed for Monday are Tom Bowman, Nancy Miller, Jo Sloan, Bill Carey, and Barbara Baker. If violators do not appear they will be punished at the All Campus Luncheon on Saturday. Women are reminded that their punishment will be a dunking in the Fenton pool.

council by Director of Athletics 2 Athletes Ends

An attempt to bring about reinstatement of athletes Jim Loscutoff and Curt Barclay, suspended from school for one year on a morals charge, had apparently run its course Monday.

Oregon basketball player Bob Peterson announced Monday afternoon that he has dropped the movement for removal of the suspension imposed upon Loscutoff and Barclay by the Student Discipline Committee. Peterson explained he was abandoning the movement "for the best interest of everyone concerned.

J. M. Foskett, chairman of the Student Discipline Committee, declined to comment on the news of Peterson's rejection of the reinstatement move.

Move Revealed Wednesday

Peterson first made known his backing of the ousted students at an election party Wednesday evening before an estimated 200 students. At that time he stated that he was pursuing a course charted by outside legal advice.

Later Peterson declared that Loscutoff and Barclay were advised to affirm all charges in their appearance before the Student Discipline in order to obtain leniency. Peterson also stated that the two men were injured by the false testimony of a witness. He asked for a "square deal" from the University administration. Makes Plans Known Tentatitive plans to present the case before the ASUO Executive Council and University President Harry K. Newburn were made known by Peterson Thursday. He complained that the athletes did not have legal representation and were informed of the charges against them in such a manner that they were unable to fully understand them. According to Peterson. Loscutoff has returned to his home in Palo Alto, Calif., while Barclay is remaining in Eugene. Loscutoff has announced that he plans to enter the U. S. Army. Barclay has indicated that he will attend an extension school.

student violating any of the rules organization. sions on the 'old campus.'

U walk this year).

SHOWN MAILING THEIR "letters" to mom are Norma Hultgren and Gretchen Grefe, co-chairmen of promotion for Mother's Weekend which is being held this weekend in connection with Junior Weekend. (Photo by Deane Bond.) 202020222222 110000000

Sophs Ready to Down Frosh in Tug-o-war

By Bill Frye

SOPHOMORE CLASS TRAINING CAMP, Boon-Docks, May 7 (Special)-Preparations are nearly completed here for the Class of 53's part in the annual freshmen-sophomore tug-o-war being held at 4 p.m. Wednesday on the millrace in back of Kappa Sigma.

Twenty-two beefy sophomore men have been working out daily at Scandling to be this secret training camp to condition themselves for the big event. A rigorous schedule has been set up by Helen (Muscles) Jackson, president of the Class of '53, who is acting as official trainer for the group.

According to unreliable sources, 14 men have so far been dropped from the squad because they couldn't keep up the 20 miles of road For Magazine work required daily. Said their trainer: "These guys'll be in as good a shape as I am when I'm through with 'em, or my name ain't 'Muscles'." The boys themselves are confident of winning the big groan and grunt affair although there is skepticism on the part of most observors. As freshmen last year, they took the contest in record time, but according to old-timers a class is seldom able to duplicate the feat the following year.

One of the team members made this comment during the sevenminute resting period allotted the group each day:

"Sure we'll win! We've got to show those bums (probably the freshmen) that having a lady president doesn't necessarily mean we're panty-waists. Besides, after all the work she did taking us on those road trips we sort of owe it to her."

Meanwhile, no word has been received from the freshman class, but Just Can't Help It," appeared in President Wayne Carothers and his fuzz-faced band of yearlings has the January issue of Seventeen, (Please turn to page eight)

Guest Editor

Margaret Scandling, senior in journalism, has received notice that she has been chosen to serve during June as a guest editor of Mademoiselle, a monthly women's magazine.

Miss Scandling is one of 20 college graduates to be chosen by Mademoiselle for the honor.

Mademoiselle pays all expenses for the trip and for the working period, plus paying each woman a salary.

A story by Miss Scandling, "I teen-age monthly magazine.