

High today, 65; low tonight, 55.

What Do They Think?
Observations of students studying abroad—both American and "foreign" students—appear on page 7.

VOLUME LII

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE, MONDAY, MAY 14 1951

NUMBER 127

Prom, Parade, Mother's Day, Sing Highlight 1951 UO Junior Weekend

Oregon Mist Fails To Dampen Spirits; Events Held Inside

"The rain may have dampened our festivities, but it hasn't dampened our spirit."

The words of Merv Hampton, Junior Weekend chairman, summed up the 61st and rain-soaked Junior Weekend celebration held this weekend. Hampton made the statement concerning the weather-ruled festival before an estimated 500 couples and 200 parents gathered in the Student Union Ballroom for the annual Junior Prom.

Plans for the Weekend picnic, ordinarily held on the Old Campus, were revised because of rain, and the luncheon was served in McArthur Court.

The Float Parade slipped in between showers, and 21 floats were displayed through the streets of downtown Eugene and the campus despite damage caused by a cloudburst immediately preceding the parade.

Rain Snafu's Parade

To the dismay of float builders who were forced to construct their entries in the rain, crepe paper decorations proved not moisture-resistant and cardboard sections sagged woefully. A sign appearing on the side of a float built to resemble a winged horse and engineered by Carson 4 and Yeomen expressed the general opinion concerning the weather. The damp butcher paper covering a gaping hole in the side of the horse read: "Damn rain."

Soph' Class Banner Flies from SU Flagpole

The sophomore class reversed an old tradition early Saturday morning when they placed a triangular green pennant emblazoned with the numeral '53 upon the Student Union flagpole.

The flag, which was fixed two-thirds of the way up the pole, was hoisted in the pre-dawn hours Saturday by an adventurous crew of second year men, one of whom climbed the metal pole to deposit the symbol of class superiority.

During the early 1900's the junior class traditionally raised a class flag upon a pole near Villard Hall while the sophomores attempted to prevent the appearance of the bunting.

semble a winged horse and engineered by Carson 4 and Yeomen expressed the general opinion concerning the weather. The damp butcher paper covering a gaping hole in the side of the horse read: "Damn rain."

'And the Rains Came'

Another float portraying an Egyptian pyramid bore the bitter-sweet legend "And the Rains Came."

Skies cleared slightly Sunday, but the Sunlight Serenade was held under electric sunshine within the confines of the Music School Auditorium.

LIVINGSTONE TO SPEAK IN SU

Sir Richard Livingstone, British educator, will present the second in his series of four public lectures at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Student Union Ballroom.

He will speak on "The University and the Need for a Philosophy of Life." The lecture is one of the series on "Education and the Spirit of the Age," being sponsored by the Large Crowd Fills Theater At 'Serenade'

The Sunlight Serenade, annual Junior Weekend musical event, was held Sunday afternoon in the School of Music Auditorium instead of outside as originally planned. A capacity crowd, composed in great part of mothers, attended the concert.

The University Symphony Orchestra played excerpts from Handel's "Water Music" and from Strauss's "Die Fledermaus," and accompanied Phil Green, baritone, in "Vision Fugitive" by Massenet.

The Junior Weekend Queen, Jeanne I, and her court were present, and were further entertained by the All-Campus Sing winners—Alpha Phi, directed by Ann Kafoury, (also concertmistress of the orchestra) sang "The Balm of Gilead" and Sigma Alpha Epsilon, directed by Don Dunn, sang "Black is the Color of My True Love's Hair."

Refreshments were served at intermission.

Lost on Hood, 2 Ski to Safety

Two Oregon students, lost Saturday night while skiing on Mt. Hood, made their way to safety Sunday.

Setting out to climb Mt. Hood at 5:30 a.m. Saturday despite fog and falling snow, the two students, Don Lowe, Sandy, and Hugh Ward, Venezuela, roommates at Gamma Hall, hit a storm and became lost. Sunday they skied to ZigZag Canyon—and safety.

Both carried full mountain equipment. Lowe, a freshman, had climbed the mountain three weeks ago, but it was the first time for Ward, a sophomore.

Honoraries Tap 64

Honorary tappings were featured at the All Campus Luncheon, which was held in McArthur Court because of the weather, Saturday.

Queen Jeanne I, Jeanne Hoffman, and her court and other students and their guests saw Mortar Board, Friars, Asklepiads, and Scabbard and Blade select new members in the traditional manner.

Mortar Board, senior women's honorary handed red roses of membership to Kay Kuckenberg, Lorna Larson, Virginia Wright, Lillian Schott, Marilyn Thompson, Donna Butt, Georgia Oberteuffer, Gretchen Grondahl, Jeanne Hoffman, Marjorie Bush, Shirley Hillard, Jackie Pritzen, Jo Anne Hewitt, Edith Kading, and Anita Holmes.

Friars Tap

Friars, senior men's honorary, extended membership to Merv Hampton, Dick Lee, Dick McLaughlin, Dave Rodway, Jack Smith, Roger Nudd, Bob Funk, Tom Barry, Bill Clothier, and Ray Karnofski. Honorary members tapped were Dr. Dan E. Clark, head of the history department, and Arthur Litchman, director of the athletic news bureau.

Asklepiads, premedics honorary, tapped George Halling, James Bauer, John Belt, Harlan T. Thoreson, Christopher Williams, William Mikkelsen, Charles Fredericks, Ralph Adams, Roy Ellsworth, James Elliott, and Daniel Yuzon.

New Scabbard, Blade Members

Recognition of new Scabbard and Blade, military honorary, members was extended to Everett Eldridge, John Holden, John Jones, Richard Morton, Norman Peterson, Jim Bradford, Don Ford, Don Furtick, James Hanns, Clarence Hultgren, Elmer Hibbs, Robert Massingill, Tetsuo Nakasumi, Ronald Terjeson, Jay Huston, and Beldon Owens.

Karla Van Loan was general chairman of the annual luncheon, theme of which was "Empress Gardens" to tie in with the Weekend theme of "Far Away Places."

Eleven Students Win In Library Contest

Winners in this year's library contest have been announced from a field of 93 entries, the largest number ever to enter the contest, according to Miss Bernice Rise, Browsing Room librarian and one of the contest judges.

Two firsts were awarded in the undergraduate specialized division. Philbrook Heppner, senior in art, and Ronald Walker, senior in anthropology, shared honors in that division. Heppner's library was on the "History of Art" and Walker's was on anthropology.

Other Winners

Third prize in that division was awarded to Charles Geddes, senior in history, with a library on Iran. James Albertson, sophomore in psychology, won honorable mention.

In the undergraduate general division, Bob Bureker freshman in

Prom Draws 1,200; Honors Awarded At Saturday Dance

A crowd which was estimated to include 500 dancing couples and over 200 mothers and dads attended the Junior Prom, the high point of the 61st Junior Weekend, Saturday night in the Student Union ballroom.

Honors were awarded to Jackie Pritzen, William Clothier, Gerald Berreman, Jack Keller and many others during activities of the intermission.

Prizes Given For Registering Most Mothers

Alpha Gamma Delta and Phi Kappa Sigma won record albums as a result of having the highest percentage of mothers registered for Mothers' Weekend. Registration Chairman Joan Jacobs announced Sunday.

The Alpha Gams registered 66 per cent of their mothers, and the Phi Kaps 48 per cent.

689 Mothers Register

A total of 689 mothers registered for the weekend, slightly over the 680 total last year. This is probably not a complete indication of how many mothers were on the campus, since many did not register, Miss Jacobs said.

Also placing in the registration contest were Alpha Phi, with 51 per cent, and Phi Delta Theta with 47 per cent, second; and Alpha Xi Delta, 50 per cent, and Phi Gamma Delta, 41 per cent, third. Second and third place winners do not receive prizes, however. The record albums for the first place winners were donated by Thompson's.

Mothers of freshmen were counted with dormitory percentages, Miss Jacobs explained.

Men were more active in persuading their mothers to attend

(Please turn to page six)

The Alpha Delta Pi-Campbell Club-Sherry-Ross float, "Stairway to the Stars," was awarded the first place cup among float parade entries. Second place recognition went "Shanghai Sampan," and the Ann Judson-Beta Theta Pi float "Dixieland," as a result of the judges' decision. Third place to two floats, the Delta Upsilon-Delta Gamma-Sigma Mu entry, winner was the Alpha Omicron Pi-Stan Ray entry, "Alice in Wonderland."

Les Anderson, alumni secretary.

Miss Pritzen Wins Cup

Jackie Pritzen, junior in English, received the Gerlinger Cup in an award made by Mrs. Golda Wickham, director of women's affairs.

The cup, first presented in 1918, is presented to a junior woman for outstanding service, leadership, and scholarship.

Miss Pritzen, who is past president of Heads of Houses and associate editor on the Emerald, was selected by a

Jackie Pritzen student - faculty committee.

Clothier Gets Koyl Cup

William Clothier, junior in journalism, became the 37th man to receive the Koyl Cup, awarded to the outstanding junior man. Clothier has been president of Inter - Dormitory Council and is now president of Sigma Delta Chi, national men's journalism fraternity. Presentation was made for the first time this year by the donor, Charles W. Koyl, in person.

Gerald Berreman, junior in anthropology, won the Maurice Hunter leadership plaque given each year to an outstanding junior leader in the College of Liberal Arts. Last year he won the Phi Beta Kappa book award for high scholarship in a variety of subjects. He has turned out for varsity tennis for two years, is an officer of his fraternity, Tau Kappa

(Please turn to page eight)

Jackie Pritzen student - faculty committee.

William Clothier, junior in journalism, became the 37th man to receive the Koyl Cup, awarded to the outstanding junior man. Clothier has been president of Inter - Dormitory Council and is now president of Sigma Delta Chi, national men's

Gerald Berreman, junior in anthropology, won the Maurice Hunter leadership plaque given each year to an outstanding junior leader in the College of Liberal Arts. Last year he won the Phi Beta Kappa book award for high scholarship in a variety of subjects. He has turned out for varsity tennis for