

Bouncin Gives Farewell Talk

only expression was one of surprise. In a whispered aside he said to an Emerald reporter:

"Write this down, will ya? Reminder—underscore that. Have Lois darn up the hole in the toe of my left sock—the yellow ones."

The reporter took down the message and then looked at the president's feet. Sure enough, there was his big toe shining in the moonlight.

Steps on Seal

OUAS President Fairy Bouncin then stepped onto the great seal and planted his feet firmly in preparation for his address.

Flash bulbs flared and reporters from the wire services rushed for telephones to file first leads of this historic occasion. This was really news! The first time in the history of the University of Oregon that the OUAS president had delivered his farewell address while standing in his stocking feet on the great Oregon seal at a few minutes past midnight on a moonlight night.

Our own Fairy then began to speak in a voice that was clearly audible for a quarter-of-a-mile. He said many things and in all fairness and so that there will be no chance for a misquotation his address is printed in its entirety as follows:

"My fellow students, blah—blah—blah—blah..."

Petitions Due---

Come on kiddies, it's time to turn in all your nice little petitions for some of the following stupid activities. Student government takes the cooperation of everybody, and gracious! you wouldn't want to be the one that brought student government to a standstill, would you? Well, then, unclasp your grubby little hands from around that bottle and start filling out a petition for...

Phi On Ewe, national service fraternity for ex-Cub scouts. Minimum g.p.a. of 1.25 is required. No experience needed. Plenty of room for advancement. If you want to get ahead, join this forward-looking group. Deadline is May 15.

Theta Sigma Phi, small girl's mud-pie and sewing group, rumored to have some connection with journalism. Requirements: Must speak English, high school graduates preferred but exceptions made. Turn in your petitions to your local bartender.

U. S. Army, recreational and social group, numerous positions open. Short hours, good pay. Forward petitions to Josef Stalin, Kremlin, Moscow.

SDX

And, to paraphrase a Southern patriot: "TNE ain't dead; it's just restin' awhile!"

SDX

Type for this special issue was set by a one-eyed Linotype operator named George, who was drunk at the time and continually mumbled "etaoin shrdlu" "etaoin shrdlu" under his breath.

CAMPUS QUEEN

Queen Jeanne CXII smiles for camera after grasping control of the 212th annual Lost Weekend.

The motto of the congressmen who have cut flood control project funds seems to be: "Millions for defense, but not one cent for tributaries."

Hendricks Hall

Seven births were reported in Hendricks this week-end. All of the wee ones are doing fine, said the housemother. She said the house cat, Dimples, presents Hendricks with a family about this time every spring. "It's amazing," she said vaguely.

Stan Ray Hall

Eighty-five per cent of the residents in Stan Ray Hall have gotten married during the past two weeks. All of the married men intend to move out of the dorm en masse and buy the nearest motel. Arlo Giles, counselor, had little to say. "I'm not a political hack," he said, "but if they're not married they should be. My campaign didn't cost me one red cent and that's more than Taft can say..."

McChesney Hall

The fellows in McChesney voted unanimously to become members of Panhellenic. Walt Freauff, counselor, indicated he was delighted over the vote. "My opinion of sororities and fraternities is well known," said Freauff. "We plan to welcome them with welcome arms."

Sigma Nu

Jerry Crary doesn't live here anymore.

Sherry Ross Hall

All the fellows in Sherry Ross were simply delirious with joy to discover that Ron Barnes had pinned Turkey Neketin in 10 seconds flat the other night. The bout was fought under Marquis of Queensbury rules. Dave Strauss also pinned Cameron Thom and Carl Anderle fought a draw with Mrs. Williams. The nature lovers are going on their weekly flower gathering trip this Wednesday.

Delta Delta Delta

The tri-delts held their annual beer-bust in the basement of Johnson Hall last Saturday. Dr. Slowburn served refreshments until relieved by Donald Duck Shoeshine in the reverath. No hits, no runs, 13 errors. Three tri-delts received their diplomas.

Barrister Inn

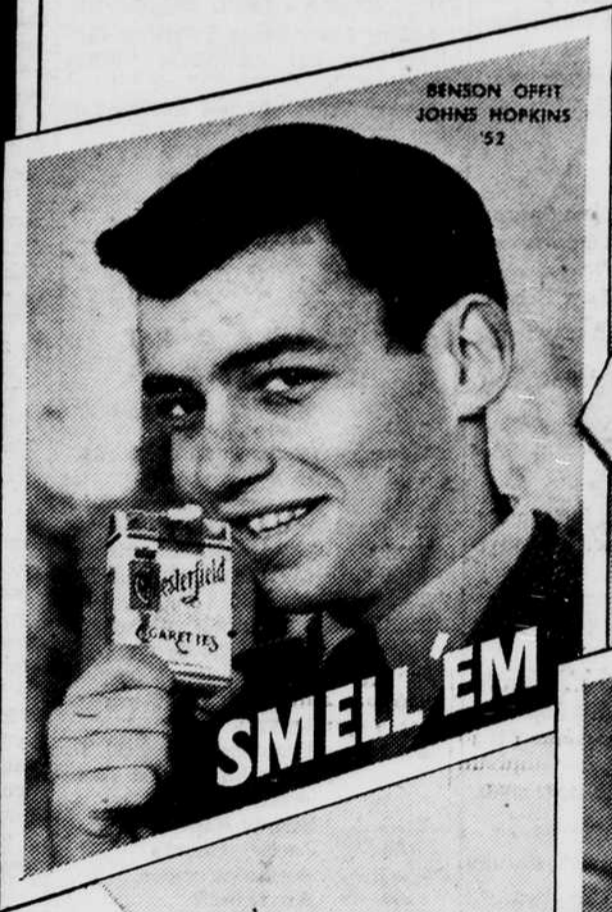

The fellows in Barrister Inn have signed a non-swearing pledge retroactive to the first of the year. This is in keeping with their policy of clean minded living. Only one member of Barrister objected to the retroactive clause. Walt Probert said he considered it unethical, irrelevant, and beside the point. "Besides," said Waltie, "I have used 4700 cuss words since Jan. 1, 1951. My conscience will never be purged."
