

. . . in Korea have built a tent city at Panmunjom in preparation for peace talks slated this week. Details in U.P. wire column, Page 7.

Weather . . .

. . . for today and Friday will include early morning fog, little temperature change. High expected today, 60 degrees. Low last night was 40.

Whiskerless Soph Dunked

A VIOLATOR OF THE Sophomore Whiskerino beard-growing tradition is tossed into the Fenton Hall pool by members of Skull and Dagger, sophomore men's honorary. The unfortunate violator is Jim Lancaster. Tubbing him are Bob Altman and Paul Lasker.

—Emerald Photo by Pete Moe

Role of Countess

Beverly Brunton Returns to Theater Starring in 'Madwoman of Chailot'

By Gail Savage

Rescuing the world from evil and helping the "little" man takes most of the time of Beverly Brunton in "Madwoman of Chailot". Miss Brunton plays the starring role of the countess, who is the madwoman of Chailot.

The mad countess effectively directs Pierre, played by Ray Fryman, from killing himself by sharing with him her infallible formula for dealing with vicious people.

Miss Brunton is returning to the university stage after an absence of several years. During this time she played in "Three Men on a Horse," "Springtime for Henry," and the lead in "Larua", all in the Eugene Very Little theater. On the campus Miss Brunton played the lead in Subina in "Skin of Our Teeth."

Miss Brunton has been active in drama and speech work for a number of years. Fullerton, California aims the honor of having produced her first play, "This Generation of Ours." This was while Miss Brunton was still in grade school, and attending that school.

While still in high school Miss Brunton received a drama scholarship to Northwestern and spent a summer studying there. Another summer she spent at the Hanford, Wash., atomic bomb plant. She was a member of a group in charge of industrial recreation for the families living there. Miss Brunton had an opening to play summer stock in Plymouth, Mass., and spent a summer vacation working in the "Plymouth Drama Festival."

Miss Brunton has been working as a continuity writer for KUGN for the last 3 1/2 years, and attending the University also. When she quit she devoted all her time to school. She had three radio programs: "The Story Lady," a program of children's stories; "Notice This", with records, interviews, and community activities; and "The Talk of the Town", a short gossip show. The curtain goes up on "Madwoman" at 8 p.m. tomorrow evening. The play will run through Oct. 27, and Nov. 1, 2, 3, and 10. Tickets are available at the theater box office for $1.

Send-off Rally Billed for Friday

A pre-game rally for the Oregon-Washington State football meeting this weekend will be held at 12 noon Friday on the west side of the Student Union veranda.

The rally will be short, Ron Symons, rally board member, announced. He requested that living organizations delay their lunches until 12:15 p.m.

The Oregon football team and coaches will be on hand, Symons said. The yell squad will lead several yells. Symons said he hoped enough musical instruments would be present to form a small pep band.

The new Oregon fight song composed by John Epley and introduced at the freshman rally Saturday evening will be presented to the student body. Symons said that if the song is a success following the Idaho game, it will be submitted to the senate by the rally board for adoption as the official Oregon fight song.

Oregana Meeting Called for Today

Oregana living organizations representatives will meet at 3 p.m. today in the Oregana offices on the third floor of the Student Union.

Instructions and receipt books will be issued to representatives, Jody Greer, Oregana promotion manager, said.

Miss Greer requested that all representatives who could not attend the 3 p.m. meeting, visit the Oregana offices between 4 p.m. and 5 p.m. or contact her at 5-9117 or extension 239.

Impromptu Talk By Korean Vet Steals U.N. Show

By Phil Johnson

A Marine sergeant with a chestful of Korean battle ribbons stole the show with an impromptu speech at the United Nations sixth birthday party Wednesday night in the Student Union.

The Marine grabbed the microphone just before the close of the program.

Stating that the featured speaker, Frederick M. Hunter, honorary chancellor of the state system of higher education, had "missed the point," the combat veteran, who identified himself as Sgt. William Cheek, a Eugene resident, asserted, "Force is the teeth of the United Nations."

Referring to the Korean War, the Marine veteran, who stated that he has been home on furlough for one month and will later report to San Diego, asserted that "every nation there fighting has done the most important thing to perpetuate the United Nations." "The people who are there," he added, "believe in the United Nations or they wouldn't be there." He remarked that he felt that it was a mistake that American soldiers were not permitted to volunteer for the Korean conflict.

Only Way

Sgt. Cheek closed with the statement: "The only way to make freedom is to stop anything that is not freedom."

Hunter had not mentioned the employment of force in Korea by the U.N. and the bulk of his talk was devoted to an explanation of the potentialities of the world organization.

Hunter stated, "If you think that the United Nations will bring instant peace, forget it. It will not do that. The United Nations is here to perpetuate freedom, and by perpetuating freedom, it will bring peace."

He compared the development of Anglo-American liberty to the probable future acquisition of universal freedom through the development of the U.N.

"Go back and see how the free-

(Please turn to page eight)

Membership Problem Faced by SU Board; Petition Dearth Blamed

The Student Union board will investigate the problems of selecting board members from the separate schools and liberal arts college as a result of the failure to obtain much response in an attempt to fill the positions now vacant.

The two positions are those of seniors from the schools of journalism and health and physical education. One petition has been received from the journalism school, that of Gretchen Grondahl, who will be interviewed by the board.

UO Gets Grants; Request Denied Dental School

The state board of higher education accepted grants and gifts totaling $82,366 Wednesday in a meeting in Portland.

Largest grant was $22,585 to the University of Oregon medical school from the American Cancer society for continued medical research and for a scholarship for a medical student.

A grant of $19,240 from the state department to the University of Oregon for the financing of study for 10 German students was accepted.

The medical school also received $2500 for cancer research and $2500 for research work in heart diseases from the will of the late Frank W. Settlemeir.

Four $500 "leadership" scholarships were awarded Oregon by the Standard Oil Company of California.

The board voted to retain the present administration policy of the University of Oregon dental school. The executive dean now reports to H. K. Newburn, University of Oregon president.

The State Dental association and the advisory council of the dental school had requested that the school be placed under the direct control of the state system of higher education.

Plans for a one-year anniversary SU birthday celebration Nov. 3, selection of delegates for the regional conference of student unions to be held on campus, and reports from Don Zavin, personnel committee chairman, and Clyde Fahlman, directorate chairman, were also discussed by the board.

The board voted to change the name of the interview and referral committee to the personnel committee.

None From Health and PE

No persons have applied for the health and physical education position on the board. The original call for petitions brought no response from either school, and an effort was made to secure applicants through the deans. This resulted in Miss Grondahl's petition, but four persons recommended by Ralph W. Leighton, dean of the school of health and physical education, were unable to apply because of participation in varsity sports.

Original proposal to find out what reasons might be behind the lack of petitioning for the two posts was made by Alburey Castell, head of the philosophy department, and one of the two faculty members on the board. Only other major suggestion in the discussion was to present the facts of the situation to University president H. K. Newburn, made by Paul S. Dull, associate professor of political science and history, the other faculty member.

Original Suggestions Revised

Earlier suggestions were made to (1) investigate only the selection problem in the school of health and physical education and (2) to study the problems in the two schools. A committee will be selected to investigate the problems in all schools, and the one journalism petition, if found qualified, will fill that position.

Plans were set by the board to give free pieces of an SU birthday cake to members of the University family in the Student Union after the Idaho game Nov. 3.

Number of delegates to the regional conference of student unions, to be held Nov. 16 and 17, is restricted to four. Discussion of the matter by the board centered around how many persons were to be selected from the directorate, how many from the board itself, and who those selected should be. The matter was tabled.

New Grade Policy Comes Before IFC

The Interfraternity council will meet at 7:30 p.m. today in the Student Union to discuss a more stable policy for required grades for fraternity initiation, IFC President Dick McLaughlin announced.

Since the enactment of deferred living, initiation grade requirements have changed several times.

The IFC will also continue plans for the fraternity-sorority Halloween party scheduled for Oct. 31.

Ushers Meet Today

University theater ushers are requested by Harry Trimborn, house manager, to meet in the Green room at 4:30 p.m. today.

It Works Like This

KWAX PERSONNEL Rob Scott and Diane Dunn get pointers on operation of radio station's transmitter from Ansel Resler, left, instructor in speech and radio. The two students will learn workings of transmitter before being assigned as operators.

—Emerald Photo by Pete Moe