College Officials

A conference "bull session" is scheduled for 3 p.m. with Gordon Rutherford, director of teacher placement of Washington State college, serving as referee. John Lee, director of placement at Montana State college; Harlow Campbell, director, educational field service, University of Idaho; Thomas R. Cole, director of teacher placement, University of Washington; and Bill Sampson, director of teacher placement, Southern Oregon college of education, will act as starters. This session will end the Friday activity.

At 8 a.m. Saturday morning a group breakfast will be held at the Eugene hotel and reports from various committees will be given after which the conference will be adjourned.

Chief Makes Sure

COVENTRY, R. I. —(U.P.)—Fire Chief Elmer A. Capwell has made sure that fire alarm boxes are seen in his district at night. He has painted the word (Fire) in large luminous letters on all boxes.

Cop Gets Robbed

NAUGATUCK, Conn. —(U.P.)—When it stopped raining, Patrolman Howard Sagendorf hung his rubber raincoat on a fence and continued directing traffic. In the 10 minutes he was gone, someone stole the coat.

ATO's Drop Sammies

(Continued from page five) Tekes were doing a lot of blasting. The Phi Sigs were the ones that were collecting the points. Phi Sigma Kappa ended up on top of the heap with a tally of 15-5 and 15-8.

One thing that has helped speed up the games is the modification of the underhanded return rule. Previously if a player hit the ball with both hands below the waist, it was called lifting. This made it practically impossible to recover a smash hit. Under this rule the only way there was of returning a low ball was one handed, thus reducing accuracy and control.

This rule has been modified so that any player can raise the ball with an underhanded hit as long as he does in no way throw it. Now the games can be played much more efficiently, resulting in a much more exciting brand of volleyball.

Ray Anthony Plays Tonight at Armory

Out of the Cellar

(Continued from page five) the SAE's took three from Theta Chi. This still leaves Kappa Sigma and Theta Chi on top of the league with 13 wins and 7 losses. Phi Kappa Alpha and Pi Kappa Phi, however, are closing in with 12 wins against 8 defeats. Homes for Kappa Sig rolled the high game and high scores for the night, a 212 and 554 respectively.

Gamma is on top of the Inter-dorm league with a 12-4 record. Hot on their tail, however, are Minturn with 11 wins against 5 losses and Alpha with 10 wins and 6 losses. These teams go into play tonight to battle for the top spot.

Dorm Problems

(Continued from page one) complaint was that the food was not quite as good as the students felt it should be. Ellingson explained that the dormitory cafeterias are hampered by the lack of funds in the preparation and serving of the food. One council member expressed the belief that the food will get better as the school year progresses.

Plants Run Fever

BERKELEY, Calif. —(U.P.)—Sick plants run a temperature. Temperatures of diseases plant leaves run from 0.1 degrees to 2 degrees centigrade above healthy plants, according to C. E. Yarwood, professor of plant pathology at the University of California.
