Arms Control Plan Announced By Big Three, Proposed to Russia

Compiled by Mary Ann Mowery

(From the Wires of Associated Press and United Press)

President Truman Wednesday challenged Russia to agree to the global arms control plan which he has proposed as the best way to prevent a third world war.

- 1. An international census of troops, military equipment and arms factories.
2. U.N. teams to inspect all land, sea and air military establishments.
3. Limitations on armies, navies, air forces and heavy armaments industries on a percentage basis.

The plan is considered a bid to halt the cold war during the new United Nations session and is expected to be vetoed by Russia, although Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky indicated yesterday the Russian government will devote "serious study" to proposals for direct negotiations with Stalin.

The big three have stated that the plan "cannot be put into effect while the U.N. forces are resisting aggression in Korea."

While in Korea truce negotiations . . .

. . . are at a standstill in view of the Communist buffer zone proposal. Allied negotiators have insisted that fighting must continue until a full armistice is signed.

An added clause in the proposal said that any side proposing an adjustment of that line should give its proposal if there is no agreement by the opposite side.

The battlefield news indicated . . .

. . . Allied infantrymen have withdrawn from a strategic hill in western Korea. The withdrawal was made Thursday—Korean time—in the face of an overwhelming Communist attack.

Allied troops dug in on another hill near the Imjim river, west of Yonchon. They beat off a night assault by screaming, whistle-blowing Chinese Reds.

In the air three dogfights over North Korea matched 114 Communist jets against allied jets, however, no damage was inflicted by either side.

American casualties in Korea . . .

. . . now total 97,514, the Department of Defense reported today. This is an increase of 1,922 over a week ago.

The total includes 16,480 deaths, 68,611 wounded, 173 prisoners, 2364 missing, and 1,386 once missing and since found.

The Republican's gained one . . .

. . . Congressional seat and several mayors in scattered off-year elections. Charges of corruption in the government, which is expected to be an issue in the 1952 presidential campaign, figured heavily in the results.

As a result of the G. O. P. sweep, the new lineup in the House is 233 Democrats, 200 Republicans, one Independent and one vacancy. The vacancy, caused by the death of Rep. Karl Stefan (R-Neb.) will be filled in another special election Dec. 4.

Churchill's new government . . .

. . . announced a yearly cut of $980,000,000 Wednesday in British imports from countries outside its pound sterling trade area. The move is meant to show a drift toward national bankruptcy.

Chancellor of the Exchequer R. A. Butler, outlining the government program, said a quota system would be set up for imports from the United States, European and the non-sterling countries. This is intended to decrease the number of imports so that they better balance the number of exports.

A blanket of snow smothered . . .

. . . the center of the nation Wednesday in a storm reported to be the worst ever to hit this section of the country this early in the fall. The U. S., all the way from the Great Lakes to Oklahoma, was affected by the storm.

Chicago was choked almost to a halt by nine inches of snow. The weather bureau predicted it would reach 12 inches before it stopped. . . Louis where it is still snowing, is already over the one-foot mark. Fatalities since the start of the old wave climbed to 218, with 160 of these in traffic accidents.

Students See Good Turnout For Bonfire

By Sue Lichty

If today's sampling of student opinion is any indication, Oregon's Homecoming bonfire Friday night, Nov. 23, will be well attended.

Most students interviewed said they will be back at school on the Friday night of Homecoming weekend to attend the planned events.

When quizzed, "Are you coming back Friday night of Homecoming weekend?" students answered:

Robert T. Morris—sophomore in business administration — "Of course! I'm coming back because I have so much school spirit!"

Barbara Bates—5th year student in interior design—"I'll be back for the rally. Students should support the school during Homecoming in welcoming back the alums. If none of the students come back it would be a very dull Homecoming for them."

Jay Withington — freshman in liberal arts—"Yes! I'll help guard the bonfire if there are more than a few there. It will have to be me and 500 other guys protecting it."

Ditsy Fields—freshman in liberal arts—"I love school so much I don't even think I'll go-home for Thanksgiving."

Dave Wells—freshman in business administration—"Yea! All right!"

Jane Jeldness — sophomore in pre-dentistry—"No! I'm staying home the whole vacation. I don't enjoy football and I've seen so many of those games that I'd rather stay home."

Jean Sayre—freshman in business administration—"I'm coming back to Eugene Friday so I can be here for all the activities."

Art Greisser—freshman in business administration—"I would have come back but I'm having a tooth pulled that day."

Bunny Ivory—freshman in history—"No. I am from California, and I'll be visiting friends in Washington since I can't get home. I won't be back until after the entire vacation."

Margaret Dickey—sophomore in liberal arts—"I'll probably go to the bonfire rally, because I'm staying in Eugene the whole vacation."

This sign language can save your life

• Right turn

• Left turn, pulling away from curb, or backing up

• Stopping or slowing down

If other drivers were mind-readers, you wouldn't have to give hand signals. Unfortunately they're not. So when you make a sudden turn or stop without signalling, you run the risk of an accident.

Protect your car and yourself by learning the correct, legal signals and using them properly. In this way you tell other drivers what you are going to do before you do it.

Remember—hand signals are more important today because there are more cars than ever on the road. Don't take a chance—make hand signalling a habit.

Be careful—the life you save may be your own!
