

Hard-Fought Battles Feature IM Volleyball

Hard fought battles, but decisive victories, highlighted volleyball action Thursday. Sigma Nu, Alpha Tau Omega, Theta Chi, Sigma Alpha Mu, and Sigma Hall notched wins. The Betas won over Pi Kappa Phi by forfeit. All Thursday's games were "A" team contests.

One of the top contests pitted ATO against the Phi Deltas. After winning the first tilt handily, by a score of 15-8, the ATO team was stunned as the Phi Deltas suddenly came to life and racked up an 11-3 lead in the second clash. Catching fire, the ATO's took the next 11 points—the Phi Deltas taking a time out at that point. Although Phi Delta Theta tied it at 15, ATO was not to be denied, and paced by Bob Ward and Pat Caldwell, they come away with the victory, 17-15.

Today's IM Schedule

- 8:50 Court 40—Alpha Hall A vs. Legal Eagles A
- 8:50 Court 43—Minturn Hall A vs. Stan Ray Hall A
- 4:35 Court 40—Sherry Ross Hall A vs. Gamma Hall A
- 4:35 Court 43—Sederstrom Hall A vs. French Hall A
- 5:15 Court 40—Nestor Hall A vs. Cherney Hall A
- 5:15 Court 43—Sigma Alpha Epsilon B vs. Phi Kappa Psi B

During eight years of college coaching, Bill Murray, now head man at Duke University, won 49 games, lost 16, and tied 2.

Even though the Phi Psi's were the flashier in spiking and serving, teamwork paid off for Sigma Nu as they racked up two 15-11 victories. Every ball was set up to the Phi Psi spikers, and although they really slammed it, the ball continually went beyond the baseline. Sigma Nu came from behind in the second game.

Don Olds and little Al Barzman paved the way as the Sammies edged the Sig Eps, 17-15 and 15-8. Not more than 3 points separated the teams all through the first game. Lack of height proved to be no handicap for the Sammies.

Theta Chi thoroughly trounced Kappa Sigma in their first tilt, 15-0. But the second game was a different story as the Kappa Sigs found themselves and ran up a quick lead. The Bill Harker, Al Simmons, and Bill Crandall-paced Theta Chi's suddenly came to the party, however, and finally won a 15-13 thriller.

Shaw to Quarterback Terrier Tilt Saturday

The Oregon Webfoots took the first of two light workouts on the Fenway park turf in Boston Thursday, in preparation for their Saturday tilt with the Boston University Terriers.

As a tentative starting lineup for the Terrier game, Coach Len Casanova named the following men:

At the ends will be Junior Ken Swietzer, and Freshman Hal Reeve. Holding down the tackle slots will be Bill Bates, 215-pound Soph, and Senior Mike Sikora.

Big Gerry Moshofsky and husky little Harry Mondale will operate at guards for the Ducks, while Dick Patrick will add his 207-pound heft to the forward wall at center.

Shaw to Start

In the backfield, freshman sensation George Shaw gets the nod at quarterback. Shaw will undoubtedly see duty on both offense and defense, as he now leads the nation in pass interceptions with 10. He has just three more to go to break the national record of 12, set by Hank Rich of Arizona State last year.

At the halfback posts will be 165-pound Senior Tommy Edwards, and Tom Lyon, speedy 191-pound Sophomore.

An ex-Eugene High School star, Sophomore Cecil Hodges will open the tilt at fullback.

Hal Dunham, the other half of the Duck quarterback passing combo which leads the PCC, will probably see some action. Dunham missed the Duck's 14-13 victory over Idaho, because of an ankle injury. Senior guard Don McCauley, is also ready for action after nursing a leg injury for several weeks.

Famous Golden Greek

On the Boston club, one of the men the Ducks will be watching closely is Harry (Golden Greek) Aggannis, one of the nation's top southpaw passers.

Aggannis ranks seventh in the nation in passing, with 72 completions in 127 attempts for 922 yards. He has thrown eight touchdown passes.

End Bob Capuano has been the target for most of Aggannis' tosses, and has caught 26 aerials for 322 yards and five touchdowns.

Johnny Kastan, 190-pound fullback, is the sparkplug of the Terrier running attack. He has gained 676 yards in 87 carries for an average of 7.8 yards per carry.

Fast, shifty Jim Hanson, and line-crashing Tom Wallace hold down the halfback posts for Biff Donelli's Terriers.

Four-Three Record

Boston has a record this season of four wins and three losses. They have defeated Louisville 39-7, Camp Lejune 16-0, New York University last weekend by a 52-6 count; and boast a startling upset victory over the COP Tigers. Oregon lost 34-6 to these same Tigers.

The Boston losses have been to William and Mary's by a 34-23 score; to Penn State by a 40-34 margin, and to Temple, 20-13.

New Scout Plan

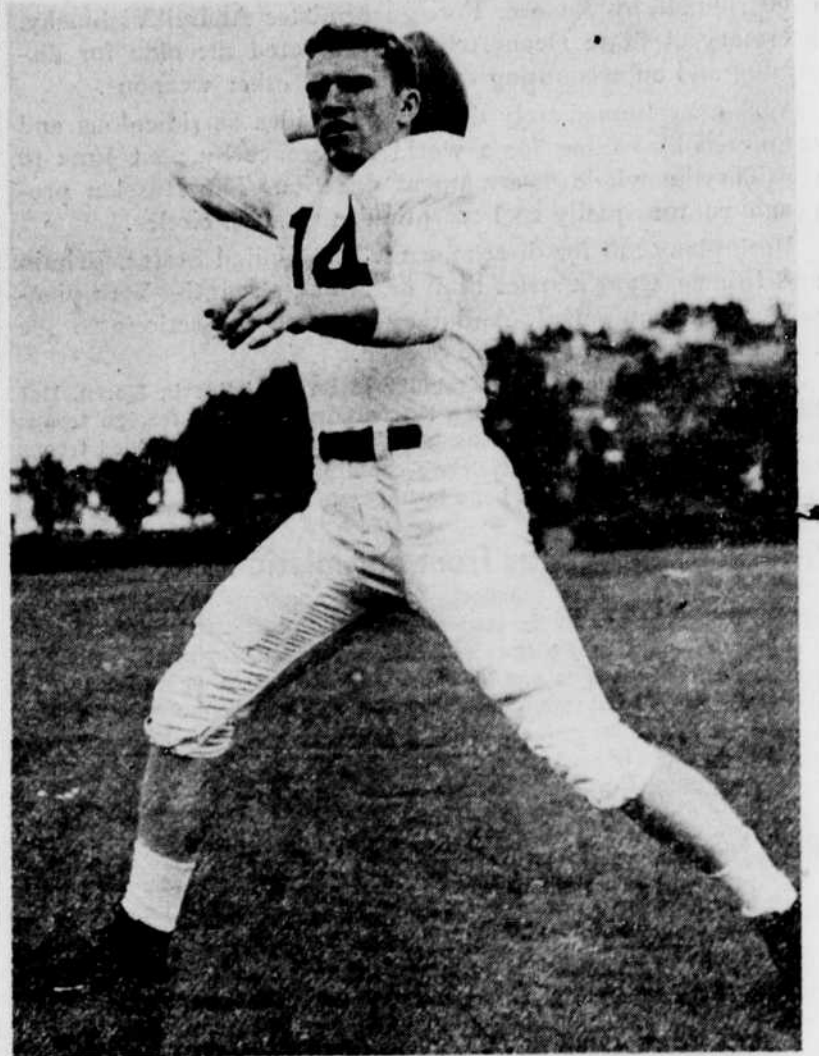

A new scouting idea was tried for the game. Both teams scouted each other only once, saving each school about $350. Movies were exchanged between the schools in place of further scouting.

Gene Harlow, Duck line coach, scouted the Terriers' 52-6 victory over New York University last Saturday. His scouting reports reveal the Boston offense is based on a very good pass attack and handoff rushing plays.

Their total yardage in six games is nearly equal between passing and running. Basically, their offense is of the winged-T variety. Their running attack is based on quick handoff plays to Fullback Kastan, and Halfback Hanson.

Defensively, the Terriers have favored a 5-3-2-1 formation, with occasional use of the six-man line. Their line appeared to Harlow to be quick and aggressive. On pass defense, Hanson, Lucian, and

Will Call Signals

GEORGE SHAW, ace Duck Quarterback who leads the nation in pass interceptions, will start for Len Casanova's Webfoots in Boston Saturday. Freshman Shaw will try to intercept some of Harry Aggannis's aerials to maintain his leadership in that category.

Schultz have a fair record against enemy tosses, but Harlow felt that the Duck passing attack should have a chance to function against them.

The tentative offensive starting lineup for the Terriers:

Oates and Capuano at ends; Fraser and Barbagallo at tackles; Cataloni and Mauroopoulos at guards; and Pappas at center.

In the backfield, Aggannis will open at quarterback, Hanson and Salisbury at the halfback spots, and Kastan will operate at fullback.

The Sigma Hall-Campbell Club fray was the only one in which three games were necessary. Sigma won the first with no trouble, 15-3. The next encounter went to Campbell Club, 15-10; then Sigma grabbed the rubber game, 15-5.

Women's Tourney In Third Round

The women's intramural volleyball tournament, which began last Tuesday, Oct. 23, is now entering the third round of playoffs.

The tournament divided into four leagues with four teams represented apiece, includes 16 teams in all. The results of the playoffs so far are as follows: League 1, Highland over Delta Gamma; Hendricks over Chi Omega; Highland over Hendricks; Chi Omega over Delta Gamma by default; League 2, Alpha Omicron Pi over Alpha Chi Omega; combined team of Kappa Kappa Gamma, Susan Campbell, and Carson 3 over Ann Judson; Alpha Omicron Pi over combined team; Ann Judson over Alpha Chi Omega; League 3, Alpha Delta Pi over Zeta Tau Alpha; Rebec house over Carson 4 and 5; Carson 4 and 5 over Alpha Delta Pi; Rebec house over Zeta Tau Alpha; Carson 4 and 5 over Zeta Tau Alpha; League 4, Alpha Gamma Delta over University house by default; Orides over Gamma Phi Beta and Orides over Alpha Gamma Delta.

Playoffs will continue until Nov. 28, at which time the winner will be decided upon.

Women's Hockey Teams in Tourney

The two women's hockey teams who returned from the Northwest convention Sunday night, are now participating in a tournament between themselves.

The Northwest convention which was held in Pullman, Washington included representatives from Idaho, Washington, Oregon, and Canadian schools. Oregon's two teams, the Evergreens and Cascades, came away with three losses, two wins, and one tie.

Makes Trip

BARNEY HOLLAND, reserve quarterback, made the trip to Boston to help bolster the Oregon offensive attack. Holland has performed exceptionally well for the JV team and should add strength to the Duck victory chances.
