Face-to-face Talks Planned By Truman, Churchill Soon

Compiled by Donna Lindbeck

(From the Wires of Associated Press and United Press)

President Truman has agreed to the face-to-face talks requested by Britain's Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

Word that Mr. Truman had agreed on a Washington meeting, probably sometime in January, came from Joseph Short, Presidential secretary.

There's no indication that the Washington meeting will include any other leader, such as France's Premier Plevin. Asked if Russia's Stalin might join the talks, Short said: "I've heard nothing along that line."

It is reported that Churchill will ask Mr. Truman for a closer relationship between the U.S. and Britain and more frequent meetings between Mr. Truman and Churchill. Churchill is said to be prepared to demand a greater voice for Britain in developing foreign policy involving the U.S. and Britain.

Churchill already has indicated that his country will have to try to get more financial aid from the United States.

Churchill is expected to stress that some way must be found to improve relations between Russia and the Western democracies. In the past, Churchill has advocated a top level meeting of world leaders—but President Truman has consistently opposed the idea of meeting Stalin—unless Stalin visits Washington.

Signs that the Allies had reached a point . . .

. . . where they can compromise no further marked the resumption of the deadlocked Korean truce negotiations at Panmunjom Sunday by the United Nations subcommittee.

An official spokesman hinted that allied negotiators may have made their last concession toward a compromise on the unresolved problem of where and when the Korean shooting shall stop. Further compromise might endanger the United Nations military advantage.

Allied troops beat off attacks . . .

. . . by five Communist companies in eastern Korea Sunday, while the U.S. battleship New Jersey and the heavy cruiser Toledo shelled enemy railyards near the east coast.

The 8th army said the heaviest action came northwest of the Punchbowl where three separate Red assaults of two-company strength were thrown back by Allied defenders.

Another company-sized attack beginning an hour before midnight kept up throughout the night with the Communists trying four times to dent the U.N. lines. After a night of fighting the enemy withdrew to the north.

An overwhelming victory for Pres. Peron . . .

. . . of Argentina in his bid for re-election was claimed by final editions of Buenos Aires' three afternoon newspapers Sunday. The first 5,675 of the country's 36,225 precincts gave Peron 918,403 votes to 421,697 for radical party candidate Ricardo Balbin, the President's chief opponent.

The highest religious authority . . .

. . . of the Moslem world proclaimed a "Holy War" against the British Sunday, as it did against the Jews in the Palestine fighting in 1948.

The council of Ulemas of Al Azhar university called on Moslems throughout the world "not to spare life or property" in support of Egypt's attempts to drive out the British. The appeal for the "Holy War" came as western powers announced plans to proceed with a pact to defend the Middle East with or without Egyptian aid. British troops were standing firm in the troubled Suez area.

A party-splitting free-for-all . . .

. . . could develop if Gov. Earl Warren of California jumps into the Republican presidential race.

Warren was Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's vice presidential running mate in 1948 when President Truman scored his surprise victory. Warren's candidacy, therefore, would raise immediately the question whether he would still support the policies of Dewey, follow an independent course, or possibly support the program of Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

Warren, California's most popular vote-getter, said that he may announce his decision this week. He had intended withholding it until early 1952 but said that top-ranking republicans, whom he did not name, are pressing him to act now.

Princess Elizabeth has broadcast a farewell . . .

. . . to Canada, after taking part in Armistice Day ceremonies, at St. John's New Foundland. Today she and the Duke of Edinburgh sail home on the liner Empress of Scotland.

In her broadcast, Princess Elizabeth said it was not easy to leave a country which, she said, had become a second home to her in the five-week royal tour. She paid special tribute to all Canadian children. She said: "For as long as I live, I shall remember and cherish the greetings which came to us from these young people."

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 28...

THE OVENBIRD

Past Grand Master of the Royal Order of Gourmets and Raconteurs—our outspoken friend knows how to find the proof of the pudding. Especially such a thing as cigarette mildness! A "quick puff" and a "single sniff" left him hungry for facts. Smokers everywhere have tried the same tests and discovered the one true test of cigarette mildness!

It's the sensible test . . . the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke, on a day-after-day, pack-after-pack basis. No snap judgments. Once you've tried Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why . . .

After all the Mildness Tests . . .
