Borcher's Basketeers Schedule Hard Work; Hunt, Streeter Sparkle

Coach Bill Borcher's Oregon ; basketball team has only three Hank Bonneman have shown enweeks of practice left before the with the University of Portland Pilots at Portland on November 30. and December 1.

In practice sessions to date, the promise in the fast-break offensive department, but the defensive work developed sufficiently to take over has left something to be desired.

Mel Streeter, six-foot-four inch Jetterman forward, has shown well during the past week. Streeter, a lanky senior from Riverside, California, has fine speed and rebound getting ability. He has shown potential of developing to be a star in the past two seasons, and permaps his senior year will be his big one.

Hunt Sparkles

Ken Hunt, senior guard from Marshfield, has also sparkled in practice sessions. The two year letterman was the "fireman" of last year's second place Duck squad. His coolness in the clutch for a six-game invasion of Califorand playmaking ability made him | nia during the Christmas holidays. a valuable aid to Jack Keller and Mel Krause, top Duck guards in 1951.

This season Hunt should came into his own as the only experienced back court man the Ducks possess. In 1947 Hunt played on Coach Borcher's state championship hoop team at Marshfield high.

Agganis Leads Boston As Ducks Topple 35-6 very poor day. In the first half the, the Oregon 19 yard line. Charlie farthest they could penertate into Schultz took another Agganis pass.

Harry Agganis, the "Golden Greek" from Boston University, lived up to his press Saturday, as he lead his mates to a 35-6 triumph over the again outclassed Webfoots of Oregon before 8203 paying customers in Boston's Fenway park.

Agganis completed seven passes out of twelve attempts to acount for 109 yards, but he also excelled in running and play-calling ability at his quarterback spot.

The Boston team scored once in the first period, twice in the second, and once in each of the final two periods to put the game on ice.

Oregon's only scoring effort The first Oregon home game came at the beginning of the fourth Dunham, who completed passes series will be against Utah on period. With the Ducks behind 28-0, Emmett Williams, junior guard, intercepted an Agganis pass on the Arthur Court for a pair of tilts Oregon 35 and sprinted back 47 Anderson. yards to the Boston 18.

Ashworth Gets Two

Then Duck Halfback Bob Ashworth hit center for two yards, and the Ducks picked up five yards when the Terriers were penalized for delaying the game. Sophomore Halfback Cecil Hodges hit left tackle for eight more Oregon yards. This put the Ducks on the Boston three, and they were not to be denied.

With a first and ten to work with, Hodges tried the center of the Boston line and gained exactly nothing. The Oregon backfield was caught in motion on the play, and it was first down back on the Terrier eight. Hal Dunham failed in a pass attempt to End Ken Sweitzer and it was second and eight on the Boston eight yard mark.

Then Don Sloan ran wide to the right from his halfback post, cut in, and went over for the TD after a key block by Ted Anderson. Harry Mondale's place kick attempt failed as the ball hit the crossbar.

Shaw Tops PCC Mark

Several minutes later, another bright spot came for Oregon when George Shaw intercepted a pass by Terrier quarterback O'Connell to top the PCC record of ten set by Webfoot Jake Leicht in 1945. Shaw's 11 interceptions are only two short of the national record of 13, set in 1949 by Hank Rich, formerly of Arizona State and now of the LA Rams.

Offensively, the Ducks had a

This drive came shortly after the Ducks had scored their TD at the beginning of the fourth period. The Ducks had kicked off, but regained the ball after Don Hedgepeth recovered a Terrier fumble on the Duck 43.

Duck Drive Starts

The Ducks seemingly took fire and started a drive which took them to the Boston 22, where Ted Anderson fell three yards short of getting a first down. Spearheading this 35 yard march were Hal zer; Cecil Hodges, who made runs of nine, three, and two yards, and

The first Boston score came 13 minutes and 22 seconds of the first quarter. An Agganis run for 19 yards, and a dash by Chuck Hanson for 19 set up the scoring play; a pass from Agganis to Fullback Johnny Kastan which was good for 19 more yards. Titus Plomaritus, who kicked four of the five BU conversions, split the crossbars to make the count 7-0.

Stoutt Gets Fumble

In the second quarter one BU drive was stopped by Duck Dick Stoutt who recovered a fumble on the Oregon six. But the Terriers took the ball after Oregon was forced to punt out, and George Schultz went through right guard on a trap play for 45 yards and the second score.

The Terriers scored again several minutes later when they took a Monte Brethauer punt on their own 36. Kastan started things off with a 20 yard gallop, followed several plays later by a pass from Agganis to Hanson on the Duck 25. Later Agganis uncorked the same pass which scored earlier to Kastan, and he was stopped on the three. Halfback Hanson plunged over right guard to make the count 21-0 at the half.

A third-period drive netting 72 yards in eight plays made it 28-0 for the Terriers. Kastan made 57 yards of this on a delayed buck Reed. through the line which he took to

Freshman Scores

The final BU counter came with but 30 seconds remaining when Freshman Joe Terrasi went over from the one foot line, culminating a drive of 58 yards in nine plays in which Terrasi did the lion's share of the work.

Statistics showed the Boston team out front in every department. First downs were fairly even with 16 for Boston to 13 for Oregon. But the Terriers made them when it counted. Boston gained 392 yards rushing and 133 passing as against 86 rushing and 58 passing for the Ducks. The Terriers also lost the unusual total of 115 yards by penalities.

Duck Coach Len Casanova had praise for the work of Dick Pat-rick at center, and Freshman Em-Hal Reeve.

Agganis Praised

For the Boston team, he considered Aggamis to be one of the better quarterbacks he had seen in recent years.

"He's like Frankie Albert; he can do everything and he is dangerous no matter how much of a hole you think you have him in."

An example of Agganis' sterling play was a 38 yard punt on the dead run which got Boston out of a bad hole in the early stages of the contest.

Georgia Tech, unbeaten but tied once, accepted an Orange Bowl bid last night after its 34-7 victory over VMI and now must await only its opponent.

Tennessee practically wrapped up one of the Sugar Bowl invitations with an easy 60-14 victory over Washington & Lee and Maryland rolled over Navy, 40-21 to remain the outstanding favorite to receive the other. #### Wrong Picture

In the Friday's Emerald, a picture was published on the sports page captioned as Fullback Ray Karnofski. This was incorrect as the player was Bill Fell, halfback currently on the junior varsity squad.

Coach Gil Dobie's Cornell elevens won 26 consecutive victories, scoring 1134 points to their opponents' 81. Dobie had only two losing seasons during 33 years of coaching. He coached at North Dakota State, Washington, Navy, Cornell, and Boston College.

Cross-country

Wayne Reiser was the winner of a three-and-one-half mile intrasquad run of the Oregon crosscountry team held Friday afternoon on Eugene's Laurelwood golf course.

Al Martin finished second, Al Mundle was third. Fred Colver was fourth, and Gary Garrett was fifth. No time were available for the meet.

Jack Hutchins and Fred Turner were other members of Coach Bill Bowerman's cross-country team who did not compete in the meet.

No letters are given in the sport at Oregon, but many members of the team are varsity trackmen for Bowerman in the spring.
