Students Like Queen Contest Emerald Finds

By Sue Lichy

"Do you believe that contests such as the ones for Moonlight Girl, Sweetheart of Sigma Chi, Homecoming Queen, etc. are worth while?" students were asked.

Most of those questioned said they believed it was a good idea to have such contests. They felt that they help the campus to get to know it's "queens," and also provided the girls with a chance to meet more fellows.

Criticisms, however, were given. Some believe the methods of selection are unfair. Others said there are too many contests of this sort.

Ann Hopkins—freshman in business administration — "The girls get to know a lot of boys through such contests. There ought to be more where freshmen can participate."

Hal Davis—senior in science — "The more the better. That way everybody gets into the act!"

Jo Sloan—sophomore in liberal arts — "I think we should have a lot of them. Also the idea of having fellows put up candidates is a fine one."

Ben Salvon—sophomore in business administration — "There are too many! The same girls always get the honors."

Barbara Nichols — freshman in liberal arts — "Terrific idea! The girls get to know more people!"

Jim Hanns—5th year student in architecture — "Fine deal! Every girl on campus has a chance to be a princess or queen!"

Barbara Keelen — sophomore in liberal arts — "Most of the campus selections are as fair as possible. They can be carried to an extreme, however, and often there are too many all coming at the same time."

Merle Davis—junior in business administration—"Great! Gives all the good looking girls on campus the opportunity to be a queen."

Stan Gottschalk—sophomore in business administration—"Cut out all but one, and have one big contest."

Janet Souther—freshman in liberal arts—"The some kids get up for everything, and they always have the same judges."

Judges Chosen In Song Contest

Judges for the Homecoming song contest sponsored by Phi Mu Alpha have been selected, chairman Jim Wilson has announced. Frances Baum and Sally Lichy were chosen from Mu Phi Epsilon, women's music honorary; Joyce Sauer and Janice Evans from Phi Beta, women's speech and music honorary; and Jim Wilson and Ray Johnson from Phi Mu Alpha, men's music honorary.

Winner of the contest will receive a $5 record album, Wilson stated. Words are not essential for the contest but they would be appreciated, he said. The song is to have a lyric verse and a rousing chorus, both original.

Deadline for the contest is 5 p.m. Friday. All entries may be turned in to 303 Student Union.

Nickle Raise Asked For Pay Phones

A boost in pay phone charges from a nickel to a dime will be discussed by the Public Utilities commission in a hearing at 10 a.m. Tuesday in Salem.

The raise, which would cost Oregon students living on campus an additional five cents for local calls, has been requested by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company.

Seattle has already instituted the 10 cent rate.

Oregon Dates Citizenship Study Nov. 27-Dec. 1

Educators from Oregon's secondary schools and Columbia university representatives will attend the Citizen Education Project Workshop when it meets on the campus Nov. 27 to Dec. 1.

William S. Vincent, executive officer of the Citizenship Education project of Teachers college, Columbia university, will be here for the opening day. Also attending will be a team of group discussion speakers and leaders from Columbia.

The Oregon workshop is one of several being held in various sections of the country this year. The project began with a grant of money to Columbia university for conducting public school workshops to stress character education and training for democracy.

Coordinator of the workshop is J. F. Rummel, assistant professor of education.

Pledge Class Won In AWS Auction

The Sigma Chi sophomore class went to the Gamma Phi Betas for $41 and the Alpha Chi Omega pledge class to Phi Delta Theta for $15 at the annual AWS auction Friday.

Held annually to add to the Associated Women Students scholarship fund, the auction made $89 all together, only $2 under last year, Sue Lichy, AWS congress president and chairman for the event, said.

Bob Chambers was the auctioneer and sold everything from a typewriter for $12 to a Chinese backscratcher, amount not specified. The auction, scheduled to be held on the Student Council porch, was moved inside to the Fishbowl where a "huge crowd" watched the proceedings, Miss Lichy reported. The fraternity and sorority groups sold at the auction will serve dinner and present entertainment for their purchasers.

Journalism Honoraries Meet Foreign Students

Foreign students in the journalism school and members of the two campus national journalism fraternities got together Friday for a bull session in the Student Union Dads' lounge.

Students from Germany, Austria, Holland, Japan and India, and members of Sigma Delta Chi and Theta Sigma Phi, men's and women's journalism fraternities, respectively, each introduced themselves and the foreign students spoke briefly about journalism in their own countries.

Plans are to make the informal gatherings a regular event during the year, Bill Clothier, SDX president, and Gretchen Grondahl, Theta Sig president, said.

PE School Sets Three Day Meet

Bernice Moss, president of the American Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation, will arrive on campus today for a three day meeting with graduate students and staff members of the health and physical education school.

Two social events have been planned for Miss Moss, who will be here until Friday when she will go to Salem to address a convention of the Oregon Health, Physical Education and Recreation association.

A buffet dinner in her honor will be given at the home of Mrs. Jennelle Moorhead, associate professor of health education, Tuesday evening. Wednesday afternoon a tea sponsored by professional women students and members of the staff will be held for Miss Moss in Gerlinger hall.

Penn State limited opponents to an average of 1.78 yards per pass attempt during the 1953 season.

Send-off Rally Planned for Thursday; Yell Squad Schedules Berkeley Trip

Plans for activities in connection with the California game were made by the rally board at a meeting Saturday morning.

A send-off rally for the team will be held at the Eugene railroad station Thursday evening at 7 p.m. Men's houses are to pick up the women's houses they are paired with at 6:50 p.m. House pairings will be announced Tuesday.

The rally board decided to act as a transportation headquarters for those wishing rides to the game and those who can furnish them. Students with cars or who wish rides may call Bob Brittain at 5-9698 or Paul Weller at 5-9554.

Members of the rally squad were given $80 by the board to help with expenses in making the trip to Berkeley.

Van Bruggen To Give Tracer Study Lecture

J. T. Van Bruggen, assistant professor of biochemistry at the University of Oregon Medical school, will discuss tracer studies in human metabolism today at 8 p.m. in the Student Union.

The lecture is sponsored by the Oregon chapter of Sigma Xi, science honorary, and is open to the public.
