Alumni Association Organized in 1880

By Donna Hart

year 1880, a group of Oregon grad- act in such matters as contacting uates and undergraduates got together and decided to unite the alums of that time and of the future. Ten members of the classes of 1878, 1879 and 1880 held a meeting in Deady hall and founded the University of Oregon Alumni association

Since the time of its founding the Alumni association has grown to 6,000 active members, and a total body of 30,000. This group includes both graduates and non-

The actual organization of the salt and pepper suit, needs slight association is comprised of an executive committee of 12 persons, headed by a president and vice president who are elected officers. Les Anderson, whose office is located on the messanine of the Student Union, is secretary of the organization. He is a graduate of the class of 1943 and was ASUO president in 1942-43. He has been secretary of the Alumni association at Oregon since 1946.

Thirty-six county directors support the executive committee-one for each county in the state. These directors take care of all alumni activities in their particular section.

In addition, there are 23 alumni clubs outside of Oregon, located from Boston, Mass. and New York city to Honolulu and Manila in the Philippines. Most of the clubs, however, are in the larger cities in California.

are key persons in communities around the country who operate in Quite a long time ago, in the an unofficial capacity. These people students, athletes, etc.

> Each year during the month of February, all alumni leaders visit the Oregon campus for a two day session. This is called an alumni leaders conference. Here facts about the University are presented to them to carry back to their respective sections. At this session also they are carefully informed and brought up to date on the activities of the Alumni association.

Publish Old Oregon

The activities of this group are many. Bi-monthly they publish an alumni magazine, Old Oregon, which has been ranked high as a publication. This magazine is edited almost entirely by a student staff. Most colleges maintain a full-time staff.

They also sponsor alumni tours which go into communities in the state for the purpose of bringing the Alumni association closer together. This year for the first time they are going up and down the Pacific Coast. University leaders. such as faculty members and coaches, go along with members of the staff on these tours. They hold meetings in the various places which they visit. In Portland, the Portland Alumni institute holds a similar program on a larger scale.
