

Meeting Scheduled During Vacation On Kansas Campus

The 16th Student Volunteer Movement Quadrennial conference will be held Dec. 27 to Jan. 1 at Lawrence, Kansas, on the University of Kansas campus. The theme of the meeting is "Christians in a World in Struggle". There will be outstanding leaders from all over the world at the conference, according to Jack Merner, executive secretary of the YMCA. Any student who wishes may attend the conference at a cost of $35 plus the cost of transportation. More than 2000 students are expected to attend and it is hoped that many foreign students will attend also, Merner said.

YWCA Sponsors Talk On British by Kroll

"The Crisis in British Society" will be discussed by Morton Kroll, political science instructor, in the first of this year's series of YWCA sponsored student-faculty fireside to be held at his home tonight. Those attending the informal discussion will meet at 7 p.m. at the YWCA before leaving for Kroll's home. Persons not previously contacted who would be interested in attending may contact Gretchen Grondahl, YWCA social chairman. Two coats of lacquer applied hot to automobile bodies by a new method equal three applied cold in the ordinary way, giving a substantial saving in time needed for finishing.

Manager to Talk On Future Jobs

B. F. Mullaney, personnel manager of Crown-Zellerbach paper company will be on the campus Thursday to discuss opportunities with Crown-Zellerbach, particularly in accounting.

Students interested may sign up for individual interviews in the graduate placement office and also attend a group meeting Thursday afternoon in the school of business.

Jobs are available with the Crown-Zellerbach company for December graduates and also for graduates later in the year. Any accounting students who are interested, whether sophomore, junior, or senior, are urged to discuss these positions with Mr. Mullaney, Karl Onthank, scholarship chairman, said.

A number of Oregon graduates are now employed by the Crown-Zellerbach company.

The meeting Thursday is an opportunity for students interested in accounting to obtain information about accounting positions with one of the largest paper companies in the country, Onthank said.

Silicone rubbers are now made in sponge form and have resistance to heat and cold superior to plantation rubber sponge, while nearly equalling it in other properties.

Brunton to Speak At Real Estate Club

Gordon Brunton, president of the Eugene Realty board, will discuss the real estate field and its problems before members of the school of business administration's real estate club at a meeting of the group at 7 p.m. Thursday in the Student Union.

All interested students may attend, according to Howard Mader, member of the club.

Officers will be elected at the meeting, Mader said; the club has no officers at the present time.

YM Fall Party Set In Gerlinger Annex

The YMCA Fall Party will be held at 8 p.m. Friday in Gerlinger Annex. Members of the YMCA and all students who have indicated an interest in the Y are invited to the party.

Dancing, card games, entertainment and refreshments will highlight the evening according to Jack Merner, executive secretary of the YMCA. Jim Hetrick is chairman of the event.

All persons who are planning to attend are asked to call the YMCA, extension 429, by 5 p.m. Thursday, Merner said.

Clubs Plan to Hear Geology Professor From South Africa

Lester C. King, professor of geology at the University of Natal, Durban, South Africa, will talk on "Continental Geomorphology" at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Student Union. The talk is sponsored by the Condon Club, geology group, and Sigma Xi, national science honorary.

King will discuss the development and determination of the ages of plainlands, their multiplication under earth movements and correlation of the main plainlands of the world.

King is recognized as one of the world's foremost authorities on the theory of continental drift, according to E. M. Baldwin, associate professor of geology. He has published several papers on the theory which contends that once all the continents on the earth were one huge land mass and that through the ages the continents have drifted apart.

King is making a tour of the United States and Canada under the sponsorship of the lecture committee of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists.
