UO Phone Group

it would be up to the University whether or not to request removal of the pay phones, Kading said.

Houses Save Money
Kading, in a survey of 21 living organizations, found that the houses are saving money on the pay phones—money which they previously lost when many long distance telephone calls could not be attributed to the individuals who made them, the cost then being borne by the house. The University is also saving money—about $5,000 this year—because of not having to pay for personnel for the dormitory extension phones.

The cost is being borne by the students, Kading said, and the purpose of the committee is to represent the students at the Salem meeting.

Power of President

Joanne Sloan and suggestion that Athletic Chairman Jack Smith investigate the events related to the taking of student body cards at the Oregon-OSC game.

Senator Arlo Giles stated he had a signed statement by a University co-ed that she had to pay $3 to get her athletic card back. Others "in line" had seen money paid to get cards back, he said.

Appointed to the Senate constitution investigation committee, designed to look into questions of constitutional revision and related subjects for the Senate, were Don Collins, chairman, Merv Hampton, Bill Frye, Helen Jackson and Jean Gould.

On the Dad's Day screening committee are Jean Hoffman, Bob Brittain, Cece Daniels and Helen Jackson. Deadline for Dad's Day petitions is 4 p.m. today.

Honor Committee
Appointed to the honor committee were Merv Hampton replacing Virginia Wright and John Beal, representing the student court, replacing Mike Adams.

The fight song written by John Epley and introduced this year, was adopted as the official Oregon fight song.

Carey also announced a $300 increase in the ASUO budget had been approved making that sum for the whole year $1840.

Another call for petitions will be made at the first of Winter Term to replace Shirley Korpela, senator-at-large, who resigned her position this week.

Georgia, Illinois, Kansas, Kentucky, Missouri, North Carolina, Texas, and Virginia each contains 100 or more counties.

Winter Term Pre-registration Ends Today

Today is the last day to register for winter term courses with the clerks of the various departments, the registrar's office reminded students.

The check with the student affairs office and fee payments may be made until Dec. 8. Students who do not wish to pay fees in advance must file their cards with the registrar's office and pick them up again for payment from Jan. 2-7.

Winter term classes will begin on Jan. 2. Registration for new students will start the same day. The last day to register or freely change classes is Jan. 16.

The first school of journalism was founded in 1908 at the University of Missouri by Walter Williams.

Sigmund Freud Is Lecture Topic

Sigmund Freud, the man and his theories, will be under discussion tonight at 7:45 p.m. in the browsing room of the Student Union.

Robert Leeper, professor of psychology will act as the discussion leader.

Freud, the Viennese physician and psychiatrist, introduced psychoanalysis into psychology at the turn of the century. He became famous for his revolutionary ideas concerning sex and is recognized today as being the foremost leader in the psychoanalytic movement.

Psychoanalysis is the method of medical treatment which attempts to give the patient a complete understanding of his deep unconscious fears, impulses, and attitudes, especially those which are related to his early childhood experiences. Sigmund Freud held, as do his followers today, that the great driving forces of humanity are unconscious systems of ideas and cravings.

The discussion is informal and will be held at the fireside of the browsing room. Coffee will be served.

AWS Plans Christmas Tea

The annual AWS Christmas tea will be held at the Delta Delta house Dec. 8 from 2 to 4 p.m.

Sororities and fraternities will have the Christmas boxes they are making up for needy Eugene families on display at the tea.

All students are invited to the affair. Faculty and townspeople will also attend.

Ancy Vincent is general chairman for the tea. Assisting her are Joan Marie Miller and Janet Wick, in charge of collections; Jo Sloan, distribution; Betsy Thayer, decoration; Doroty Carr, invitations; Virginia Means, refreshments; and Carolyn Silva, publicity.

ART BAZAAR SET IN DECEMBER

Art work by students and faculty of the school of architecture and allied arts will be sold at the annual arts bazaar in the art school Dec. 7 and 8.

The sale will be held between the hours of 7 and 11 p.m. Dec. 7 and from 1 to 5 p.m. Dec. 8.

Sponsored by the Associated Students of Architecture and Allied Arts, the bazaar will offer sculptures, ceramics, drawings, paintings, lithographs, furniture, weaving and jewelry.

Decorations in the school for the sale will be along a Christmas theme and Friday evening carols will be sung by foreign students from Germany, Norway, Latvia and Czechoslovakia in their native tongues. Coffee and doughnuts will be served.

Co-chairmen for the sale are Zdenka Pospisil, Jackie Jenson, Jack Nopp and Rex Glass.

Military Ball Set for Jan. 19

The "Little Colonel" will be chosen by a vote of those at the ball, and the other finalists will be "Little Captains."

Financial considerations eliminated the Military Ball from the 1950-51 campus social scene, but the ball has been an annual event since 1928, with the exception of the World War II years and 1950-51, according to Epley.

The annual Scabbard and Blade Military Ball will be held Jan. 19, John Epley, captain of the campus ROTC honorary, announced Thursday afternoon.

Stating that the ball will be the first University formal dance of the school year, Epley added that women's living organizations have been requested to select candidates for the position of "Little Colonel."

Supreme Court Judge To Speak Tuesday

"An Effective Policy for European Cooperation" will be the topic of Oregon Supreme Court Justice James T. Brand's talk at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the music school auditorium.

The talk is sponsored by the Atlantic Union committee and Pi Sigma Alpha, national political science honorary.

Brand was appointed as an associate justice to the Oregon Supreme Court in 1941. In 1947, he served as a judge on the military tribunal for the trial of major war criminals in Nuremberg, Germany.

He was admitted to the Oregon Bar in 1914. Brand has had a private practice in Coos Bay and served as city attorney there. He was also a circuit judge and president of the Coos Bay National bank.

Book Display, Lecture To Honor Dickens

A collection of books written by and concerning Charles Dickens will be on display in the browsing room Monday and throughout the pre-Christmas season.

The books are on display in connection with the lecture Wednesday on Charles Dickens.

Lecturer will be Dr. F. G. Black, professor of English. Dr. N. H. Oswald, assistant professor of English, will act as discussion leader.

"Charles Dickens" will be last browsing room lecture this year.
