Doctors warn smokers about throats. Kaywoodie Pipes have Three Throat-Guards to give extra throat protection.

FIRST THROAT-GUARD: "Wider-opening" bit. Spreads out smoke, helps cool it. No hot smoke to irritate throat or "bite" tongue.

SECOND THROAT-GUARD: Exclusive, patented "DRINKLESS" device. Cuts down irritating tars... keeps every pipeful lit longer.

THIRD THROAT-GUARD: World's best imported briar. It's specially heat-resistant and porous. Makes smoke cooler...less irritating.

GUARD THAT THROAT, DOCTORS SAY!

Only KAYWOODIE pipes have these Three Throat-Guards for extra throat protection!

Don't gamble with your throat! Kaywoodie has three Throat-Guards working for you, protecting your throat as no other smoke can. They reduce tars and make smoke cooler.

And just hold that Kaywoodie! Feel the satin-smooth briar. It's the world's best. Admire it as you would the finest piece of sculpture.

And what a real smoke a Kaywoodie gives you... what a man's smoke! Plus so much extra throat protection!

Kaywoodie imports the finest briar—and then throws 90% of it away. Keeps only the finest 10%, the very heart, for cool, sweet smoking.

Little to Attend AIA Conference

Sidney W. Little, dean of the school of architecture and allied arts, is scheduled to leave Friday on a seven-day trip to New Orleans and the final meeting of the American Institute of Architects' Survey Commission for the Education and Registration of Architects.

Members of the commission will go over the finished draft of the report which is the result of two years study of the education and registration problems of the profession.

Heads Education Section

Little is chairman of the education section of the commission. During the past two years, he has visited schools of architecture throughout the country to study their problems, preparatory to presenting them to the commission.

Items studied by his section of the commission include tuition fees and the number of years required to receive a professional degree in architecture, Little said.

$800 Per Year Highest

Some of the information uncovered by the commission included that the highest tuition is $800 per year. The average tuition for 55 schools of architecture is $287, the average out-of-state tuition being $375.

Forty-five of the fifty-five schools studied required five years for completion of architectural training. The remaining schools require six or more years for the first professional degree.

Student Court Mulls Inter-school Conference

Possibility of a conference of Pacific coast schools to discuss traffic problems, honor systems and other such problems was brought before the Student Court at its regular meeting Wednesday night.

The conference would be held on the Oregon campus sometime in February, Mike Adams, court chairman, said. Each school would be invited to send at least one student and one faculty member.

Adams also suggested that the conference should be under the sponsorship of the University's administration since the problems to be discussed are of interest to the faculty as well as the students.

The next meeting of the court is scheduled for Jan. 9.

Copies of New Fight Song to be Distributed

One-hundred copies of the new Oregon fight song are being printed under the direction of the rally board and will be distributed to living organizations during the first of winter term.

Epley, senior in general science, and presented to the student body for the first time this fall, was recently accepted officially by the ASUO senate.

The fight song, written by John
