Ann Thompson Wins Two-term Scholarship

An Oregon student who has made honor roll grades of 3.50 or better every term she has been in the University, has been awarded a two-term Standard Oil scholarship. She is Ann Thompson, senior in music.

One of the outstanding scholastic records in the university has been made by Miss Thompson, whose cumulative grade point average is 3.78. She is active in music affairs on the campus and is a member of Phi Beta, national professional music and drama fraternity. During her junior year she was president of her living organization, University house.

The scholarship, one of four given annually by Standard Oil of California to an outstanding member of each of the four undergraduate classes in the University, was initially awarded to Anita Holmes, journalism major, who finished her work in the University and has taken a position in Washington, D. C. Two-thirds of the $500 award will now go to Miss Thompson.

KWAX Quacks Monday Frosh Election Rules

University radio station KWAX will begin winter term broadcasting at 5 p.m. Monday with a new series of special programs planned for the coming year.

The FM station recently affiliated with the National Association of Educational Broadcasters and will bring Oregon listeners a number of NAEB tape-recorded programs featuring talks, dramas, information and music.

Recorded sessions of the London symphony, the British Broadcasting company theater and the Herald-Tribune forum will be among attractions offered on the new series.

The NAEB facilities are used by 86 high schools, colleges and universities in the United States.

A woman's show and foreign student interviews are tentatively scheduled for this term, the station said.

Station authorities asked that all persons interested in doing radio work visit the station studios on the third floor of Villard hall to discuss job openings. No previous experience is necessary.

KWAX will follow the same schedule as last term. The station will be on the air from 5 p.m. to 11 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 3 p.m. to 7 p.m. on Sunday.

Candy Orange Slices Good Mouse Bait

ST. LOUIS — (U.P.) — For three weeks Ben Ohm, superintendent of the new St. Louis County courthouse, waged a war on mice with traps baited with meat and cheese. He caught about 10 mice.

Then Ohm changed his tactics; eh wanted a more enticing bait. He decided on candy orange slices to bait his six traps. The count at the end of another three weeks was 100 mice caught.

"If the orange slices hold out, I'll get 'em all," he said.

FROSH ELECTION PETITIONS DUE

Deadline for petitions in the forthcoming freshman election has been set at midnight, Jan. 16, according to Merv Hampton, ASUO vice president and chairman of the election committee. Frosh balloting will take place on the following Wednesday, Jan. 23, from 8 a.m. until 6 p.m.

Four officers will be selected by the freshmen: a president, vice president and two representatives. Though the constitution does not provide for a freshman secretary or treasurer these jobs, Hampton explained, could be given the two representatives.

Petitions may be obtained and returned at the ASUO office on the third floor of the Student Union. Contestants should indicate the office they are seeking on the petition, Hampton said.

A nominating assembly is slated for Jan. 17 at 7 p.m. and will probably take place in the Dad's lounge, Hampton stated. Office seekers will be introduced and have a chance to speak.

The election will be supervised by a six man election board. It will consist of Hampton, Director of Student Affairs Donald DuShane, and five other student members.

Two students each will be suggested by the two campus political parties subject to Hampton's approval and the fifth selected by him.

Few Present for First Day of Classes Here

Departments which indicated attendance ranging from one-third of enrollment up to about one-half included foreign languages, geography and geology, history, and philosophy. Several departments adhered to the approximate 50 per cent average, including anthropology, biology, economics, English, political science, psychology, religion and sociology.

Best attendance was in the department of military science and tactics and the school of law. The military department, which has a merit system giving demerits for unexcused absences, had from 90 to 95 per cent attendance. This

Attendance in the law school was better than 90 per cent, the school said.

Most science departments attendance was above average, the survey shows. Chemistry courses were "well-attended" and physics department ranged from 75 per cent in lower division courses to virtually 100 per cent in upper division classes. Biology had 60 per cent and geology from 30 to 75 per cent.

Above average attendance was also reported in the schools of architecture and allied arts, health and physical education, and music, all from 75 to 80 per cent, although still below regular attendance.

A common tendency observed by most department heads was better attendance in upper division courses than in lower division, the survey indicated.

Frosh Rush Week Starts Sunday

When McLaughlin announced that the SU ballroom had been engaged for the rushing headquarters, IFC Student Adviser Bob Christ reacted with a strong objection, stating that illegal rushing would be easy in the public SU building.

Smith suggested a possible alternative, in the University high school gym. McLaughlin promised to study that possibility.

"Hands Off" Favored
Larry Dean, Sigma Nu president, moved that a "hands off" policy be followed by the fraternity men in dealing with freshmen all day Monday and late Friday night. The only objection was raised by Beta Theta Pi President Ken Ball, who called the policy "unfriendly."

When the freshmen register Monday afternoon using their own initiative, they will obtain their unofficial date card at a central desk.

Six Dates
They can fill this card with six dates, restricting each house to two dates, by contacting the fraternities which will be represented behind smaller desks.

That evening they will return to mingle on the floor with fraternity men in the usual rush week fashion. Each fraternity man, identified by a pin which will name his fraternity, will contact the pledges he desires and also help the rushees find the fraternity representative they might seek.

After attending one date at a fraternity a rushee will be able to break succeeding dates with that house at the student affairs office each night.

He will be able to sign up for any other fraternity he desires. Fraternities will post their drop lists in the rushing headquarters each morning and will probably send representatives to sign up rushees dropped by other houses.

Preferences
Friday night the frosh will list their preferences in first, second and third choices from 10:00 to 12:00 at the rushing headquarters. The fraternities must have their preferences in by 1:00 that night. Saturday morning the rushees will return to find the fraternity's pledge lists and pay his $10 pledging fee.

McLaughlin gives the following suggestions to rushing freshmen:

1. Don't wear your high school pins.
2. Feel natural and don't get hepped up and worried. Just remember that the fraternities are just as eager as you are.
3. Try to follow the rushing rules as closely as possible.
4. Look at all fraternities fairly and squarely—don't be influenced.

Pre-Med Students To Be Interviewed

Interviews with all students wishing to be considered for admission into the 1952 fall class of the Oregon Medical school will be held Jan. 11 in room 1 of McClure.

Applications are to be filed at once, the admissions committee announced. The blanks are available in room 1, McClure.

Appointments for the interviews may be made until Saturday with the secretary of the department of chemistry, Helga Koivisto. Fall term grade reports should be brought to the admission interviews.

Preceding the interviews, on Thursday, the admissions committee will hold an informal question and answer period on the study of medicine. All interested people are invited to attend, the committee reported.

Dr. E. S. West, professor of biochemistry at the medical school, is chairman of the committee. Dr. W. B. Youmans, head of the physiology department; Dr. Joseph B. Trainer, assistant physiology professor; Dr. D. W. E. Baird, dean of medical school; and W. A. Zimmerman, executive secretary of the medical school, comprise the committee.

The largest brassiere on the market is size 60. Twenty dozen of them were sold in the United States last year. The most popular size is 34 inches.

Vets' Dining Hall

(Continued from page one) have been fed in the Commons winter term and 300 spring term, the policy committee decided. However, the number for winter term would have been below 300, too small for an economical operation, Barnhart said.

Deficit Told
Last term, the Vets Commons was feeding 400 to day in a set-up geared for 800, Barnhart said. The Commons had a deficit of about $2,000 as of Dec. 19, due mainly to the low rate of income because of the smaller number. The Commons facilities would be too large for the small number using them.

Students affected by the decision of the committee were notified by letter during the Christmas vacation.

Members of the dorm policy committee are Donald Du Shane, director of student affairs; Ray Hawk, director of men's affairs; Mrs. Golda P. Wickham, director of women's affairs; J. O. Lindstrom, University business manager; and Burkhardt.
