Back in the Good Old Days

CANOEING ON THE old Millrace was once a favorite campus pastime when waters were cleaner and swifter than they are today. Both students and administration officials want to restore the race but their goals appear to be different. (See story page one).

Replacement for Piatigorsky Also Taken III; Concert Off

> He became ill. Then it was Joseph Schuster, another cellist. But Thursday he was not only ill, but in Chicago.

Gregor Piatigorsky was originally scheduled by the Civic Music Association to present a concert Sunday at- McArthur court. The CMA was notified this week that he could not play Sunday because of illness.

Then a telegram was sent to Schuster in Los Angeles, telling him to remain in that city until the University could be contacted concerning having Schuster substitute for Piatigorsky.

The University approved, and another telegram was sent to Los Angeles.

Then came the news that Schuster had not received the original telegram, and had taken a plane for Chicago. When he learned of the situation in Chicago, he was running a fever, according to T.
