Overtaken Lifeboats Seen Near Spot Where Pennsylvania Sank

(From the wires of the United Press and Associated Press) Compiled by Mary Ann Mowery

Two overturned lifeboats were spotted from the air today 125 miles southeast of where the freighter Pennsylvania went down in the north Pacific seven days ago, but there was no sign of her 46 crewmen.

The capsized lifeboats were drifting 16 miles apart about 600 miles from the Washington coast when they were sighted by two Coast Guard PBM flying boat crews.

The Coast Guard cutter Klamath was dispatched to the area. Meanwhile search was continued for the other tow lifeboats which were aboard the Pennsylvania.

Russia's new proposals for world atomic control...

... resulted from a directive issued by Marshal Josef Stalin in Byelorussia the United Nations was told today.

Kuzma Kisselev, delegate from Byelorussia, an integral part of the Soviet Union, made the statement before the U. N. assembly's main political committee.

He accused the west of trying to give the new Russian atomic proposal announced Saturday by soviet foreign minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky, a "first-class burial" in the fledgling U. N. disarmament commission.

He said Russia's program of "measures to combat the threat of a new war flows from the directive of Josef Stalin and squares with the interests of peace and security and with the interests of the peoples of the entire world."

Paratroops of the famed French Foreign Legion...

... fought through steaming jungle today to seize a key point from Communist rebels massing for an offensive in Indo China. The legionnaires fought hand-to-hand at times against savage Viet Minh rebel resistance.

They stormed and occupied a peak facing directly on the Black river, across which a division of the Communist troops was poised for an attack on Nao-Binh, vital river outpost 35 miles southwest of Hanoi.

As the battle ended, Viet Minh scout patrols and ambush parties continued to creep down to the 50-mile winding highway between Hanoi and Hanoi. At one point the Reds were trying to wreck the roadway to keep supply columns from reaching the Hao-binh garrison.

The Communists charged Tuesday that...

... an Allied plane bombed a Communist prison camp in North Korea last night, killing at least 10 U.N. prisoners and wounding more than 60 others.

The 5th Air Force promptly denied that any Allied plane had made the alleged attack on camp number eight at Kankdong, which holds one American and 1,591 South Korean prisoners.

North Korean Maj. Gen. Lee Cho told U. N. truce delegates in the prisoner subcommittee that three bombs hit the camp hospital Monday. He promised a list of casualties later.

Rear Admiral R. A. Libby reported from Panmunjom that "absolutely no progress" was made in the prisoner subcommittee.

The day's only development, he said, was to confirm that the deadlock centered on two issues—the U. N. insistence that South Korean captives forced into the Red army be reclassified as war prisoners.

A U. N. command spokesman said the meeting was "tempered and orderly" in comparison with Monday's session, when the Communists accused the allied command of lying and threatened to walk out in protest.

Administration officials said Tuesday...

... that President Truman's new roving ambassador to western Europe, William H. Draper, Jr., will have broad powers to see that American aid is put to good use.

Draper, a New York investment banker who was formerly undersecretary of the Army, was expected to win quick senate confirmation. His nomination was submitted by Mr. Truman yesterday.

Congressmen returning from continental tours have been urging a single official or agency to streamline economic and military aid programs in Europe. Draper's new post fills that bill.

Police proclaimed a state of emergency...

... in Cairo and most other Egyptian cities in an attempt to prevent further violence in the tense Anglo-Egyptian crisis.

The police hurled tear gas bombs in Cairo when part of the mass funeral procession for Ahmed Mohamed Esamt got out of hand and some of the demonstrators began throwing stones.

Esmat, a pilot for the Egyptian airlines, was shot dead in a clash at a British roadblock in the Suez Canal zone yesterday.

The procession began quietly but ominously in the suburb of Kebbeh with some 60,000 students and government workers in line. They responded to a Socialist party call for a large-scale memorial tribute. By the time the procession had reached the center of Cairo, some 100,000 were marching. Many were shouting for revenge. There were cries of "Down with Britain" and long live Egypt."

At San Quentin, California...

... the accomplice of an enraged convict who stabbed two prison guards to death and injured two others admitted today the dual killings were the result of an attempted prison break.

Prison authorities, however, were not discounting the theory that Eugene Burwell, 24-year-old Negro serving a five-year sentence for burglary, harbored a simmering grudge for alleged discrimination.

District Attorney Richard M. Sims, of Marin county, said that under questioning, Burwell's accomplice, James A. Rodgers admitted the incident was the result of a futile prison break.

Music Concert To be Presented In SU Ballroom

The University symphony orchestra, University Singers, and University band are presenting a program of music at 8 p.m. Friday in the Student Union ballroom, under the sponsorship of the school of music, with the assistance of the SU Board.

Directors for the program will be Edmund Cykler, professor of music, University symphony orchestra; Donald W. Allton, assistant professor of music, University Singers; and Robert Vagner, associate professor of music, University band.

Included in the program will be Nocturne from "Midsummer Night's Dream," by Mendelssohn, featuring a horn solo by Glen Garrett, and Concert March Militaire from "The Chocolate Soldier," by Alford, which will be played by the University band.

The concert is being presented as part of the second annual music education conference, and which this year is one of the features of the 75th anniversary program.

Write Dad to Join In Many Activities Honoring His Day

It's Feb. 2 and 3—Dad's Day weekend.

Write a letter home to Dad and ask him to come down.

That's the request of Pat Dignan, Dad's Day general chairman. Numerous activities have been planned in honor of the fathers, Dignan said. Included will be a luncheon, the Oregon-Washington basketball games, a mixer and open house in living organizations.

Accommodations for dads will be limited to local hotels and motels, Dignan said, and urged students to make reservations early.

Tickets for the luncheon, to be held at 12 noon Saturday, Feb. 2, are on sale at the Student Union main desk. Price is $1.25. Only 335 seats will be available for the luncheon, Dignan said.

ROTC to Compete With Sureshots

The ROTC rifle team will compete with the "Sureshots," a civilian team from Shedd, Ore., at 7 p.m. today at the shooting area in the military department.

The rifle team opened the season with a match at Corvallis Saturday against the University of Washington and Oregon State college.

Firing for the Oregon squad were R. E. Linsay, Ned Takasumi, Ritchie Rust, I. B. Helzman, K. W. Robins, C. R. Perkey and W. W. Tulleck.

Linsay was high point man for Oregon with a score of 375 points out of a possible 400. The meet was won by Washington.

The inter-collegiate contest was the result of an invitational match inaugurated by Oregon State and is expected to become an annual event.

Ten New Members Elected to Board

Ten members were elected to the University theater executive board at the annual business meeting Sunday night.

Betsy Thayer and John Jensen were elected freshmen representatives; Sandra Price and Mike Hemingway, sophomore representatives; Patsy Matsler and Harriet Oliver, junior representatives; Bob Chambers and Martha Stapleton, senior representatives; and Faber DeChaine and Ben Padrow, graduate student representatives.

Colored slides of all the plays that have been produced in the new University theater building were shown. After the short program, dancing was held on the main stage.
