

Phi Delts, Phi Psis, Phi Sigs, Fijis, Hunter Hall Win Intramural Tilts

By Doug White

In Tuesday's intramural action several teams showed that they definitely had their sights on the coveted IM basketball trophy. A powerful Phi Delta Theta squad defeated Sigma Alpha Epsilon 27 to 15; the Phi Gamma Delta "B" team beat the Sigma Nu "B's" 19 to 17; Phi Sigma Kappa "B" took the measure of Kappa Sigma's "B" 19 to 14; Hunter Hall swamped Cherney "B" 32 to 15; Phi Kappa Psi's "A" outfit squeezed by Theta Chi 21 to 17; and Phi Gamma Delta beat the Tau Kappa Epsilon squad 27 to 11.

Displaying a dazzling array of ball-handlers and good shots, the boys from Phi Delta romped to an easy victory over SAE. Jim Livesay, Nick Schmer, and Daryle Nelson led the Phi Delt to their win, scoring 21 of the victors' 27 points.

Livesay, besides copping the individual scoring honors with nine points, was a scrappy playmaker, and also took his share of the rebounds. For the losers Ralph Clements was high point man with six tallies, while Pat Dignan provided plenty of rebound strength.

Fijis Display Strength

Phi Gamma Delta struck pay-dirt twice on Tuesday afternoon, sweeping both its "A" and "B" games. In the initial encounter the Fijis' juniors just barely managed to take a hotly contested game from Sigma Nu. Mike Lally and Bob Zener were primarily responsible for this win dominating the backboards besides leading their team in offensive play.

Zener hit the hemp for ten-points, more than anyone else in that game. The sparkplug of the Fiji club was Fred Mueller. Setting up most of the offensive plays and playing heads up defense, Fred generally made a nuisance of himself for the Sigma Nus.

Chuck Soderburg and Bill Briot led their team but it was in a losing cause as Sigma Nu just couldn't manage to horsecollar the rampaging boys from Phi Gamma Delta.

Dick Stoutt Stars

Tau Kappa Epsilon met the same fate as did Sigma Nu when they met the Fiji "A" team. Scoring 18 points in the second half and sparked by the excellent playing of Dick Stoutt, the Phi Gamma Delta's racked up 27 counters to the Tekes' 11. Besides making five baskets from the field, Stoutt was the victors' entire rebounding strength.

Phi Kappa Psi had to go into an overtime period to finally subdue a hard fighting Theta Chi squad 21 to 19. At no time in the fracas did either team possess a commanding lead, and it was only when the last whistle blew that the winners could let up. The Phi Psis fielded a fast and fairly tall quintet, and it was this height plus some sharp offensive playing in the clutch that notched the win for them.

A. L. Clay, Dave Hall, Gene Hover, and Larry McNutt all played good ball for the winners as did Bill Korpela, Ron Clark and Vance Johnson for the losers. It was Hover who drove the whole length of the court to notch the winning tally in the overtime period. Clay hit on a free throw to wind up the scoring for the day. Dave Hall was high point man for the day with seven points to his credit. The Theta Chi scoring was evenly divided among Korpela, Kreiger, Johnson, Murray and Clark.

Dick Blenkinsop led Phi Sigma Kappa to a 19 to 14 victory over the Kappa Sigma "B" team. Hitting the hemp for nine points, he was just too much for "Stretch" Hultgren and his mates to stop. The contest was evenly played throughout the first half with the winners out in front by only one point, 9 to 8. In the last two quarters they started to pound the backboards and scored ten points to their opponents six.

Duck Cagers Travel To Seattle Today For Crucial Series

University of Oregon basketball coach Bill Borchert and a traveling squad of 12 players boarded the North-bound Cascade this morning for a pair of week-end games with the University of Washington Huskies in Seattle.

"We're determined to win," said Borchert, "and I think we will." Oregon is scheduled for a showdown Northern Division series with Tippy Dye's pre-season favorites Friday and Saturday nights in Edmunson Pavilion.

Duck Still Lead

By virtue of twin wins over Washington State college early last week, the Ducks have taken an early, but shaky hold of the League's top rung.

Husky stock was boosted Wednesday night when it was announced that six-foot-seven inch Center Doug McClary probably will see action against the Ducks despite his injured ankle.

McClary sprained his ankle Tuesday afternoon during a workout. Rumors were recurrent that McClary had broken his ankle which would probably have been doubly serious to the embattled Huskies.

Houbregs Cast to Come Off

McClary was elevated to a starting role when 1950 All-Northern Division Center Bob Houbregs injured his foot. Houbregs' cast is scheduled to be removed today, Dr. Geehan reported.

Dye could replace McClary with Dean Parsons, six-foot seven center from Eugene. Parsons was named to the Oregon all-state squad in 1950.

Following a one hour, 15 minute workout on McArthur Court Wednesday Borchert announced the following traveling contingent:

FRANK GUINNESS, six-foot, three-inch, forward from the University of Washington, will be potent in the Husky attack when the men from Seattle meet the Ducks this weekend. Mel Streeter, Oregon forward, will probably draw the tough job of guarding him.

Mermen to Meet Multnomah Club Here Saturday

Coach Borchardt's Oregon swimming team will be out for a victory when they face the Multnomah Athletic Club at 2 p.m. Saturday. The meet, which will be staged at the men's pool is the first encounter between the two teams this season. The Multnomah team, coached by Phil Hansel, was victorious over Oregon State last week when it met the Aggie team in Corvallis and will attempt a repeat performance with the Oregon squad to keep a spotless record.

According to Borchardt, the swimming team is in fair condition for the meet. It may be hampered by the loss of Gordon Edwards, freestyle star, due to sickness.

In the 180 yard Individual Medley, Oregon will be represented by Yosh Terada and Allan Wakinekona.

Oregon swimmers in the other events are:

300 medley relay: Dick Ruchdeschel, Henry Kalura, and Ben Baldwin

220 yard free style: Harry Fuller and Jim Allan

60 yard freestyle: Milton Kotoshirodo and Dave Houch

100 yard freestyle: Milton Kotoshirodo and Jim Allan

200 yard breast-stroke: Ben Baldwin, John English and Yosh Terada

440 yard freestyle: Phil Lewis, Bob Oringdolph, and Herb West

400 yard freestyle relay: Harry Fuller, Jim Allan, Milton Kotoshirodo and Henry Kalura

Diving: Pete Charlton, Ray Atkinson and Hal Davis.

BUD COVEY, five-foot, ten-inch, Duck guard, is listed on the traveling squad for the Seattle trip. Covey is an ex-Jefferson high school ace who adds reserve strength to the backcourt crew.

Bob Peterson, Mel Streeter, Chet Noe, Ken Wegner, Ken Hunt, Ron Bottler, Jim Vranizan, Hank Bon-neman, Bud Covey, Barney Holland, Bob Hawes and Keith Farnam.

The workout was considerably tempered in comparison to the grueling, early week drills. Borchert polished the methods of attack and busied the Ducks with a defense geared to throttle Frank Guinness and company.

UW May Not Run

Regardless of the highly-publicized fast-break utilized by the Puget Sounders, Borchers will go with the same lineup and the same run and pass system that has carried the ethylized Ducks to five wins in their last six starts.

"Washington doesn't always run," reminded Borchert. "Last week at Corvallis they presented a very much subdued attack which surprised Oregon State." Borchert hinted that if the Ducks win at Seattle, the rebounding of Peterson would play a major role.

The Ducks are scheduled to be quartered at Seattle's Olympic hotel. They will return to Eugene early Sunday morning.

Speeding drivers involved in 1 out of 3 fatal traffic accidents

Watch out—the time you save by speeding may be spent in the cemetery. According to official traffic records, speed is the most frequently reported violation in fatal traffic accidents.

So exercise your foot someplace else than on the accelerator. Remember that a speeding car is harder to handle, takes longer to stop, does more damage. Make it a point to drive at safe speed . . . always.

When driving conditions are bad, safe speed is often much lower than the legal, posted limit. Be sure to slow down when weather or visibility is poor. It may take a little longer, but chances are you'll live a lot longer.

Be Careful - the life you save may be your own!
