Today, from 2 to 5 p.m., applicants for business manager of Old Oregon, alumni magazine, may call at the Alumni office on the mezzanine of the Student Union. Petitions are needed for this position. Experience is not necessary but preference will be given to persons who have had experience in advertising and selling and advertising layout, Les Anderson, alumni secretary announced.

"Junk" Yields $6,000

SCHENECTADY, N.Y.—(U.P.)—Junk can be valuable. Police recovered a badly battered safe in a junk yard and found more than $6,000 inside. The safe had been discarded by thieves who failed to open it.

Military Ball. Jan 19, Student Union.—Paid Adv.

Colonel Brunns and the 'Captains'

Students Attending Formal Will Choose 'Little Colonel'

(Ed. Note: Following are interviews with the "Little Captains" for the Military Ball to be held Saturday night. One of them will be named "Little Colonel" by vote of students attending the dance.)

Charlotte Heup, a sophomore in liberal arts, is the "Little Captain" from Alpha Omicron Pi. She boasts big brown eyes and a vivacious smile. Always on the go, she enjoys riding, swimming and plays the piano. Miss Heup, a Eugene girl, recently transferred from Marylhurst and is rapidly developing an interest in campus activities.

Barbara Keelen, a sophomore in liberal arts from Portland, is the candidate of Kappa Alpha Theta. She has been active on campus as secretary of the freshman class, and is currently a member of Kwama, sophomore women's honorary, secretary of the Co-op board and an Emerald zone manager. Friday and Saturday's she works at Hart Larsen's. Miss Keelen said that her spare time used to be spent reading, but now she is "attempting to learn how to play bridge."

The third candidate interviewed was Joan Marie Miller from Salem, another sophomore in liberal arts. A member of the rally squad, she is five foot, one inch with dark brown hair and grey eyes. Miss Miller is president of Kwama, the sophomore honorary, and candidate of Pi Beta Phi. Her hobbies include swimming, dancing and golf.

The fourth candidate is a dark-haired freshman in music, Audrey Ann Mistretta, who represents University house. Her contralto voice has already earned her the leading role in next spring's opera, "The Old Maid and the Thief." Born in Long Beach, California, she made Astoria her home two years ago. Swimming and badminton are her favorite sports. Chosen as "Miss Oregon" last summer, she represented the state at the Atlantic City contest and is attending the University on a "Miss Oregon" scholarship.

A vivacious freshman in speech, Betsy Thayer, is the last candidate

Job Opportunities

Information about all job opportunities may be obtained at the graduate placement office in Emerald hall.

There are a number of job opportunities open for graduates of March and June currently listed in office of student affairs, Karl W. Onthank, associate director of student affairs, has announced.

Jobs with Northwest business concerns include Jantzen Knitting Mills, Weyerhaeuser Paper company, Borden company, Commercial Credit corporation, Crown-Zellerbach corporation, Procter and Gamble, J. C. Penney, Sears Roebuck company, Montgomery Ward & company, and Guy T. Atkinson and company.

Government agencies offering positions for graduates include the Federal Bureau of Investigation, United States Civil Service, Navy Bureau of Ordnance, State Department, Bureau of Internal Revenue, United States Bureau of Geological Survey, Central Intelligence agency, Atomic Energy commission, Public Health Service, Social Security agency, Oregon State Civil Service, and California State Personnel board.

Members of March and June graduating classes wishing jobs who have not done so should register themselves in the graduate placement office, Emerald hall as soon as possible, Onthank said.

Applications from men with veteran preference are now being accepted by the Civil Service commission for substitute postal transportation clerk positions.

No experience requirements and age limits are specified, but applicants will be required to pass a written test.

Information and application forms may be obtained at the graduate placement office, Emerald hall.

An examination for filling chemist, physicist and meteorological positions in the Air Force Research center, Cambridge, Mass., has been announced by the Civil Service commission.

Applicants for the exam must meet a basic requirement of education and experience or both in the field for which they apply and must have had from one and a half to four years of appropriate professional experience. Graduate study may be substituted for part of the required professional experience.

Salaries for the chemist and physicist positions range from $5060 to $10,000 a year and for meteorologist, $4205 to $10,800 a year. Further information about the exam and the applications forms may be obtained from the graduate placement office, Emerald hall.

College graduates are eligible for the marine corps officer candidate course beginning March 12, it has been announced at the 13th marine corps reserve district headquarters in Seattle.

Deadline for applications for the course is the middle of February. Qualified college graduates between the ages of 20 and 27 may apply.

After 10 weeks of basic training at Quantico, Va., successful candidates will be commissioned in the marine corps reserve and attend five months of specialized officer training.

Further information may be obtained from 1st Lt. Donald V. McCloskey, U. S. marine corps, officer procurement office, room 208, new U. S. court house, Portland 5, Oregon.

An opening for a clinical psychologist has been announced by the state of Washington personnel board. Applications are to be sent to the State Personnel board, 1209 Smith tower, Seattle 4. Blanks are available at the graduate placement office in Emerald hall.

Applicants should be familiar with the administration and interpretation of standard psychological and intelligence tests. They must be graduates of a college or university approved for training in clinical psychology and possess a master's degree in the field, or have one year of graduate work in clinical psychology supplemented by a clinical internship.

The open position is at Lakeland Village, a school for mentally deficient children and adults near Spokane, Washington.

No written test is required. The examination will consist of an evaluation of training and experience. Veterans will be given a 10 per cent preference.
