

Huskies Take Series Finale

Ducks Lose by 63-57 Count As Houbregs Racks Up 28

By Larry Lavelle

University of Washington's high-riding Huskies gained a strangle-hold on the Northern Division PCC basketball race by downing a stubborn University of Oregon five, 63-57 Saturday night in McArthur court.

The defeat all but stifled whatever championship aspirations the Ducks entertained, and coupled with University of Idaho's double triumph over Washington State college, threw the division into a two-horse race.

Coach Tippy Dye's Purples pace the Vandals by a full game; both teams have lost a pair of games, and will square off in a pay-off series Friday and Saturday nights, Feb. 15 and 16 in Moscow, Ida.

As Frank Guisness dominated the earlier series at Seattle, so also did Bob Houbregs, Washington's elongated twist-shot magician. The six-foot, seven-inch, 19 year-old junior from Seattle's Queen Anne high school established a new Mac court record for total points in a two-game series—58.

Houbregs tossed in 28 points in the finale, including a pair of hook shots and an easy set shot at the outset of the fourth quarter to give the Huskies a 10-point, 61-51 lead with five minutes and 30 seconds to play. Until then the Ducks remained in contention, their maximum deficit being seven points.

Referees John Green and Tim McCullough had a troublesome evening chasing down violations, separating would-be fighters, and avoiding being kicked in the seat of the pants. McCullough enacted the finishing touch in the last 50 seconds of play by accidentally kayoing Forward Frank Guisness.

BOB HAWES, Sophomore Duck guard who played a good game Saturday, netting 12 points.

During a brief time out, the referee backed up on the unaware Mr. Guisness and sent him sprawling. The all-American possibility was removed, free from serious injury, but a bit chagrined.

Coach Bill Borchers' Webfoots stunned the Washingtonians twice in the first half by running up a 12-6 lead and then slipping behind by eight points, only to score 11 consecutive digits against the pace setters.

Blazing the Oregon trail was pivot-man Chet Noe, who scored 20 points on nine field goals and two free throws. Noe manufactured two-thirds of the Ducks' first quarter output of 12 on four buckets. Guisness and Houbregs crashed a couple of field goals and Captain Mike McCutchen connected with a jump-shot from the free throw line for a 12-12 quarter score.

Washington capitalized on Oregon's inept rebounding and poor ball-handling to draw away at the 6:00 mark by a 22-14 count. Ron Bottler thereupon went berserk, registering three quick casts for three quick buckets. Guard Bob Hawes broke the deadlock with a 10-foot push and added an extra pointer. Guisness banked a lay-in for the Huskies before the gun. Oregon led, 28-27 at the half.

The visitors almost immediately took the lead from the Ducks and gained a near static, four to six point edge throughout the third quarter. Noe and Houbregs separated.

With 8:45 remaining in the final period Noe tipped in a rebound and, Oregon drew to 55-49. The Ducks collapsed after Houbregs dumped in a couple of lay-ups and Doug McClary did likewise.

Washington stalled out the remaining five minutes and 40 seconds, drawing Houbregs out from under the bucket and making the Ducks' task an impossible one.

Washington notched 25 of its 74 floor attempts for a 34 per cent ration. Oregon succeeded on one-third of its shots.

Chuck Finley's Vandals invade Mac court this weekend for a pair of Northern Division tussles.

JV's Take 71-39 Drubbing From Local AAU Quintet

Led by Jim Calderwood and Tom Matthews, Everybody's Drug, state AAU champs last year, drubbed the Oregon JV's 71-39 Saturday night. Together, these two boys tossed in a totals of 41 points to sink the Ducklings in one of their worst defeats of the year.

The game was somewhat slow in starting, with Everybody's leading at the end of the first quarter 15-11. Two quick field goals by Calderwood at the start of the second canto increased the lead to 19-11, and from then on, the Druggists took complete command of the game.

Matthews Takes Over By halftime, with Calderwood leading the way, they rolled to a 34-19 bulge while holding the Ducklings to eight points. With Calderwood being somewhat cooled from his hectic shooting in the first half, Matthews took over the scoring punch in the final two heats by netting 14 points, all of them being field goals.

Besides being second in scoring with 20 counters, Matthew proved to be a stellar backboard man, grabbing off most of the rebounds for his team.

The Oregon aggregation seemed to be plagued by bad passing and as a result, lost several scoring opportunities.

Wayne Johnson and Doug Rogers led the Ducklings in scoring, each potting seven points. Siegmund was next with six.

Subs Play During the latter part of the game, Coach Don Kirsch began substituting freely, thus giving all of his players a chance to play. As substitutes, Ray Hempy and Bill Choat turned in a creditable game, each canning four points in the last heat.

Next week, the JV's play three games in four days. The first tilt is with the Portland JV's at Eugene on Friday followed by the OSC team on Saturday. Both games will be preliminaries to the Idaho series which also starts next week. The following Monday the JV's travel to Corvallis to again tackle the OSC team in the fourth tilt of the six games which are to be played between the two clubs.

Lineups: OREGON (59) Slegmund, 6 F. Clausen, 5 Rogers, 7 F. Sowers, 12 Johnson, 7 C. Matthews, 20 Marxer, 2 G. Calderwood, 21 Phillips, 4 G. Fullerton, 6 Substitutes for Oregon: Byler, 1, Choat, 4, Blodgett, Davis, 1, Hempy. Everybody's: Hamilton, Cook, Warberg.

Swimming Team Opens ND Season With 58-28 Win Over Oregon State; Edwards Stands Out for Webfoots

By Rick Tarr

The University of Oregon swimming team opened its Northern division dual-meet season in impressive fashion as it scored a 58-28 victory over Oregon State at Corvallis Saturday afternoon. The win was the fourth straight of the season for Coach John Borchardt's crew.

He finished 10 seconds ahead of his closest competitor in the 220-yard freestyle and posted a time of 2:20.4. This erased the old mark of 2:22.2 set by OSC's Bob Brownell in 1939. In the 440-yard freestyle Edwards really opened up, recording a time of 5:08.7 as he finished 1 1/2 laps ahead of the field. The old record was 5:15.0 set by Robinson of Oregon in 1942.

Lou Kollias Lost To Duck Gridders

The University of Oregon football team will be minus a rugged linebacker with the loss of Lou Kollias, 198 pound freshman who is now reportedly enrolled at the University of Georgia. He was scholastically eligible for return to Oregon.

Kollias played extensively on defense and gave promise of development. (Please turn to page five.)
