Thirty People Die in Plane Crash; Newark Airport Stops Operations

Compiled by Lee McGary

(From the wires of the United Press and Associated Press)

Another airliner crashed in the city of Elizabeth, New Jersey, early Monday morning, killing 30 persons and injuring 42. The crash, the third in the last two months, occurred at 12:18 a.m. just as the plane was leaving on a flight for Miami. Two minutes after the take-off the plane pancaked without warning into a 60-family apartment building.

The stricken plane screamed over the roof of an orphanage and then hit the top floor of the apartment house with a crash that a witness said was like the sound of hundreds of guns going off at once.

It slithered across the roof on its belly and into a baseball field where it plunged to the ground upside down, its silver belly ripped open by a tree, and victims and their baggage scattered in the mud.

'Gooseberry Tarts' and 'The Circle'

Operations at the Newark airport have been suspended until "something can be done about these plane crashes," said Rep. Lindley Beekworth, chairman of a house subcommittee on air safety.

The port of New York official disclosed Monday it recently had received anonymous threats that bombs would be placed at both Newark and La Guardia airports. The airports have been the target of several bomb threats since last fall, but it is not known if there is a connection between the threats and the recent plane crashes.

The United Nations challenged . . .

... Communist China's right to take part in a post-armistice Korean peace conference. Vice Admiral C. Turner Joy, head of the U.N. truce delegation, asked the Reds how China could claim a seat at the peace conference if she still contended that the only Chinese troops in Korea were "volunteers."

Joy also told Communist negotiators the U.N. would refuse to take any further action under the final item on the truce agenda if the Reds insisted on widening the proposed Korean peace conference to include other Asian problems.

American's ace Jet pilot . . .

... Major George Davis of Lubbock, Texas, was shot down Sunday in an air battle with Communist MIG-15's over Korea minutes after he blasted two enemy planes from the air.

The 31-year-old airman, was listed officially Monday as missing in action. The Air Force believed he had no chance of survival.

The Texan, known to his buddies as "One Burst" Davis was credited with destroying 11 Mig-15 Jets—including the two Sunday; three Soviet-built Tu-2 medium bombers, and probably destroying one and damaging two other Migs over Korea. In World War II he shot down seven Japanese planes.

Mrs. Dorris A. Davis, charged today that the Air Force lied when it said her husband, the world's leading Jet ace, didn't want to come home after he shot down his fifth enemy fighter plane.

State Department Adviser John Foster Dulles . . .

... Indicated Monday he believes the United States should "Take the wraps off" Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist forces on Formosa in an effort to harass the Chinese Reds.

He said this country should stir up all possible trouble and inconvenience for the Communist Chinese regime. He said he would welcome a break between the Chinese Reds and Moscow or a change in policy by the Chinese Communists as a step in the right direction.

King George VI made his final journey . . .

... Monday to the capital from which he reigned over a quarter of the globe.

The King's body, in a plain oaken coffin, left aboard the royal train for London, where it will lie in state until the funeral Friday when it will be taken to Windsor Castle for the state funeral in St. George's Chapel.

A make-believe war at Camp Drum, New York . . .

... became all too real Monday as Army officials counted nine dead and about 80 injured in "Operation Snowfall."

Seven men were killed and 25 injured in three separate accidents yesterday. Two paratroopers plummeted to their death in an earlier phase of the maneuvers staged to test operations under arctic conditions.

A twin-engined C-46 transport crashed while taking off from Wheeler-Scaks airfield here yesterday. Three were killed instantly and a fourth died in a camp hospital. Eighteen were hurt.

The Lone, on a mission with 32 white-uniformed paratroopers and a crew of four, careened 100 feet before crashing into an unoccupied parked airplane. All of the dead were members of the plane's crew.

The Voice of America . . .

... is getting set to out-shout all Russian efforts to jam its broadcasts behind the Iron Curtain.

Voice officials said Monday that they are building giant transmitters that will throw broadcast signals across the entire Soviet Union from the Pripet marshes to the Sea of Okhotsk.

Listeners in Siberia and Vladivostok will be able to tune in Voice programs as easily, officials said, as they pick up local Communist stations.

Officials think they will put Russia on the defensive in the propaganda war.

UO Educators Will Speak in Salem

Brief college "refresher" courses are in store for Salem on Feb. 20, when 5 top educators from the University of Oregon will visit the community for an educational meeting. The meeting, scheduled in the Mirror Room of the Marion hotel at 6:45 p.m., is being arranged by Reynolds Allen, county director of Oregon Alumni, Marion county.

To be held somewhat in the form of an old-fashioned chatauqua, the meeting will include talks by William C. Jones, dean of administration; George Hopkins, professor of piano; James H. Gilbert, emeritus professor of economics; Edwin G. Ebbighausen, associate professor of physics; and Coach Bill Bowerman, head of Oregon's track team. Alumni Director Lester E. Anderson is in charge of the program.

Subjects of general interest to the layman will be discussed by the speakers, all authorities in their fields. Jones will discuss the state of the University. Hopkins will give a popular lecture, illustrated on the piano. Economic problems facing the nation will be discussed by Gilbert. Physics for the layman will be the topic of Ebbighausen, and Bowerman will bring the audience up-to-date on Oregon's athletic picture.

Inquiring Reporter

Students Have Little Opinion On Korean Issue

By Jean Lewis

"What do you think of the principles to be followed by the United States in case of armistice for Korea, as recently announced?"

Today's Inquiring Reporter question received little response, students not being well enough informed to comment.

The two students who did answer thought the plan was good, but that it would not work in application.

Judge Elderkin — sophomore in pre-law—"I don't grasp the long range implications of the plan enough to answer."

Stanley Lidstrom — senior in business—"I haven't seen the paper or listened to the radio, so I don't know."

Denise Thum—junior in psychology—"It's a good plan but it won't work. Russia is too obstinate."

Albert Hampton—junior in business—"I haven't read the paper today."

Charles Zulauf—graduate in political science—"I think they're good principles but putting them into application is another thing. I don't think they'll get complete cooperation."

Neal Dunlap—senior in history—"I haven't read any paper except the Emerald and it wasn't in there so I don't know."

Phyllis Rich—senior in P.E.—"I didn't hear it or read about it."

Quentin Searles — graduate in art education—"I don't know enough about it to give an opinion."

Carol Thompson—senior in psychology—"I haven't seen the paper today."

M. A. Chaudhri—graduate in political science—"I get the New York Times and it comes late so I haven't seen it yet."
