

Rabbi Nodel Named Top Religious Speaker

Rabbi Julius Josef Nodel was named the most effective speaker at the Parliament of World Religions, held Jan. 20-24, by a poll of the 100 students in the religion classes of Paul Means, head of the religion department.

Within four votes of first place, and tying for second place honors, were Swami Devatmananda, head of the Portland Center of the Vedanta Movement in America, and Bashir Ahmad Minto, president of the U.S. Moslem society.

Considered very effective speakers were Methodist Bishop Gerald Kennedy, the Rev. Martin Thielen, superintendent of the Catholic schools in western Oregon, and the Rev. Evan Williams, of the Eugene Episcopal church.

The classes also rated Henry S. Tatsumi, University of Washington professor, as "an intellectual

Tickets Ready For Senior Ball

Tickets for the annual Senior Ball, scheduled for Feb. 23 and featuring the music of Dick Jurgens and his orchestra, will be on sale today in men's living organizations.

House sales will be handled through social chairmen, Kathryn Moore, ticket chairman, reported. Ticket price is $2.60 a couple, 20 cents above the usual admission price for a "non-name" band. The chairman pointed out that the price was being kept to this level in spite of the higher cost of the Jurgens orchestra in the hope that a larger crowd will be able to attend.

Wins Citation

Jurgens' orchestra, whose slogan is "Here's That Band Again," was awarded the "Treasury Band of the Year" citation by the U.S. Treasury department for 1948 for service in selling defense bonds.

Ballroom operators throughout the country have reported the Jurgens band one of the best commercial attractions of the year. Will Wittig of Kansas City's Plamor ballroom informed the band's bookers that "patrons voted Jurgens one of the finest bands ever to appear at the Pla-Mor." In Denver, Jurgens broke all dance mannee records at the Elitch gardens.

Featured Performers

Featured performers with the Jurgens outfit are Ray McIntosh, vocalist and trumpet, who sings the ballads for the band, and Al Galante, violinist-vocalist, who sings the rhythm tunes. Both soloists and leader represent something of a reunion of the armed forces, since Jurgens served with the Marines, Galante with the Army Air corps, and McIntosh with the Army in World War II.

All-campus ticket sales for Jurgens' appearance at the Senior Ball will begin next Wednesday in the Co-op and Student Union.

The ball will be formal, with tuxedos or dark suit for men and formals for women. Flowers are optional.

when asked how he felt about granting the delay. He added that he planned to talk to some "important people" Wednesday, and would have "plenty to say" later today.

Should Get Interpretation

Bill Carey, ASUO president, said this of the request:

"I think we should definitely go ahead with our plans and get an interpretation from the Public Utilities commission," he said. "Dick Kading and his committee have already indicated that they are working along such lines as they were directed to by the ASUO senate."

Plan Underway To Organize Married Students

A program is underway to form a united group of married students at the University. An open meeting was held Wednesday night to discuss organization of a permanent body to represent married students, one of the largest unrepresented groups on campus to date.

Frank W. Neuber was appointed as temporary chairman for the group. Others attending were: Jack Merner, secretary of the YMCA; Ray Peterson, Darrel Littlefield and Louis Duran from Agate street trailers; Jim Tallman, Ed Kellogg and Charles Carter of Amazon apts.

"The married students organization grows out of the conviction that these students are vitally concerned in campus life," said Neuber. "It is our purpose to provide representation for this group which in the past has been almost totally unrepresented," he concluded.

Jack Merner of the YMCA has offered use of the YM office as headquarters, and the use of the other office facilities for the group.

A proposed council will function as an executive body and serve as a medium between the married students and campus activities. One aim of the proposed council is to promote interest groups for social activities of the married students.

An open meeting for all married students will be held on Wednesday, Feb. 20 at 7:30 p.m. The platform will be presented at this meeting and further plans for organizing the council will be discussed. Temporary chairman Neuber has asked that all married students attend.

Married students wishing further information may contact the following persons: Agate Street trailers, Ray Peterson, Darrel Littlefield and Louis Duran; Amazon apts., Jim Tallman, Charles Carter and Ed Kellogg; Columbia Street apts., Bob Elder and Jim Lancaster; Skinners Butte apts., Frank Primozich; and Emerald Street housing, Robert Agger.

Petitions Wanted For Sub-chairmen Of Duck Preview

Petitions for Duck Preview committee chairmen are due Friday, General Chairman Jackie Wilkes has announced. The petitions may be turned in to her at Carson hall or to the ASUO office on the third floor of the Student Union.

Committee chairmanships available include publicity and invitation, which will be under the promotion chairman; men's and women's housing; transportation and registration, which will be under the hospitality chairman; and the dinner, dance and luncheon committees which will be coordinated by the program chairman.

"It will be most important this year, considering all conditions, that the Duck Preview be successful in all ways," Miss Wilkes said, "therefore I am hoping that all who have an interest in seeing a good job done will petition or submit their suggestions."

St. Louis, Mo., is limited to an area of 61 square miles.

Henri Arcand Concert Set For Tonight

Henri Arcand, pianist, will be presented in concert at 8:15 p.m. tonight at the School of Music auditorium.

Active champion of all contemporary music, Arcand is a resident of Portland and connected with a sheet music store there. He will present numbers by Piston, Cazden, Johnson, Berg, Hindemith, Bartok and Imbrie.

Not only does Arcand play a great deal himself, but he also sponsors other musicians and music groups, such as the Portland Friends of New Music and University professor Robert Hord, associate professor of piano, and the faculty string quartet, while in Portland.

Arcand has also appeared twice with the University symphony orchestra, playing a Bartok concerto in Eugene and in Portland, and once with the University concert band. Last month Arcand was featured in a Shostokovich concerto with the Portland symphony.

The pianist's concert is part of the events celebrating the 75th anniversary of the university.

The program will include two numbers yet in manuscript—"Ricercare," op. 36 by Lockrem Johnson, and "Sonata" by Andrew Imbrie, at present a member of the music faculty at the University of California.

The first performance of the Hindemith "First Sonata" will also be presented.

The program will be open to the public. The complete list of numbers is as follows:

Walter Piston's "Passacaglia"; Norman Cazden's "Sonata," op. 53, No. 2; Lockrem Johnson's "Ricercare," op. 36; Alban Berg's "Sonata," op. 1; Paul Hindemith's "First Sonata"; Bela Bartok's "Four Dirges" and "Roumanian Dance No. 1"; and Andrew Imbrie's "Sonata".

'Civil War' Contests

Fundingsland recently was promoted from the junior Beaver squad and is a slightly built, five-foot nine-inch, 147 pound guard from Portland.

The other first-stringers, Padgett and Orr are old hands, Orr is a six-foot four-inch guard or forward and Padgett, a six-foot four-inch guard or forward.

For those who believe in the final authority of statistics, Oregon has averaged, roughly, 57 points against 61 to the opposition. Against the same teams, the Beavers have averaged 47 points, while their foes have scored 54 points. These figures show the Ducks with a three-point advantage.

A consensus of sports experts gives the home team six bonus points, so there it is—OSC by three points Friday night and the Ducks by nine Saturday night.

Fete Leads Scorers

Bob Peterson has retaken first place in the individual scoring race with 269 points; he leads Chet Noe, who has 264 scores. The statistics, released by the Athletic news bureau, lists Guard Bob Hawes as the top free throw artist; Hawes has connected 29 times in 50 attempts for a .742 mark. Captain Hunt, however, has dropped through 66 shots in 92 tries for a .717 percentage.
