

Two IM Track Marks Cracked By Theta Chi's

Two records were broken and one was tied in intramural track action Thursday. Theta Chi, which lost to ATO by a 45-23 count, boasted the two standard crackers in Charles Phillips and Bob Craig, while ATO Ray Packwood tied the other mark. Phillips high jumped 6' 1 1/4" to beat the mark of 6' set by Emery Barnes of Minturn in 1951. Craig tossed the shot 43' 5 1/2" as he topped the mark of Kappa Sig Tom Novickoff set several days ago. Packwood tied the IM hurdles record set at 5.4 by himself in 1952 and Harry Blunt, Fiji, in 1951.

In the other meet of the day, Sigma Nu won a close contest from Campbell club, by a decimal margin, 33.66 to 33.33.

Making today's trip are Bruce Koppe, George Troeh, Ken Ireland, Dick Graham, Bill Perkett, Jim Ekstrom, and John Barber.

Ned Takasumi, Merv Englund, Bill Bauer, Don Allen, Carroll Reekman, Don Theriault and Al Goldenberg will probably roll for the Webfoots Saturday.

Ducks Journey to Corvallis; Nestor, Phi Delts Win Titles

Williams Paces Frosh Upset

By Bill Brandsness

Nestor hall trounced Delta Tau Delta in a 37-27 upset to walk away with the class A Intramural basketball championship Thursday afternoon in the men's gym. Phi Delta Theta found easy going as they shellacked Sigma Alpha Epsilon 36-20 to win the class B Intramural crown.

Pete Williams was the sensational Nestor hall spark plug that pulled the game over the rough spots. Pete accounted for 23 of Nestor's 37 points, but scoring wasn't the most important job Pete performed on the floor. Williams snatched the ball out of the Delt hands time after time and set up many of the scoring Nestor plays.

Razor Sharp

Heads up ball made the big difference. Nestor dominated both backboards and had control of the ball on the floor at almost all times. The lads from Vet's Dorm played a tricky defense that put as many as four men on the man with the ball at one time. If any Delt ballhandler didn't pass it almost the moment that he got the ball, a flock of Nestor players would surround him until one of them grabbed it. Ex-JV Dick Kofford and Jim Tennyson dominated the boards for Nestor.

Darrell Hawes was again the driving punch for the Delts, but his best wasn't quite good enough. Late in the game the Delts pulled to within six points of Nestor when Hawes fouled out. This marked the end of the Delt drive. The games got off to a very slow start. At half time Nestor held a 12-10 lead.

Hawes led the Delt scoring with ten counters.

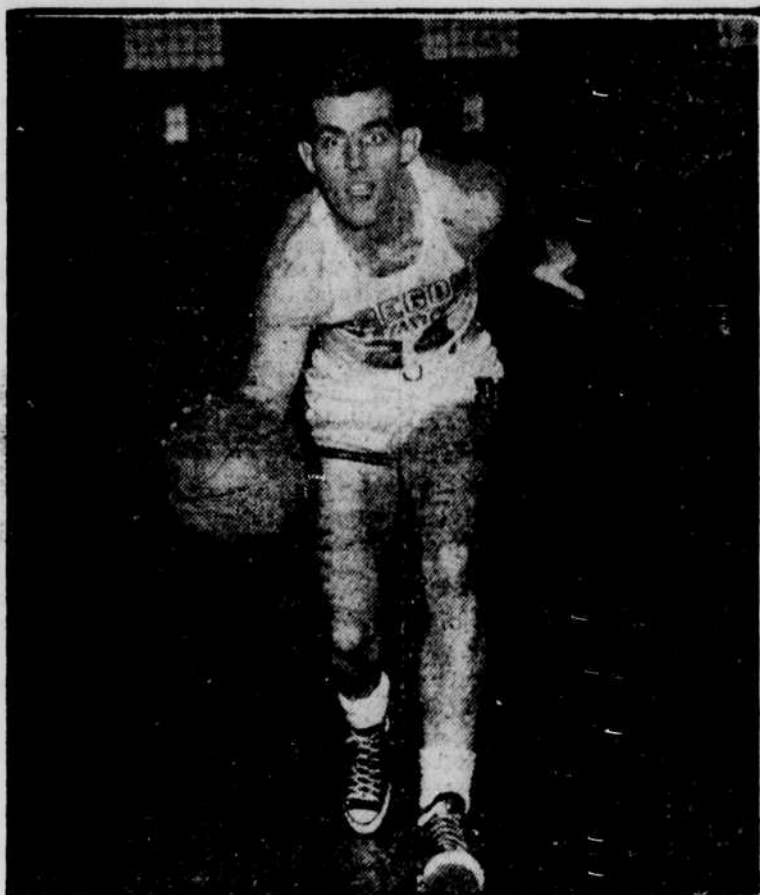

In the Phi Delta Theta-Sigma Alpha Epsilon contest the Phi Delts put their claim on the B trophy and get to claim it for good because of B wins in previous seasons.

No Contest

The game was a one sided affair all of the way. At the end of the first quarter the Phi Delts held a 11-7 lead and were never threatened after that point. The other quarters scores were: Half-time 17-11, and third quarter 28-15.

The big bulge in Phi Delt scoring came when Ray Karnofski from SAE fouled out in the third quarter. Karnofski has held the team together for most of the season and with Ray out the SAE couldn't seem to muster any kind of threat.

JIM PADGETT, pictured above, Oregon State college forward and guard, will be playing his first game of his last series against the University of Oregon Ducks tonight in Gill coliseum. Padgett, a senior, is six-feet four-inches tall and weighs 195 pounds. He hails from Redding, Calif.

Jayvees, Rooks Set Final Hoop Contests

By Jay Fournier

Losing their fourth straight game to the Oregon State Rooks last Monday at Corvallis, the Oregon JV basketball team will try to salvage the final two games of their six game schedule when they meet their rivals in preliminary games to the OSC-Oregon varsity series this weekend.

Tonight, the locals travel to Corvallis for the tilt and return to their own floor for Saturday's game. Both of these games will start at 6:00 p.m.

Although the Oregon juniors were beaten rather severely in their first two encounters with the Rooks, Coach Don Kirsch's charges have show steady improvement since then. Monday at Corvallis, the Rooks had to go into an overtime to beat the Oregons after Sigmund sank a lay-in with seconds left to tie the score at 57-all.

A tentative starting line-up for the Beavers will include Reggie Halligan and Bud Shirliff at forwards. Both men are six feet two inches tall and play an important part in capturing rebounds for their team. At center will be Art Henriksen, a freshman from Long Beach, Calif. Cub Truuck and Bob Frantz will play the guard positions.

The probable starting lineup for the Oregon JV squad will have Ron Phillips and Doug Rogers at forwards. Last Monday Phillips provided most of the scoring punch for the JV's as he potted 18 points against the Rooks. He also leads in total scoring for the season, tallying 149 points in 14 games for a 10.6 average per outing.

Bowling . . .

PIKAs won three points from Phi Psis.

French split with Cherney, 2-2.

Beta won three points from Phi Kappas.

Kappa Sigs won three points from Sammies.

High scorer: Dick Neifert, 500.

Oregon, OSC Open Rivalry

By Rick Tarr

The first game of a home-and-home series will take place tonight in Corvallis as the struggling Beavers host the Oregon varsity in the first encounter of the season between the arch rivals.

The miserable 2-10 win-loss record of the Aggies is no cause for optimism in the Duck camp. The Gillmen are always tough to beat on their home floor and rate as three point favorites. Bradley university found this out last week when they dropped two straight to the unpredictable Beavers.

Oregon's starting lineup will be Ron Bottler and Bob Peterson at forwards, Chet Noe at center, with Bob Hawes and Ken Hunt at guards. Ron Bottler will have the dubious honor of guarding the hottest of the OSC club, Danny Johnston. Slat's Gill's offense has been formed around "Dangerous Dan" throughout the season. His consistent high-point performances show that the opposition teams have had little success in stopping him.

OSC Has Hustle

During the past week of practice Borchers has been working on Oregon State plays along with the fast break offense.

Borchers commented that "Oregon State out-rebounded Idaho who out-rebounded us. They didn't have a height advantage so that shows they have plenty of hustle."

The probable starters for the Beavers will be Johnston and Padgett at forwards, Tex Whiteman at center, and Jack Orr and Ron Fundingsland at guards. Fundingsland will not be a stranger at Mac Court Saturday night as he saw action here against Don Kirsch's J.V.s. He has since worked up to the varsity lineup and has turned in some fine point making efforts since.

Tickets Still Available

The Ducks will board the bus at 6:00 p.m. today for Corvallis, and the game will start at 8 p.m.

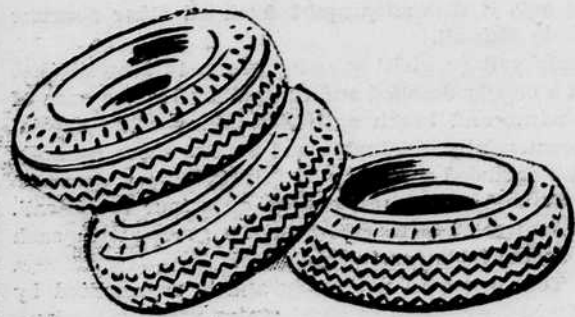

Students are reminded that tickets are still available at the Oregon athletic department. A special section of 400 seats has been reserved for Oregon students of the east end of the floor.

ATO Downs Sigs; Wins Intramural Handball Title

Alpha Tau Omega downed Sigma Chi 2-1 in the finals of the Intramural handball championship to claim the crown.

Alpha Tau Omega recorded the following wins: Paul Hawkins downed Tom McDonald 21-16 and 21-14. In doubles the ATO team of John Bentley and Bill Wright downed Jim Hanns and Davis 21-13 and 21-4.
