Honors Received By Debate Team

Five University of Oregon debate squad members returned from Tacoma with honors last weekend after attending the 17th annual Tyro Forensic tournament at the College of Puget Sound.

Karl Harshbarger, Bob Glass, Karl Petermann, Harold Neufeld and Don Mickelwait all took part in the debates. The team of Petermann-Glass won four debates and lost two. The Neufeld-Mickelwait combination won three and lost three.

All these contestants also entered individual events. Harshbarger placed second in the one man debate division concerned with the question of federal government wage and price control. Harshbarger also took third in the oratorical division on "Challenge to Leadership."

Glass entered the extemporaneous division on the general topic of American politics and placed third. Petermann and Mickelwait both reached the finals in the impromptu speeches concerning the area of inventions and progress.

Speakers from 17 schools throughout the Northwest attended the contest.

Two to Participate In Pros and Cons Of UMT Topic

A student and a churchman from the University will participate in a discussion of the topic, "Do We Need Universal Military Training Now," in the YMCA's little town hall at 8 p.m. tonight in the First Congregational church.

The two are William Ruiter, sophomore in liberal arts and a World War II veteran, and the Rev. Evan R. Williams, Episcopal chaplain to the University.

Other speakers are Hollis C. Hull, Oregon department commander of the American Legion and W. H. Atkinson, principal of Francis Willard grade school, Robert D. Clark, assistant dean of the liberal arts college, will be forum moderator.

Members of the audience will be able to direct questions to the speakers following the forum talks. There will be refreshments and a social period.

Alumni Institute Meets Saturday

The fourth annual University of Oregon alumni institute has been scheduled for Saturday, March 1 at 2 p.m. in the Multnomah hotel in Portland.

University alumni, their families and friends will gather at the meeting to listen to four members of the university faculty present special talks during the afternoon. At the evening banquet the special guest speaker will be Harris Ellsworth, United States representative from Oregon. Other banquet speakers will be William C. Jones, dean of administration and Football Coach Len Casanova.

Ellsworth will speak on "What's Ahead for Oregon in 1952." Dean Jones will present "A Report from the President's Office" and Coach Casanova will preview "Football for 1952 at Oregon."

The institute will begin at 2 p.m. with an address by Dean James H. Gilbert, emeritus professor of economics, who will discuss "Bulging Budgets and Teeming Taxes." Following this will be an address by Kenneth J. O'Connell, professor of law, on "Little Known Facts About Woman's Legal Rights."

Francis J. Reithal, associate professor of chemistry, will talk on "Miracle Drugs of Today" in which he will review advances made in modern medicine with discoveries of the mynsin, cortisone, penicillin and insulin.

George Hopkins, professor of piano, will close the afternoon session with the topic "Long-Haired Music Gets a Crew Cut." He will perform at the piano and by using a few basic principles, will show how all music, classical and modern alike, is composed.
