

Houbregs, Husky Junior, Bolsters Northern Division Scoring Lead

LOS ANGELES, (U.P.) — Lanky Bob Houbregs of the University of Washington, who is making a runaway of the Northern Division scoring race, also has taken the lead as the loop's number one marksman, statistics from the Pacific Coast conference Commissioner's office disclosed today.

Houbregs has 219 points and needs 47 more against Washington State Feb. 29 and Mar. 1 to establish a new record. Other records threatened by Houbregs are most field goals (98), set by WSC's Vince Hanson in 1945, and field goal percentage (.467) set by Ladon Henson of Washington in 1951.

Trailing Houbregs in scoring is Frank Guisness of Washington with 200 points in 14 games. He is followed by Danny Johnston of Oregon State with 174, Hartley Kruger, Idaho, with 167 and Eric Roberts of Washington State with 132.

Bob Peterson of Oregon has 15.5 rebounds per game.

Ducks Open Second Place Bid, Need Three Wins in Paloose

The University of Oregon basketball team left on its suicide swing of the Inland Empire Thursday morning, and the Ducks will play a series with the potent Washington State college Cougars at Pullman this Friday and Saturday, after which they will move to Moscow, Idaho, for a pair of tilts with the erstwhile ND title-contending Idaho Vandals.

Coach Bill Borchers' Ducks will be putting their slim second place hopes on the line on the trip, as they must win three games in the Inland Empire, and go on to sweep the final pair of games with OSC Feb. 27 and 28 in order to cop the runner-up spot.

Against the Ducks, the Cougars will be hampered by the loss of Phil Brown, six-foot, three-inch sophomore guard, who was declared scholastically ineligible at the end of the semester.

Before leaving, Borchers announced that the Ducks would probably workout in Moscow Sunday. The Webfoots spent their short week in McArthur court with a decided emphasis on tonight's foe, the Cougars.

Oregon opened the Northern Division season Jan. 7-8 in Eugene by scoring twin wins over the Washington squad, 59-45 and 59-45. The Ducks split with Coach Chuck Finley's Vandals, winning 52-49, and losing 72-66.

Borchers hinted that he would go with his rebounders in order to

Duck, Husky Swimmers Face Showdown Today

"Washington will know that they have been in a swimming meet," were the words of Coach John Borchardt after the Duck swimming team completed its light workout in preparation for the dual meet with Washington on Friday at 3:30 p.m. in the men's pool.

Borchardt is concentrating all the strength of the Oregon squad in the individual events hoping to gain sufficient points in the first place possibilities to sway the meet in favor of the Ducks.

Several conference may go by the boards in this afternoon's meet. Milton Kotoshirodo has tied the conference record in the 60 yd. freestyle event, and it is likely that he may break the time of 29.4 previously set by Dick Campbell of Washington, while competing with Dick Elliott of the Huskies.

Pete Paulison of Washington holder of the conference record of 2:12.5 in the 220 yd. freestyle may lose his mark to Gordon Edwards who has done 2:11.5 and presently holds the pool record with this time. Jim Portelance and Bob Clayton of Washington are also capable of breaking this conference record.

The 200 yd. backstroke promises to be one of the closest races in the meet. Yosh Terada will be a former Salem high school swimmer, now at Washington. Both Hamblin and Terada are capable of breaking the conference record of 2:19.4 held by Bob Sellen of WSC.

In the last dual meet against the University of British Columbia, Terada made the time of 1:56.6 in the 180 yd. individual medley, which is only two seconds higher than the conference record

Oregon entries are:
300 yd. Medley relay: John English, Dick Ruckdeschel, Dave Houck.

220 yd. Freestyle: Gordon Edwards and Phil Lewis.

60 yd. Freestyle: Milton Kotoshirodo and Jim Allan.

180 yd. Individual Medley: Terada and Henry Kalura.

Diving: Pete Charlton and Hal Davis.

100 yd. Freestyle: Kotoshirodo and Allan.

200 yd. Backstroke: Terada and English.

200 yd. Breaststroke: Allen Wakinokona and Ruckdeschel.

440 yd. Freestyle: Edwards and Lewis.

400 yd. Freestyle: Allan, Harry Fuller, Houck, and Kotoshirodo.

Oregon Skiers Enter Nevada's Annual Snowfest

Coach Gene Harlow's University of Oregon ski team left by car Thursday for Reno, Nev. to compete in the Reno Winter Carnival at Mt. Rose Saturday and Sunday.

This is the second straight year that Oregon has entered the event, and last year's team took fifth place in a field of seven teams.

Harlow was optimistic about chances for a good showing by the team, as several Ducks showed well in the tough competition of the Northern Division invitational meet at Pullman, Wash. and Emida, Idaho, last weekend. The Duck team finished fourth, but were competing against such teams as the winning Washington State college Cougars, which Harlow termed perhaps best in the nation.

The University of Nevada will sponsor a float parade Saturday on its campus at Reno.

Oregon entries in the event will be Jan Onsrud, Norwegian exchange student, who finished second in the Northern Division invitational cross-country event, and Stu McCollum, who finished fifth in the giant slalom event.

Events to be run at Reno are the cross-country, jumping, slalom and downhill, the latter on a two mile course.

Oregon contestants:
Jumping: McCollum, Arne Borgnes, and Jim Redden.

Downhill: McCollum, Redden, Roger Dockstader, and Matt Vranizan.

Cross-country: Borgnes, Haakon Mjelva, Onsrud.

Tippy Neglects Borchers' Five

SEATTLE, Wash. (U.P.) — Coach Tippy Dye—who may be a bit prejudiced—considers six of his University of Washington basketball players as being among the 10 best in the Northern Division of the Pacific Coast conference.

And Dye, who submitted his Northern Division all-star team to the cheers and jeers of fans yesterday, couldn't find a spot among the top 10 for a University of Oregon player.

On his first team, the Husky coach put Frank Guisness, Washington, and Eric Roberts, Washington State, forwards; Bob Houbregs, Washington, center; and Hartley Krueger, Idaho, and Danny Johnston, Oregon State, guards.

His second team included four Washington players: Doug McClary, center; Duane Enochs, forward; and Mike McCutchen and Joe Cipriano, guards. He named Pete Mullins, Washington State, as the other second-team forward.
