

Religious Notes

Compiled by Tom Shepherd

Officer elections, sacred music concerts and "Garden of Eden" leap year banquets are planned by University religious groups during the coming weeks to round out winter term.

Newman Club

Officer elections will highlight the Newman club 7 p.m. Sunday meeting in the Dads' Lounge of the Student Union. New officers will assume their duties at the beginning of spring term.

"Newman: The Cardinal and the Club" will be the topic of a talk by the Rev. Edmund J. Munace, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church and club chaplain, during the Sunday program.

Plans for a "Day of Recollection" on Apr. 5 and for continuation of the recitation of the Rosary at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday nights in the Student Union during the remainder of Lent will also be discussed at the Sunday meeting.

Westminster House

An after-the-game Sadie Hawkins' Day party is planned at Westminster house for Friday night.

"Acts of the Apostles" will be the theme of the Bible study classes led by the Rev. Tom Hunter, group advisor, at the 9:30 a.m. Sunday morning worship program.

Shirley Anderson and Doris Liljeberg will lead the vesper service beginning at 6:15 p.m. Sunday. "This Wonderful Life," a Presbyterian movie, will take the place of the usual forum period.

Stunt night will be featured at the fellowship dinner planned for 5:30 p.m. Tuesday at Westminster house. Four commissions will participate in this group get-together.

Lawrence Richardson will lead the 12:30 to 12:45 p.m. Wednesday chapel at the house.

Christian House

"Science and Religion" will be the theme of the 9:30 p.m. Sunday talk by Victor P. Morris, dean of the business administration school, as a part of the regular Donut hour and Sunday school.

Ray Shields will lead the 5:30 p.m. worship service, "World Friendship Beginning at Home," that Sunday evening. Mrs. Wesley Nicholson, a special worker dealing in foster home placement, will speak concerning her work.

International Hour is planned for 4 p.m. Tuesday with a married students' potluck dinner on the slate for 6:15.

Hosts and hostesses for the dinner will be Mr. and Mrs. Leo Berg and Mr. and Mrs. Preston Bradley. Each couple is to bring a hot dish and salad or dessert. There will be a nursery provided for children.

"Garden of Eden" will be the theme of the 6:30 p.m. Mar. 8 leap year formal banquet in the Crystal room of the Osburn hotel. Tickets for the banquet are available at Christian house, 736 E. 16th, until Mar. 5.

First Baptist Church

Sacred music by Bach, Grieg, Tchaikowsky and other well-known composers will be presented in concert by the 40-voice A Cappella choir of Multnomah School of the Bible in Portland at the Eugene First Baptist church at 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

Under the direction of Lauren E. Sykes, the choir performance will be open to the public at no charge.

Canterbury Club

"The Growth of the Church" will continue the present series of lectures on the growth and doctrine of the Episcopal church at the regular Sunday evening meeting of Canterbury club in St. Mary's church. Father Evan Williams, group advisor, will lead the discussion.

The program will begin at 5:30 p.m. with a short evening service followed by dinner and concluded with the discussion.

All campus Episcopal students are reminded of the regular 7 a.m. Wednesday celebration of Holy Communion in Gerlinger hall.

AGS Committee Proposes Primary

A proposed primary election plan will be presented to the Associated Greek student representatives, the AGS policy committee decided Thursday.

The primary plan, comparable to the one drawn up by the United Students association, would have all members of the AGS party vote for the party candidates to be run in the general ASUO election.

The present system gives each house in the party one vote in choosing party candidates.

Dean said that the policy committee felt that separate primaries run by the parties, AGS and USA, and, not by the ASUO senate which has been proposed, would be of more benefit in creating interest. Party-run primaries would allow more students to take part in managing them, Dean said, than if the senate handled them.

The AGS representatives will meet at 4 p.m. Tuesday at Pi Beta Phi to discuss the plan.

Symposium Team Has Full Schedule For Rest of Term

Members of the symposium team have a full schedule booked for the rest of the term.

Wednesday Donna Knoll, junior in speech; Doug Ambers, senior in political science; and Margaret McCormick, freshman in liberal arts; traveled to Sandy, Ore., to speak before the high school and the Kiwanis club. Ben Padrow, graduate in speech, moderated for the program.

Saturday Miss Knoll; Nancy Ann Yates, junior in political science; and Hal Neufeld, junior in pre-law; will speak before the Fairmount grange in Albany. North Bend will be the site of a program Tuesday by Karl Harshbarger, sophomore in speech; Don Mickelwait, freshman in political science; and Karl Peterman, freshman in liberal arts. The group will speak before the high school and chamber of commerce.

Going to the Westpoint grange at Coburg, Ore., Wednesday will be Wayne Metzger, graduate in education; Pat Adkisson, freshman in liberal arts; Loanne Morgan, freshman in speech; and Don Pickler, junior in political science.

Miss Adkisson, Metzger, Kay Maloney, sophomore in liberal arts, and Bill Lees, senior in political science; will speak before the Cottage Grove high school and Lions club Thursday.

Mickelwait, Bob Glass, freshman in liberal arts; and Petermann will talk to the Roosevelt high school student body in Portland and Gresham, Ore., Rotary club Mar. 12.

CMA Concert To Be March 10

The next Civic Music association concert will be the Portland symphony with soprano Ann Ayars, scheduled for 8 p.m. Monday, March 10, in McArthur court. James Sample will conduct the symphony.

Students will be admitted on their student body cards; faculty members and townspeople should have CMA membership cards.

A native of Los Angeles, Miss Ayars was taught entirely by her father. This, plus a sojourn in Italy and two years with MGM, started her well on the road to musical stardom. Miss Ayars has starred in eight pictures, including the British production of "Tales of Hoffmann" in which she played Antonia.

She gave ten performances at the Glyndebourne opera in England as Euridice in Glucks' "Orfeo" in 1947. In 1951 she appeared as a soloist on the Standard Hour.

Novel by Cronin

"The Keys of the Kingdom" will be shown in the Student Union at 2:30 and 4:45 p.m. Sunday, sponsored by the SU movie committee.

Gregory Peck stars as the priest, and Thomas Mitchell and Roddy McDowell are featured.

Admission is 30 cents.

Red Cross Collections Topped by Sororities

A total of $256.36 had been reported collected in the campus Red Cross drive Thursday night. This did not include the off-campus collections.

Pi Beta Phi led the list of collections with $37 followed by Chi Omega with $29. The drive ends Friday.
