Intramural softball, tennis, and golf, will start on Monday, April 7, according to Intramural Director Everett Peery. Schedules for these sports are being made up now and will be sent out to competing organizations over the week end.

The actual area of the city of Oslo, Norway, is so great—about half that of New York City, about 180 square miles—that, apart from two ski finals, the downhill and giant slalom, all the events in the Olympic Winter Games last February were held within the city limits.

Cas in Hospital; Athletes Reenroll

Both good and bad news hit the University of Oregon Athletic Department Monday.

Head Football Coach Len Casanova aggravated an old back injury—and is hospitalized in San Francisco. Casanova had been on a week-long tour of alumni groups in Los Angeles, San Jose, San Francisco and Sacramento. He is expected to return this weekend. Spring football practice is scheduled to open Monday, April 14.

Ed Halberg, Olympic Junior College, re-entered the University and is a sure-fire bet for a forward berth on the 1952-53 Webfoots' basketball team. Halberg is six-foot, six-inches tall.

Emery Barnes, a former Duck griddler, also registered for the spring quarter.

The Weather Was Balmy, but . . .

Oregon Loses Four on Road, Downs San Jose State in 6-5 Tilt

Ideal spring training weather greeted Coach Don Kirsch's University of Oregon baseball team last week in California, but the opposing batsmen gave the Webfoot pitching staff a warmer reception.

The barnstorming Ducks came out second best in four games, but managed to outlast the San Jose State Spartans, 6-5 in a 14-inning marathon Thursday afternoon.

Ducks Downed

Catcher Ron Bottier, erstwhile Oregon basketball, registered George Shaw, centerfielder, with a long poke to rightfield. Stan Aune, who twirled the last seven and one-half innings, allowed the losers two singles.

Oregon opened the excursion with a 15-4 setback at the hands of the Stanford Indians. The boys scored twice in the eighth and shoved across four more in the home half of the ninth, without the aid of a bingle.

Hurler Norm Forbes issued six free passes and his infield came up with a pair of costly errors to move the Bear baserunners into the scoring column. Forbes walked across the final run.

Fresno State's highly regarded Bulldogs smacked the Don Kirsch nine 11-7 Wednesday night in the FSC ballyard. Southpaw Jerry Bishop and Dick Clevenger shared the mound duties for the winners. Oregon outhit the Bulldogs, 11-7. It was Fresno's 36th win in 40 games over two seasons.

San Jose evened the series with the Webfoots with a 6-3 triumph Friday.

five doubles, two round-trippers and drove in 11 runs. Nelson is batting an even .500.

Bottier hammered out a pair of doubles, a home run and knocked in five runners. The Ducks have a composite batting average of .271. Oregon has registered 13 doubles, one triple and three four-ply wallops.

Portsider Don Seigmund tops the pitching staff with an earned run average of 1.75. Seigmund has whiffed five batters.

Seven Kansans Make Olympic Basketball Squad

NEW YORK. — (U.P.) — Battle-weary but brilliant Kansas, hailed now as undisputed king of college basketball after its rousing, uphill victory over La Salle, named seven of its sensational stars today to help carry the United States banner in the Olympic Games.

Coach Forrest (Phog) Allen, proud and overjoyed at the comeback surge staged by the mighty Jayhawks in Monday night's 70 to 65 triumph over La Salle in the semi-finals of the Olympic try-outs, quickly exercised his new-won right to name seven players to the Olympic team.

"I'll pick my five seniors—John Keller, Bill Lienhard, Bill Hougland, Clyde Lovellette, and Bob Kenny," said the beaming Allen. "And with them, those two star juniors, Charley Hoag and Dean Kelley."

Baseballers Report For Examinations

JACKSONVILLE, FLA., — (U.P.) Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox and Gerry Coleman of the New York Yankees placed their baseball futures in the hands of Marine Corps doctors Tuesday insisting, "We're no better than anybody else—there's no reason for anybody to pity us."

The 33-year old Williams and the 27-year old Coleman will report to the Marine Air Corps base this morning for physical examinations. Both will be recalled to active duty on May 2 and required to serve two years if they pass. Both are captains in the reserves and served during World War II, Williams as a flight instructor and Coleman as a dive-bomber pilot.

There was little likelihood that either would fail the examination although part of Williams' left elbow is missing as a result of surgery. Ted required the operation after fracturing the elbow when he crashed into the left field wall at Comiskey Park, Chicago, in the 1950 All-Star game.

OSC Star Enrolls At Portland State

CORVALLIS, ORE., — (U.P.) — Dave Mann, former Oregon State college star halfback, said Tuesday he will enroll at Portland State (formerly Vanport) in Portland for spring term.

The grid ace was suspended from Oregon State last Saturday because of scholastic deficiencies. He said he hopes to gain readmission to the Beaver school next fall, and be eligible to play in the 1952 season.

Beavers to Start Spring Football

CORVALLIS, — (U.P.) — Oregon State college opened its 20-day spring football training Tuesday with nearly 100 candidates out for the drills.

Coach Kip Taylor greeted 16 lettermen from the 1951 Orange varsity, but said his biggest job would be in replacing 16 other lettermen who graduated.
