

Student Journalists Help Produce Newspapers as Vacation Project

By Charlene Christiansen

A team of six journalism students took over the Gresham Outlook during spring vacation for a week's try at publishing the paper, and ten other students, all from foreign countries, worked on the staffs of various Oregon papers.

Under the leadership of Student Editor Don Dewey, senior, the five men and one woman took complete charge of all news, editorial, and advertising matter on the Outlook.

Pat Choat, junior, who served as society editor, said some of the group's most interesting experiences came from feature writing assignments.

Error Produces Feature

She told of one assignment in which she and Fred Schneider, senior, went to Boring, Ore., to get a story about a high school girl who had won a $300 prize. They missed her house and went instead to the home of an elderly man who had an interesting collection of old license plates, and wrote a feature on him. They later found out that the man was the grandfather of the girl they were sent to interview.

On the way back to Gresham they came across a Mongolian Shetland pony and got a story on it, making three stories for the price of one.

While in Gresham the students saw a new city hall dedicated. Previous student groups have written in the Outlook about the need for a new city hall.

The Six Students

Students in the group were Dewey, Miss Choat, and Schneider, who handled news, advertising and photography, others were Robert Pritchard, advertising manager; Walter Wakfield, senior and John Roaney, senior.

This is the fifth year that Oregon journalism students have published the Outlook during spring vacation. The Outlook was the first paper in the state to be selected for such a student experiment and has been the only paper to be allotted a student staff each year since the project was started.

Eight German students, one student from the Netherlands, and one from Austria worked on papers in almost every section of Oregon during spring vacation.

Mr. Barth Goes to Medford

Gunther Barth, Germany, who worked on the Medford Mail-Tribune, said many of the people in Eugene are either students interested in examinations or professors interested in having students pass examinations, but life in Medford is much more informal.

While in Medford Barth made several speeches to service clubs. He also gave talks in the towns of Jacksonville and Shady Grove.

Barth wrote a review of a rehearsal of "Death of a Salesman" in Ashland and one of "The Importance of Being Earnest" in Medford.

What He Did

His work on the paper included going around with a reporter on the city hall and county court beats, working on make-up of the front page, editing, and writing articles of his impressions of Medford.

An interview over station KBND, Bend, was one of Eva Marie Vogler's (Germany) experiences while working on the Bend Bulletin. While in Bend she stayed in a private home. She said the personal contact she gained was very enjoyable.

Miss Vogler took an active part in the community. She said she received very good food with "dinner invitations every night."

Impressions of America

As a member of the news staff of the Bend Bulletin Miss Vogler wrote both news stories and feature articles, including her impressions of America. One of her assignments was interviewing a local German war bride.

Among articles written by the various students while doing their stints on the papers was an article written by Gerhard Zahn, (Germany) about American sports as compared to sports in Germany. Walter Schwarzlose, (Germany) writing for the Oregon Journal, compared American movies houses and show bills with those in Germany.

Other students who worked on the various papers were: Jurgen Behncke, (Germany) Baker Demo-

Students Sip 4200 Cups of Free Coffee

The Student Union passed 4200 cups of coffee across the soda bar counter on one day recently, about twice the amount normally sold in a single day, according to SU Director Dick Williams. The reason: free coffee.

Music Petitions Due Today at SU

Petitions for chairmanship of the Student Union recorded music committee are due at 5 p.m. today in the box outside Room 301 of the SU.

Petitioners may obtain their petitions in this same location. All students are eligible to petition, whether they have worked on the committee or not. Petitioners will be interviewed by the board Wednesday.

Supervision of the music listening rooms, responsibility for record collections and presentation of the record concerts are the duties of the chairman.

I am Industry-1952

Ushered into a new world,
I had a bustling, brawling, bruising youth.
I was a potential giant awakening in a world of giants.
People were hurt when I first stirred in life;
Then I grew and learned;
Then I matured and knew that
Though I work with water and metal and chemicals and fire,
I am more than these things.
I am the people's work!
I am the people's dream!
I am the people!

With maturity, I have grown, too, in social responsibility,
To the people,
To America!
And even to those beyond our shores.
My efforts are not in selfish interest;
Rather, all my brain and brawn strives for the good of the many.
I am the American way!

Now, I have sworn that these things shall be:
I shall deliver ever-better products to those who use my fruits!
I shall offer equal opportunity to those who work at my side
Whatever their race!
Whatever their creed!
Whatever their color!
Whatever their national origin!
I shall forever do my part to keep America great!

And why?
Because only in this way can I remain a healthy force in our free world.
For when I am healthy, America prospers
And tyrants tremble before my might.

I am America's life-blood!
I am America's strength!
I am the bulwark of the World's freedom!
