

Dance Marks Cosmopolitan Club Opening

Cosmopolitan Club will have its spring opening 8 to 12 p.m. Friday in Plymouth House. A big opening dance is planned, preceded by spring term elections. Refreshments will also be served.

All persons interested are welcome, according to a club spokesman. There will be organized games and dances with a hostess in charge. Members are invited to bring new prospects along—the first few times are free.

Plans for the spring term, including picnics and parties, will be discussed. A large attendance is expected, as this is the club's first meeting this term.

FAMILY OF 5 KILLED Car Skids Onto R. R. Tracks

Screeching tires, smashing metal and glass, five mangled bodies. The driver tried to stop—too late—on wet pavement. His worries are over—and so are his family's! When you come to a grade-crossing, play safe. Come to a full stop, look both ways, and listen. Carelessness costs lives. It could be yours.

Did you know this lad? Maybe he was your boy, or your son's playmate. A speeding car caught him as he darted out between parked cars. Drive with extra caution, and keep an eye out for youngsters—always!

One strike, and you're out! Don't get caught off base with worn-out tires, weak brakes, or faulty lights. Always make sure your car is in safe condition. Remember—safety checks help check accidents.

BE CAREFUL— the life you save may be your own!

Applications for the award may be obtained in the office of Mrs. Golda P. Wickham, director of women's affairs, and must be returned by Monday.

● Junior Panhellenic will meet at Chi Omega at 6:30 tonight. Planning for the forthcoming year is scheduled. A representative from each house must be present.

● Walter H. Brattain, former University of Oregon student now with the Bell Telephone laboratories, spoke Wednesday on the topic of "Transistors" to students in the physics department. Slides were shown with the lecture. Brattain, who received his masters degree here, has since worked at Murray Hill, New Jersey, except for that time during which he did war work for the government.

Onthank Returns From Los Angeles

Karl Onthank, associate director of student affairs, recently returned from Los Angeles where he attended the national meeting of the American College personnel association, national vocational guidance association and other affiliated organizations.

Onthank remained in Los Angeles a few days to develop new connections for placing University of Oregon graduates in fields of interest in that area. He visited aircraft concerns and other large industries and business concerns and numerous alumni and placement advisers.

The general purpose of the meeting was to make it possible for graduates here at the University to have opportunities for more desirable positions equal to those of metropolitan institutions in that area, Onthank said.

Deferment Cases To Be Reopened By Draft Boards

Local draft boards will soon begin the annual process of reopening cases of all college students with educational deferments. Local boards can grant deferments for only one year under law, except for certain high school students.

College students who have made or who make 70 or above (75 for seniors who will take graduate work next year) on the selective service college qualification test or stand in the upper portions of their classes are eligible for consideration for further educational deferments.

Upper portions are one-half of next year's sophomore class, two-thirds for next year's juniors, three-fourths for seniors and one-half for graduate students.

Ray Hawk, director of men's affairs, said draft boards in Oregon have been very lenient in granting educational deferments for University students in the past.

As of Feb. 29 there were 209,810 college students whose cases must be reopened at the end of the academic year. Hawk said it would be some time after spring term before all material from Oregon would be available to the draft boards to enable them to make their decisions.

Morris to Speak Before Retailers

Victor P. Morris, dean of the business administration school, will be one of the main speakers for the Oregon Retail Distributors' Institute conference to be held on the campus May 4 and 5.

Morris, who will also be chairman at the Sunday night banquet, will give his main talk Monday morning on "The Outlook for Additional Inflation."

Penney Man Coming

E. M. Christenson of New York city, personnel manager of J. C. Penney's western states' stores, will be the other principal speaker. He will talk on "Building a Retail Team" at the Sunday banquet.

Three prominent merchants will be honored at the banquet for outstanding achievement by being initiated into Eta Mu Pi, the honorary fraternity in merchandising. Twelve outstanding Oregon students who are majors in merchandising will also be honored.

200 to Attend

More than 200 merchants of all types throughout the state attend these yearly conferences where current retail problems are discussed, according to N. H. Comish, professor of business administration and ORDI secretary. Comish says an even larger attendance is expected this year. This year's retail conference will make the thirteenth one held on the University campus.
