● The first elimination for Junior Weekend Queen will be held at 7 p.m. tonight in the Student Union. Short silks are in order for the occasion. The 25 candidates selected from this elimination will compete again Wednesday night at which time the number will be narrowed down to 10.

● Sub-chairman of booths for the Phi Theta Upsilon "Red and White" sale will meet at 1 p.m. today in the Student Union.

● The deadline for Tri-Delt scholarship applications is noon today. Applications may be turned in to the office of Mrs. Golda Wickham, director of women's affairs.

● Junior Inter-fraternity council will meet tonight at Delta Upsilon at 8 p.m., President Bill Schuppell has announced. The group will elect officers and vote on the new constitution, Schuppell said.

● Freshman class and hall officers will meet at noon Wednesday for a luncheon session in the John Straub dining room. Freshmen who have been active in the frosh program this year have been invited to attend. Those freshmen who eat in one of the women's dining halls have been requested to clear with the food superintendent at their respective dining hall.

● Dancing lessons in the Dad's Lounge tonight at 7:30 p.m. are the first in a spring term series to be sponsored by the Student Union recreation committee. Social dancing will take place following instruction on the rumba, samba, fox trot and waltz.

● Richard Sabin, manager of the Oregon Caves resort, will be on campus today interviewing students for summer work at the caves. Interested students may contact Mrs. Shirley Sylvester, head of the University Employment bureau, for further information.

SU Board Petition Deadline Today at 5

Petitions for membership on the 1952-53 Student Union board are due today at 5 p.m. Petitions can be obtained and turned in at the program director's office on the third floor of the SU.

Joint committee interviews will be held April 28 to May 1, for the six positions. Final appointments will be made by University President H. K. Newburn.

No student with an office in the ASUO senate or cabinet may be a member of the SU board. However, this does not disqualify those who hold office this year but will not next year.

Six positions are open. One member each from the schools of education, journalism and business and the college of liberal arts will be chosen to serve two years. Qualifications for these spots are junior standing with a minimum of three terms at Oregon.

One member from the law and graduate schools will be chosen for one year terms.

Candidates will be selected for previous service to the Student Union and for scholastic standing. General ability as evidenced by participation in other fields of campus activities will also be considered.

Meeting to Show YMCA Purpose

The first general membership meeting of the YMCA for spring term will be held tonight at 6:30 p.m. in the Student Union, Wau Chun, YM president, has announced.

The purpose of the meeting will be to acquaint members with the purpose of the YM and to inform them of projects the YM is carrying out and plans to carry out in the near future, Chun said.

The principal speaker of the meeting will be Paul Keyser, area YMCA executive for student work, who will speak on the growth of the YMCA throughout the nation. He will also comment on the local program and make suggestions for its improvement.

The new YMCA officers and committee chairmen will also be introduced at this time, Chun stated.

A brief social hour will follow the meeting.

Fellowship Awarded To Graduate Student

A graduate student in biology, Margery Pearl Gray, has been awarded a fellowship by the National Science Foundation. She will do her work in anthropology under the direction of W. S. Laughlin, assistant professor of anthropology.
