

Trackmen Hold Workout As Moscow Trip Nears

The University of Oregon's track team ran through a light workout Wednesday after Tuesday's time trials. The Duck cindersmen are preparing for their dual meet with the Idaho Vandals Saturday.

The tracksters will leave Eugene by plane at 7 a.m. on Saturday for Moscow. They will leave at 7 p.m. for their return flight to Oregon.

The Webfoots have faced Vandal coach Stan Hiserman's squad four times in the past, winning all of the meets.

In 1951, the Vandals won one and lost three in Northern Division dual meet competition and finished fourth in the ND and sixth in the Pacific Coast Conference. They lost to last year's Oregon tracksters by a 53 1-3 to 77 2-3 count.

Two members of Oregon's present track team are the holders of records in the Oregon-Idaho meet. Jerry Mock holds the 220 yard dash record with 21.7, while Fred Turner has registered the best time in the two-mile run with his 9:50.7 last year.

The tentative traveling squad for the meet follows.

Sprints: Anderson, Mock, Smith. 440 yard dash: Fell, Clement. 880 yard run: Hutchins, Loftis. Mile: Hutchins, Martin. Two mile: Reiser. Hurdles: Blunt, Swalm, Risley. High jump: Emery Barnes.

Oregon Takes 8-6 Loss As Vandals Cop Opener

By Bob Zwald

The Idaho Vandals spent a profitable afternoon at Hayward field yesterday afternoon as they marred Oregon's perfect Northern Division record and boosted themselves into first place with an 8-6 victory over the Ducks.

Oregon's ace southpaw, Don Sigmund, met a cool reception from the Idaho batsmen who found him for five runs in the first inning and three in the eighth.

Sigmund gave up eight walks and five hits during the seven and one-third innings he worked. Four of the free passes and two of the hits came during the disastrous top half of the first inning.

The first inning started harmlessly enough with Earl Huffman walking and then being cut off at second base on a fielder's choice. Bruce McIntosh drew a walk, both runners moved up, and then Vandal third-baseman George Huffman sent them both across the plate with a line single.

After Jerry Ogle flew out to Joe Sugura in right field for the second out, Sigmund walked Paulsen and Kleffner. This set the stage for Mel Brown, Idaho left fielder, who drove in the fourth and fifth Idaho runs of the inning with a double to center field.

Oregon Scores in Fifth

Vandal chucker Dick Dodell kept the heavy-hitting Ducks in check until the fifth inning when Oregon combined two hits and two walks to score three runs. Shortstop Pete Williams opened the inning by striking out.

Sigmund and Shaw both walked, advanced to second and third on Jim Livesay's roll-out to first base, and then scored on Daryle Nelson's single to right-center. Nelson stole second and came home on Sugura's single to end the scoring for the inning.

Oregon was unable to capitalize on a scoring setup in the sixth inning. Earl Averill walked and went to third when Idaho center-fielder Bruce McIntosh momentarily bobbled Phil Settecase's scorching single. However, consecutive pop-ups by Williams and Sigmund and a ground-out by Shaw ended the inning.

Sigmund settled down and pitched steady ball until the eighth inning when George Huffman walked, Paulsen was safe on Pete Williams' error, and both runners scored on Flip Kleffner's double. Mel Brown collected his third single of the afternoon to send Kleffner across the dish.

Oregon grouped three hits, a walk and a fielder's choice in the eighth inning to score three more runs and bring their afternoon's final total to six. Ron Bottler singled but was thrown out at second on a fielder's choice which left Averill on first.

Settecase followed with a walk and both runners moved up a base on a passed ball. Pinch-hitter Ron Phillips batted in both runs with a single and later scored himself on a pinch-single by Duane Owens.

Idaho pitcher Dick Dodell went the entire distance, giving up seven hits and six walks. Dodell hit

Fore, and That Sort of Thing

Atkinson, Clark Are Prominent In Milligan's ND Links Planning

Golf is not a spectator sport in college, and most students know rather less about the top-golfers than about their top fullbacks.

So with the opening of the Northern Division season for Coach Sid Milligan's linksmen coming Saturday against OSC, here is a brief rundown on the leading Duck varsity golfers as seen by Coach Sid Milligan.

Incidentally, Milligan is predicting that his men will win the Northern Division title. Looming large in his plans is Bob Atkinson, whom Milligan terms a "very long" hitter. His screaming drives are also accurate, but he has been a little off on his puts and green game.

And then there is Ron Clark, the Duck captain. Regarding him Milligan stated:

27 for Nine Holes

"Clark is a long hitter, but not extremely long. However, he has the most complete games of any man on the team. His iron control is fine, and he is deadly in the wind."

Attesting to the fact that Clark is among the top in the Northern Division is his course record of 27 for nine holes set last year at WSC. This was eight-under-par, and sizzling to say the least.

Don Krieger is a golfer who has been improving of late, according to Milligan. He hits medium long drives, and has a sound short game.

Mueller Hot With Iron

Consistency with the irons is an outstanding virtue in a golfer, and Milligan says Fred Mueller has it to a great degree.

"He is one of the best on short approaches and wedge shots I have ever seen," stated Milligan.

Another "reliable" is freshman Al Mundle, who is a short hitter, but has "one of the smoothest, most reliable" swings on the team. A freshman, King Shanks from

Webfoot Netters To Face Aggies In ND Opener

Coach Bob Laurence's varsity netmen will get their first taste of Northern Division action this Saturday when they travel to Corvallis to take on the Beaver tennis squad.

The Beaver net team isn't expected to be too strong, although they boast an outstanding player in Don Megale, 5 foot, 6 inch netter from Coos Bay.

However, the Beavers were trounced last weekend 7-0 by a talented University of Washington outfit, indicating that they are probably lacking in depth.

Meanwhile, Laurence has been running his players through daily workouts, in an effort to have the team at a peak for the weekend action.

Ladder play has been the main thing on schedule, with the standings now reading in the following order: Tom MacDonald, Bill Rose, Jack Neer, Neil George, Ron Lowell, Don Neraas, and Bruce Dinger. The only new development in the rankings is George's rising from number six to number four spot. George has been showing a lot of improvement lately, and with his strong serve, which is one of the best on the squad, should help the Oregon cause considerably this weekend.

How the rankings will look for this weekend's match, however, is still uncertain. Five singles men will be used and there will be two doubles teams.

Neer and Rose will probably make up one of the doubles combinations, and MacDonald will team with either George or Lowell on the other, but which will play first spot is also indefinite.

The Ducks should be in tip-top shape for the Beaver match, although MacDonald was forced to miss practice a couple of times this week due to hand injury. Also, Neraas has been having trick knee trouble but should be ready to go Saturday.

RON CLARK

"—most complete game"

Lincoln high in Portland, is a power hitter, but has a tendency to be erratic.

Milligan Is Lawyer

The Duck golfers practice about 54 holes per week, according to Milligan. He personally visits them every evening on the Eugene Country Club course. During the day, Milligan takes care of his Eugene law practice, with golf as an avocation.

A member of the Duck golf teams in 1935-36-37, Milligan performed for a Northern Division winner each year. He still shoots golf in the low 70's.

Note on Bob Takano, another member of Milligan's team: He shot one of those rare holes-in-one Saturday while practicing on the Eugene Country Club course.

Major League Results

Boston won its eighth victory in 10 starts yesterday by topping the world champion New York Yankees, 3 to 1, on Kinder's masterful five-hitter.

In a night game the St. Louis Browns downed the Cleveland Indians, 1-0.

The New York Giants moved to within one-half game of second place in the National league by beating the Boston Braves, 9 to 5.
