'State Fair' Is SU Sunday Movie

"State Fair" will be the Sunday movie at 2:30 and 4:30 p.m. in the Student Union ballroom.

Starring Jeanne Craine and Dick Haymes "State Fair" is a Rodgers and Hammerstein musical in technicolor about a farmer's family and their adventures with hogs, bran-died mincemeat and romance at the State Fair.

The movie features the academy award winning song, "It Might As Well Be Spring."

Admission is 30 cents.

this year and is donated by Evergreen theater. Formerly there was one trophy for the best act among both men and women.

A plaque will be given to the freshman men's dorm with the highest GPA for the year. The plaque is awarded by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

During the Vodvil an award will be given for the "Ugly Man" contest winner. Five finalists are entered in the contest—Hank Bon-neman, Neil Chase, Mel Blevens, Dave Jeremiah and Ulrich Trump-ener. The winner will receive a cup and Herman, the traveling moose-head donated by Alpha Phi Omega.

Booths Close

Booths in the Co-op and the SU will close at noon today for the contest but will be set up in McArthur court at the beginning of the show to allow further voting.

The Dick Schwary quintet will play between acts and will include several solo numbers, one a drum solo to "Sweet Georgia Brown." The combo includes Dick Schwary, trumpet; Bob Hughes, drums; Tom White, bass; Bozo Cavaco, guitar; and Kaare Sandegren, piano. They will play about ten numbers including "Tenderly," "Melancholy Rhapsody," "Stardust" and "Man With a Horn."

During the judging for the show Ed Kenney will sing, Susan Fitzgerald will give a dramatic monologue, Verla Thompson, and Philip Lewis will pantomime a record to "She's a Lady."
