YWCA Schedules Sophomore Dessert

A YWCA sophomore dessert will be given at the Sigma Kappa house Tuesday, from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. Cards and refreshments are planned. The dessert is for all present freshmen women.

Tickets for the dessert may be obtained from Y representatives in the dorms and at Gerlinger.

The new Y sophomore cabinet will be introduced and a brief outline of next year's plans presented.

The Duckling Counseling program will be explained by co-chairmen Bobbette Gilmore and Ann Blackwell. Petitions for being a "big sister" to incoming freshmen women next year will be available at the dessert.

Max Factor Girl Deadline Nearing

Deadline for women's houses to turn in the name and picture of their entry in the Max Factor beauty contest is today.

The contestants' pictures should be glossy prints 5 by 7 inches and are to be turned in to Karla Van Loan at the Alpha Phi house.

From all the campus houses, six finalists will be chosen by a non-student panel to represent the University of Oregon in the nationwide Max Factor beauty contest for collegiate coeds. The judging is based on the contestant's photograph.

The winner of the national contest will be named the "Max Factor Girl" and win a $1000 scholarship for herself and $1000 for her college or university.

Other prizes include an expense-paid two-week vacation in Hollywood where the coronation ceremonies will be held, 25 record albums, a record player, an audition by Capitol Records if desired, a typewriter, radio, a wardrobe of shoes and year's supply of stockings, encyclopedia, clothes, luggage and an orchid corsage delivered every month for a year.

phones out of the dormitories.

Miss Jackson was also in favor of sending two observers to the National Students Association convention, a thorough study of problems involved in closing 13th avenue as a thoroughfare, opposition to loyalty oaths for Oregon professors, a compilation of ASUO senate voting records, formulation of a student complaint committee, full exercise of senate control over budgetary matters and open membership in both campus political parties.

Unity Charity Drive

Dignan advocated a united charity drive to combine the various campus fund raising drives. He also expressed himself in favor of the establishment of a Millrace park.

After a motion by United Students Association Interim Chairman Virginia Wright, only speeches by the presidential candidates were made. The candidates for class and senate-at-large positions were introduced by Hampton, who presided over the assembly.

Polling Places Listed

The polling booths for Wednesday's election will be open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. They will be located near Fenton hall, at the Co-op, on the quad, at the library, in the Student Union and at Amazon Flats and Skinner's Butte for convenience of the married students.

An addition was made to the senate-at-large candidates too late to be printed with Thursday's list. Dolores Parrish filed for a senate post as a non-partisan candidate.

Herb Cook, junior in business, has withdrawn his candidacy for the office of senator-at-large in the ASUO senate, according to Merv Hampton, ASUO vice-president. His name will not appear on the ballot Wednesday.

"Flicker Frolics," Nancy Morse's smiling portrayal of Harry Truman off to his sport-shirted vacation in Delta Gamma's "I Can Smell It Now," and the unscheduled retort to Jim Elliot's dramatic monologue in Phi Kappa Psi's "Salvation Bill," — a resounding bark from the back of McArthur court by Waldo, Theta Chi's huge, "what's-it-to-me" dog.

Blevens "Ugliest"

Mel Blevens, Yeomen-Orides choice for campus "ugly man" won that contest, and was awarded "Herman," the traveling moose head. Orides received a plaque.

The Nelson Parrish scholarship award for the top freshman men's dormitory in grade point average was presented to President Alex Byler ("Half our dorm is made up of freshman athletes.") of Sederstrom hall and Counselor Lyle Shibley.

Politics injected itself into the evening's entertainment twice—once at intermission, when a marching band thumped for Pat Dignan, Associated Greek Students candidate for ASUO president, and again as "Doll Dance" began, when a banner for Milan Foster, United Students Association candidate for sophomore class president, was slipped over the backdrop. It was removed after the act.

750 High School Seniors Attend Preview Weekend

Songs and yells led by the rally squad closed the program.

Marilyn Patterson was mistress of ceremonies for the event.

Speakers for the occasion were Golda Wickham, director of women's affairs, and Ray Hawk, director of men's affairs, representing the faculty and Sarah Turnbull, Associated Women Students president; Bill Carey, ASUO president; and Bob Glass, freshman class president, who represented the Oregon student body.

Dean Gordon Sabine of the journalism school presented awards to winners of high school newspaper competition among the schools in the state.

The All-Campus dance on Saturday night was well attended, despite the fact that a number of spontaneous picnics attracted many of the visitors.

Other committee chairmen are: Promotion chairman, Andy Friedle; invitations, Joan Walker; publicity, John Whitty; campus promotion, Merle Davis.

Program chairman, Carolyn Silva; Vodvil, Joan Dysart and Rex Ballantine; educational exhibits, Carol Lee Tate; exchange dinners, Carol Dwyer, luncheon, Ann Dielschneider; dance, Cathy Tribe; art, Sue Mikkelsen; program make-up, Bettye Millsap.
