

Tonight's Sing Features 20 Houses; Tappings, Awards at Intermission

The All-campus Sing, "Sandman's Serenade", will open in McArthur Court at 8 p.m. DST with the Junior Weekend queen's procession. Twenty houses will sing, competing for top honors.

Tickets are 90 cents and may be obtained from sales representatives in the living organizations. A limited number of tickets will be sold at Mac Court.

Band to Perform

Junior Weekend Queen and her court will enter Mac Court in a procession to view the proceedings. The music for the procession and recessional will be played by part of the music school band, under the direction of E. A. Cyckler, professor of music.

Finalists will sing in the following order: Carson hall, "With a Song In My Heart"; Campbell Club, "Desert Song"; Delta Gamma, "Children's Prayer"; Sigma Chi, "The World Is Waiting for the Sunrise"; Delta Delta Delta, "May Day Carol"; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, "Foggy, Foggy Dew"; Sigma Kappa, "Christopher Robin"; Delta Upsilon, "Musical Trust"; Alpha Phi, "Reverie"; and Lambda Chi Alpha, "Diamonds Are a Girl's Best Friend" and "We're Just a Kiss Apart".

After Intermission

Singing after the intermission are: Ann Judson, "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross"; Theta Chi, "Blue Moon"; Kappa Kappa Gamma, "I Want to Linger"; Alpha Tau Omega, "Somewhere, Somewhere, Someday"; University House, "Cool Water"; Delta Tau Delta, "Summertime"; Pi Beta Phi, "Dear Hearts and Gentle People"; Sigma Phi Epsilon, "Poor Pierrot"; Chi Omega, "My Child Is Gone"; and Miltner-Hunter, "Mom".

Bill Carey, ASUO president, will be master of ceremonies and introduce each song.

Awards Scheduled

During the intermission, and after the competition, the William Frager Skull and Dagger scholarship will be awarded by John Beal. Karen Jacobsen will award the Tri Delta scholarship. The Hazel P. Schwering and Burt Brown Barker scholarships will be presented by Mrs. Perrie Dolph and Burt Brown Barker.

The living organizations having the most mothers present will be awarded the Mother's Day award by Joan Lawson, general chairman of Mother's Weekend. The houses taking top honors in the float parade will be presented with the float trophies by Norma Hultgren and Jim Owens, parade chairmen.

Other awards to be presented are the Maurice Harold Hunter scholarship, the Josephine Evans Harpham library cup and Friar's award to the faculty member who has taken the most active interest in the campus and students. Skull and Dagger will tap freshmen men for membership.

Winners Get Trophies

Following the judges' decision, the winners of the All-campus Sing will be announced, and the trophies will be presented to the winning houses and song leaders by Frances Gillmore and Jody Greer, general co-chairmen for the All-campus Sing. The men's and women's winners will sing in the Sunlight Serenade at 3 p.m. DST Sunday.

Freshman Muscle Men Humble Sophomores in Annual Tug-o-war

The freshman class, with the advantage of more tuggers and a bigger chunk of the rope, humbled the sophomore class in less than ten seconds at the frosh-sophomore tug-o-war, behind the Kappa Sigma house at 4 p.m. Friday.

A pre-contest activity was the arrival of a canoe with three foreign looking students, who proceeded to pour an orange powder in the water, which gave the stream a "foul looking" color.

The three intruders were quickly dumped over the side of the canoe by the freshmen, and as the canoe filled with water, an overwhelming amount of empty stubbies were brought to sight from their resting place in the bottom of the canoe.

The stubbies, a guest appearance by Waldo, mingled with the mud stirred up by the water tangles, made the tug-o-war a colorful battle.

The sophomores, even with the advantage of a better brace on the concrete wall on the north bank, were no match for the well-organized freshman enthusiasts.

For a few minutes, it looked as though the sophomore class would not make an appearance, but at the last minute, the seasoned tuggers, with one year of experience behind them, came running with the bloody cry of, "Give us our share of the rope" and "Let's make this a fair contest."

Bob Brittain, sophomore class president, was one of the last arrivals, and grabbed frantically for a piece of the rope, as the sophomores began to slide quickly in the Millrace. One drenched loser, not giving up until the rope was beyond his reach, swam quick-

Old Campus Site of Luncheon; McArthur Court Is Alternative

The all-campus luncheon will begin at 11:45 a.m. today on the old campus (between Fenton and Friendly) unless it rains. Rain will put the luncheon in McArthur court.

No lunches are being served in living organizations and tickets were distributed among students Friday. Students may purchase tickets for their parents at the Student Union main desk or the Co-op for 47 cents.

Menu for the luncheon is hot dogs, Cokes, potato salad and ice cream. Serving will be done by Kwama, sophomore women's honorary; Phi Theta Upsilon, junior women's honorary; Skull and Dagger, sophomore men's honorary; and Alpha Phi Omega, national men's service honorary.

Feature of the luncheon program will be the tapping of new members for Mortar Board, senior women's honorary; Friars, senior men's honorary; Scabbard and Blade, military honorary; and Asklepiads, pre-medicine honorary.

The procession of the Junior Weekend queen and her court will open the program. Ed Raggazino will be master of ceremonies, Johnny Lusk and his orchestra will play during the luncheon.

Jo Martin Rules Junior Weekend

Jocelyn "Jo" Martin was crowned queen of Junior Weekend at the Junior Prom last night at ceremonies officiated over by William C. Jones, dean of administration and acting head of the University.

The queen's court consists of Barbara Booth, Pat Johnson, Nannette Silverthorne and Joan Renner.

Several awards were made during the Prom intermission, John Hutchins, Oregon track star, was presented with the Emerald Athletic trophy as the most valuable senior athlete.

Jackie Wilkes was presented with the Gerlinger cup as the outstanding junior woman.

The Koyle cup for the outstanding junior man went to Bill Frye.

Tapped for membership in Druids, junior men's honorary, were Paul Lasker, Bob Ford, Al Karr, Barney Holland, Albert Martin, Bill Gurney, Don Almy and Bob Brittain.

Events for Mother's Weekend Begin with Carson Breakfast

Events for Mothers Weekend will begin at 9 a.m. DST today with a breakfast in Carson hall.

Program for the breakfast will include the annual meeting of the Oregon Mothers club and election of officers for the coming year.

Charles Byrne, chancellor of the state system of higher education; William C. Jones, dean of administration and acting University president; and ASUO President Bill Carey will be introduced during the program. Joan Lawson, general chairman of Mothers Weekend, will give a welcome talk.

The Oregon Mothers club scholarship program will be discussed during the meeting also, to be presided over by the outgoing club president, Mrs. L. O. Meisel of Eugene.

A tea honoring visiting mothers will take place from 2:30 to 4:30 DST today in Gerlinger. The Eugene Mothers club is sponsoring the event.

Registration of mothers will take place from 8 to 11 a.m. DST today in Carson and during the tea hours in Gerlinger. An award will be given the men's and women's living organization registering the largest percentage of mothers for the weekend. The prize will be presented at the all-campus sing tonight.

Mothers will also be able to attend the all-campus luncheon at noon today and view the parade as it moves through the campus this afternoon following the tea. They may also attend the all-campus sing at 8 tonight in Mac court.

Sunday Eugene churches will hold special Mothers day services and living organizations have scheduled open houses following the sing tonight.

The mothers may attend the final weekend event, the Sunlight Serenade at 3 p.m. DST Sunday in the music school amphitheater.

To Rain or Not to Rain

Here is the weather forecast for today and tonight:

Fair, with considerable thin cloudiness. Little change in temperature. Expected high—72, expected low tonight—38.

Legal Petition Contesting Election Given to Constitution Committee

A notarized petition requesting "that the ASUO student body election of April 30, 1952 be declared null and void and of no effect" is now in the hands of K. J. O'Connell, law professor and head of the constitutional committee, Bob Ridderbusch, signer of the complaint, said Friday.

The document is signed by Ridderbusch and six others; James Mead, Leland C. Johnson, Richard C. Hansen, B. O. Maharajah, John A. Simmons and Arlo Giles.

This petition replaces an earlier one which Merv Hampton, ASUO vice-president and chairman of the election committee, and his law school counsels asked to have dismissed on grounds that it was not signed under oath.

The new complaint states that none of the seven polling places "remained open for the entire period provided for" by the ASUO constitution during the election and that the order of names on the ballot was not the same as provided for by the ASUO senate at their April 17 meeting.

It also notes that the sophomore and junior class ballots were not run in the Emerald for two consecutive days prior to the election and that "innumerable irregularities" occurred at the Skinner's Butte and Amazon polling areas which did not give voters there sufficient opportunity "to exercise their right of franchise."

Meanwhile, Arlo Giles, ASUO senator-at-large, delivered a letter to ASUO President Bill Carey Friday which said he (Giles) would not attend the ASUO banquet May 14 because of the protest.

He said in part:

"Since a decision has not yet been made and in all probability will not be made for the next few days, it seems to me to be rather presumptuous on our part to attend a banquet, the specific purpose of which is to install the 'newly elected' officers."

Giles pointed out that until the matter is settled this year's senate will be the governing body "and has no right nor power to terminate its tenure in any other way than that prescribed by the ASUO constitution, by a clearly and patently valid and legal election conducted in the manner and according to the terms set forth in our constitution."

Names appearing on the new petition are not all the same as on
