

How The Week Began

"I KNOW WE'LL LIKE IT!" seems to be the reaction of freshmen Nancy Leaverton and Leila Lemmon to the plush appearance of Carson hall. The Panda looks happy too . . . . .

AN ELEVATOR RIDE—unpacking punctuated with phrases like "isn't it modern!" . . . . . What a big place the Student Union is." The whole campus from a different perspective . . . . . Then relaxation with a view from Carson three.

THOUGHTS TURN to hectic days ahead—"Things move so fast here." The two ex-Jefferson high school co-eds confessed confusion but could still smile while scanning orientation, registration material.

Truman, Nixon 'Nays' Puzzle Lyle Nelson

Wires Seem Crossed by Demos, By GOP Senator and Manager

Perhaps Lyle Nelson should dash off a quick note to Pogo, the comic strip politician, asking him to put in an appearance on campus and deliver an address.

For Nelson, the University's director of public services, who's been acting for the University's assembly committee and has been getting nothing but rain checks and refusals for his trouble, has just about run out of major candidates to invite to speak here.

And Nelson isn't too happy about the way in which one president of the United States, Harry Truman, and one Republican vice presidential nominee, Sen. Richard Nixon, handled their invitations either.

President Truman was asked to speak on campus Oct. 3. Wednesday morning Nelson was informed by letter that the president couldn't make it—and there is appar-

PRESIDENT TRUMAN

"... still has high hopes..." entirely little chance that he'll change his mind.

But a phone call from Oregon's Democratic headquarters Wednesday afternoon revealed that the president's door is still slightly ajar on the matter.

RICHARD NIXON

The Senator Could Not Appear

The letter, signed by Presidential Secretary Matthew J. Connelly, did say that the President "still has high hopes of visiting your campus, if not this year, perhaps after his term of office has expired."

Hello Dance Set For Friday Night

New student week continues through Sunday with scheduled events including an all-campus dance Saturday night, the University Religious council open house Friday night and the Student Union open house and dean's tea today.

The Associated Women students under President Sarah Turnbull who have also chairmanned the orientation for freshmen are sponsoring the tea from 3 to 5 p.m. today in Gerlinger hall.

Honoring Mrs. Golda P. Wickham, director of women's affairs, and the AWS officers the tea will be an informal get-together for all freshmen and transfer women. Campus clothes are in order.

Information concerning the SU open house will appear elsewhere in today's Emerald.

Friday at 7 p.m. in Gerlinger, the University Religious council is sponsoring an open house for students to acquaint them with the various religious organizations on campus. Hosts and hostesses for the affair are to be there at 6:30 p.m., Council President Jo Sloan announced. All students are invited, Miss Sloan said.

The "Hello" dance, first all-campus dance of the year will be Saturday from 9 p.m. to midnight in the SU ballroom. Music for the affairs will be furnished by Johnny Luck's band. Campus clothes are in order for the dance which is a no-date affair.

Masters of ceremonies will be Jim Watkins and Mike Lally. Sponsored by the SU dance committee under the temporary chairmanship of Pat Bellmer, Ken Hickbottom will be in charge of clean-up and Andy Berwick and Jackie Steuart will supervise decorations.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lemons and Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Ellingson will be guests of honor for the dance.

Saturday Last Day Of Fall Registration

Fall term registration concludes at noon Saturday. Beginning Monday a penalty of $1 per day is charged if fees are not paid.

Registration procedures can be narrowed down into six simple basic steps AFTER registration material has been picked up.

1. See adviser and make out a class schedule.
  2. Enroll in the classes at their respective departments.
  3. Veterans on aid: check at veteran's desk in registrar's office.
  4. After enrollment in all classes is completed check the student affairs office in SU ballroom. At this time all cards but the grade report, fee deposit, and registration ones will be removed. Student parking tickets can be obtained here also.
  5. Obtain fee assessment from the registrar clerks in the SU.
  6. Pay fees to the cashier at Emerald hall. The remaining cards will be taken and a student registration card will be issued.
- After registration is completed, any dropping, adding or changing of courses or sections has to be done with a course-change card. Oct. 6 is the last day for changing classes.

Enthusiastic Freshmen Get 'Inside' On Activities; View UO Exchange Show

A large and enthusiastic audience of freshmen attended Wednesday night's activity and talent show presented by several student leaders and the members of last year's Oregon exchange assembly.

Making their first public appearance were the members of the freshman band who performed after about one half hour of rehearsal.

Master of ceremonies for the talent show was Jim Haycox who was assisted by Ann Moyes in presenting a few "highlights" of Oregon life. Preceding the show, ASUO President Pat Dignan spoke of ASUO activities and introduced Clyde Fahlman, Student Union board chairman; Bonnie Birke-meier, Oregon editor and Larry Hobart, Emerald editor who spoke briefly concerning the activities which they head. Jody Greer outlined the various other campus organizations and honoraries.

Game Cards Ready For Student Use

Athletic cards which are needed to admit students to all University athletic events will be issued at McArthur court today through Tuesday.

Students may obtain the cards upon presentation of their student body cards. There is no additional charge made for the athletic cards.

The business office will be open from 8 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m. The cards will be needed to admit students to the Nebraska-Oregon football game Saturday night, Sept. 27, at Multnomah stadium in Portland. The office announced that kick-off time for that game would be 8 p.m. and urged students to be in the student section by 7:30 p.m.
