Westminster Foundation

A scavenger hunt will be the order of the evening at Westminster Foundation Friday night beginning at 7:30 p.m. The items collected will be food for a needy Eugene family.

The Sixth Chapter of II Corinthians will be the topic of Bible study Sunday morning at 9:30 a.m. At 6 p.m. Sunday evening a vesper service will be led by Jacqueline Madigan and John Gregor. Father Solar of Springfield will be the speaker of the evening and forum topic is "Catholicism."

From 12:30 to 12:45 Wednesday, there will be a chapel service. A fellowship supper at 5:30 p.m. that evening will be followed by a forum on "Labor and the Coming Elections." Members on the forum will include C. W. Macy, head of the department of economics; E. C. Robbins, instructor in economics; P. L. Kleinsorge, professor of economics; and O. Lokken of a local labor union.

Plymouth Club

Plymouth Club meets in the Wheeler room of the First Congregational Church every Sunday at 6 p.m. This Sunday, they will begin a new series of discussions. The group will read and discuss together the Gospel of Mark using the new revised version. Rev. W. G. Nicholson will talk concerning the origin and purpose of the book of Mark.

Newman Club

The first Communion breakfast of the school year will be held after the 8 o'clock mass this Sunday at the Knights of Columbus hall. All Catholic students are invited to attend.

The annual Hallowe'en party is scheduled for Sunday, Oct. 26, from 7 to 10 p.m.

Christian Science

The University of Oregon Christian Science Organization meets every Tuesday from 7 to 8 p.m. in the Men's lounge of Gerlinger hall. All students, faculty members, and staff of the university are invited to attend.

Wesley Foundation

Students of Wesley Foundation leave for Camp Magruder Friday, Oct. 17, for their annual "Spiritual Life Retreat." The speaker for the retreat will be Rev. Dan Walker of the Corvallis Methodist Church, who will speak on "Watering the Roots." The group will return in time for the Sunday evening program which begins at 6 p.m. On the program for the evening will be a light snack, "Report on Retreat," and a meditative worship service.

Sunday morning, there is a Sunday School class for college students at the First Methodist Church beginning at 9:45.

Tuesday at 5:30 p.m. a potluck dinner and fellowship hour are on the agenda. The speaker will be Rev. Ellsworth Tilton of Springfield, who will speak on the topic, "What is the Church Today?"

Choir practice will be held Thursday at 6:30 p.m.

The Channing Club, Eugene Unitarian Church's organization for university students invites all stu-

JOB OPPORTUNITIES

W. Donald Fletcher, director of Coro Foundation, will be in the graduate placement office in Emerald hall at 10 a.m. today interviewing students interested in municipal affairs.

The foundation offers a nine-month program from October through June. The program is run on a full time professional basis, with a tuition charge of $500. The foundation grants each intern a subsistence scholarship of $1000 plus $125 for one dependent or $350 for two or more dependents.

Requirements for this field include sound character, good health, leadership abilities and a definite interest in public affairs with a potential desire for a career in the field. In order to be interviewed a student must have a written evaluation of personal qualifications for this field, an analysis of a social-economic-political problem and a completed application blank.

For additional information and application blank, contact the graduate placement service.

dents, irrespective of religion or race, to its meetings every Friday evening at 7:30. The meetings are held in the church's social room. The Unitarian Church is located on the corner of 11th and Ferry streets, just west of the campus.

Friday evening program includes a discussion hour followed by social dancing, singing, and refreshments. Advisor to the group is Dr. Paul Civin, telephone 4-9373.

Canterbury Club

Episcopal students are invited to attend Canterbury club, which continues its regular Sunday evening meetings, beginning at 5:30 p.m. at St. Mary's Episcopal Church. Following evening prayer and supper, a discussion group will be held. This Sunday the topic is, "The Liturgy, Its Sources and Significance."

Students are also reminded of the student celebration of the Holy Communion, held regularly every Wednesday morning in Gerlinger hall at 7 a.m. Rolls and coffee are served, allowing students time to attend 8 o'clock classes.

Christian House

Friday evening at 7:30, students will meet at Christian House to join in its October party. Any and all students are welcome. School clothes are in order since folk games and other active games will be featured for the evening. After meeting at Christian House first, the group will travel to Plymouth House for the fun fest under the leadership of Winona Fishback and Gary Crook.

Sunday morning doughnut hour is 9:15, followed by two Bible classes on "The Psalms" and "How We Got Our Bible." Sunday evening, beginning at 5:30, a new series on "Christian Citizenship" will be initiated. The series will run for three weeks. This Sunday, Robert D. Clark, assistant dean of the college of liberal arts, will speak on the subject, "Is the Majority Always Right?" There will be discussion, worship, and refreshments.

A new feature of the Sunday evening programs is the fireside forums leading up to the election. At 9 p.m. the forum leader will be Dan Sellard of the Eugene Register-Guard. The topic for discussion this week is "How Much That You Read in the Papers Can You Believe?" While open to all, new voters are especially invited to participate in this roundtable discussion. The forums are sponsored by the social action committee of which Al Busby is the chairman.

Executive meeting this week will be held Wednesday noon. That evening at 5:15, the second of the membership dinners is planned. Following the dinner and visitation, the group will adjourn to the Foreign Student Reception.
