Alabama Senator To Speak Tonight

Sen. Lister Hill of Alabama, co-author of the Hill Burton Act which provides federal assistance for building of community hospitals, will be in Eugene tonight for a speech at Carpenters hall at 8 p.m.

Hill, a Democrat, recently sponsored legislation for federal aid to education through use of money from tidelands oil funds.

A dinner in honor of Hill will be held at 6 p.m. Reservations may be made by calling 5-1338 or 5-3707.

Ingham Donates Books to Library

A collection of books illustrated by 19th Century English artists and caricaturists George and Robert Cruikshank, was given to the University library by C. Ward Ingham of Eugene.

The two brothers are usually associated with Charles Dickens and Harrison Ainsworth. Among the works that the University received was an 1846 edition of "Oliver Twist," by Charles Dickens and Ainsworth's Magazine for 1942. Both of these are illustrated by George Cruikshank.

C. W. Hintz, University librarian, stated that Ingham made an effort to obtain important titles of desirable editions in the best possible condition. This collection is one of the finest received by the library.

The finest single item of this collection is a set of the "English Spy," a two volume work, original uncut parts, one of the few sets in the United States. It is set with all illustrations and laid-in ads. The set is unsurpassed in condition and quality.

Press Conference Slated Friday

The University of Oregon school of journalism and campus will be host to delegates from almost every high school in the state when the Oregon Scholastic Press conference convenes Friday and Saturday.

The two-day program will provide technical information and entertainment for staff members and advisors from all state high school newspapers and yearbooks. Advance registration indicates attendance from all parts of the state.

A New Plaque

A new wood and metal plaque presented by the Roseburg News-Review has been added to the awards which will be given to the outstanding newspapers and yearbooks. Siuslaw high school of Florence will be the first recipient of this award, for the top improvement in the duplicated newspaper class. The plaque takes the place of a twenty-year-old one originally donated by Congressman Harris Ellsworth.

McMinnville high school will receive the award for the most improved paper in the printed newspaper, small enrollment class. The paper will receive the Harvey W. Scott award given by the Portland Oregonian.

First Tie

The C. S. Jackson award sponsored by the Oregon Journal for the most improved printed newspaper, large enrollment, will be divided this year between Cleveland high school, Portland, and Springfield high school. This is the first tie this contest has ever produced in this class.

'Home and Machine' Exhibition Emphasizes Consumer Importance

The importance of the consumer in his purchase of machine made objects in relationship to the beauty and usefulness of the product has been emphasized by the exhibition, "Home and Machine", on display until Oct. 26 in the gallery of Oregon's school of architecture and allied arts.

Created by the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts and currently circulated under the auspices of the American Federation of Arts in New York City, the emphases that a consumer's purchase, whether it be a drinking glass or a motor car, is a design decision. He does not choose for himself only, but for a handsomer world of machine made products.

Senate Slates Special Election For Wednesday

The special election to vote on the amendment that freshmen be allowed to elect officers during fall term will be voted on Wednesday.

The amendment changes the time of election from between the fifth and the eighth week of winter term to between the fifth and the eighth week of fall term.

If the amendment passes, the election will be held between the eighth and the tenth week of fall term this year.

Six polling places will be open for the election. The polls will be located at the east entrance to the library, in front of Fenton hall on 13th, the Student Union, Carson and John Straub halls.

A student must present his registration card at the poll before he will be allowed to vote. The polls will be open Wednesday from 8 a. m. to 6 p.m.

The complete text of the proposed amendment and the voting instructions for the election can be found at the bottom of the first and second columns of the third page of today's Emerald.

Don Cossack Choir To Appear Nov. 13

The Platoff Don Cossack choir and dancers will appear on the University of Oregon campus Nov. 13 under the sponsorship of the Student Union board.

The concert, which will be held in McArthur court, will feature a varied program ranging from Greek Orthodox church anthems to gay peasant dances.

This is the fourteenth tour of the United States the group has made. According to their press releases, the chorus will sing its 1700 American concert sometime this season.

The Cossacks, now all American citizens, first came to this country in 1939 to sing at the San Francisco exposition and have remained here ever since, except for two long tours to entertain servicemen overseas.

The chorus is under the direction of Nicholas Kostrukoff.

FIRST JUDGING WEDNESDAY

URC Sponsors UN Reception

One hundred and sixteen foreign students representing forty out of the sixty member nations of the United Nations will be formally welcomed to the University of Oregon campus tomorrow in conjunction with the celebration of United Nations' Week.

The reception, sponsored by the University Religious Council, the Eugene Foreign Student Friendship Foundation and the Eugene Mayoral committee for the United Nations Day, will be held in the Student Union ballroom at 7:30 p.m. The reception is open to both students and townspeople.

"Bits of the World"

To add color to the "bits of the world" present tomorrow night, foreign students will arrive at the reception in their national costumes and will be formally introduced by their countries by K. S. Ghent, foreign student advisor.

The formal program of the evening will consist of addresses by Pat Dignan, ASUO president, representing the Oregon students and Mr. Ventakaramani, representing the "older" foreign students. William Jones, dean of administration, will speak on "The United Nations and a New Faith". The formal program will end with musical numbers by the Eugene Gleemen.

Frosh Gals May Attend

Master of ceremonies will be John Luvaas, chairman of the Eugene Mayoral committee for the U.N. Day. Religious houses on the campus will provide hosts and hostesses. Freshman girls will be permitted to attend the reception, the office of student affairs said.

Refreshments in the Dad's lounge will follow the formal program.

Oregon's Duck's

Picture-taking For Men Listed

Fraternities will begin having Oregon living organization pictures taken today, Jody Greer, Oregon associate editor, has announced.

Apparel will be white shirts or white shirts and sweaters. If the sweater-shirt combination is selected, the sweaters must all be alike, as to shade and neck style, Miss Greer stated.

Miss Greer suggests that organizations choosing sweaters should select one sweater and leave it at Kennell-Ellis during the day.

This will erase the necessity of all house members attempting to locate sweaters of the same color and neck pattern, she continued.

Schedule for the week is as follows:

Tuesday — Alpha Tau Omega, Beta Theta Pi

Wednesday—Delta Upsilon, Delta Tau Delta, Chi Psi

Thursday—Pi Kappa Phi, Lambda Chi Alpha, Kappa Sigma

Friday—Phi Sigma Kappa, Phi Delta Theta.
